REED DIFFUSERS

Benefits of Reed Diffusers

No Risk of Fire
No Messy Wax Deposits
No External Power is Required

What are reed diffusers and how do they work?
Reed diffusers are the hottest trend right now in home fragrancing. They are simple and safe to use; reeds are inserted into a glass bottle of scented diffuser oil, the reeds soak up the scent and emit a pleasant aroma around your home.
How long do reed diffusers last?
There are many factors that contribute to how long the oils last, namely temperature and humidity. However, we have found that our 50ml diffuser oil should last for approximately 2-3 months.
My reed diffuser doesn't smell as strongly as it used to. What can I do?
Overtime the reeds become completely saturated and can become clogged with dust. If you still have oil in the bottle, simply flip the reeds to help give the diffusion process a little boost. If this doesn't help, consider replacing your reeds.
Are Reed Diffusers environmentally friendly?
Our reed diffusers are very environmentally friendly. Unlike candles, they emanate no soot or film onto furniture, walls, and ceilings. Our ingredients are alcohol-free and DPG-free.
Why can't I just re-use my sticks over and over again?
Once the reed sticks are totally saturated, the cells in the reeds eventually become clogged and lose their ability to pull the scent up from the reeds to the room.

ESSENTIAL OILS

100% Pure Essential Oils : Single Oils

Undiluted
No Additives
No Fillers or Bases
No Synthetics

What are essential oils?
Essential oils are concentrated plant extracts that retain the natural scent and flavor, or "essence." Essential oils are obtained through distillation or mechanical methods like cold pressing.
How do essential oils work?
Essential oils are most commonly used in the practice of aromatherapy, in which they are inhaled or diluted and applied to the skin. They may stimulate your sense of smell or have medicinal effects when absorbed.
Are they safe to use?
Essential oils are generally considered safe to inhale or apply to the skin if they've been combined with a base oil. They should not be eaten. If you have a serious health condition or are taking medication, you should discuss their use with your healthcare practitioner.

Specifications

The best way to incorporate aromatherapy into your daily self care routine! Simply add a few drops of essential oil to an aromatherapy diffuser or dilute the liquid with a high-quality carrier oil and apply to the skin. Allow yourself to connect with the benefits of nature.

Roll-on Essential Oils

No Synthetics, Fragrances, Fillers or Toxic Chemicals
Blended with Fractionated Coconut Oil
Pure Therapeutic Grade

Convenience of roll-ons?
Essential oil roll-ons are an amazing option because all the mixing has already been done for you. No risk of spills, no chance of getting the proportion of oils out of whack, they are all ready to go.

Where to apply roll-ons?
Perfume : If you are applying a roll-on simply because you love the aromas, then apply to your pulse points.
Breathe : Best to inhale the oil directly. Apply underneath your nose or to pulse points near the face.
Sleep & Stress : For best results, apply the roll-on to pulse points near or around your face.

Are they safe to use?
Keep out of reach of children. For external use only.
If pregnant, nursing, or under a doctor's care, consult physician before use.
Discontinue use if skin irritation occurs.

CARRIER OILS

All-natural Carrier Oils

Sunflower Oil
Sunflower oil is highly absorbent, and won't clog pores. It's non-irritating for most people, and can be used on all types of skin, including dry, normal, oily, and acne-prone. It has a neutral odor.

Sweet Almond Oil
The oil is lightweight and absorbs easily, and is a great moisturizer for dry skin. Sweet almond oil is one of the most popular carrier oils for skin care. They're full of healthy fats, fiber, phytochemicals, vitamins, and minerals.

Apricot Kernel Oil
Apricot kernel oil is made from apricot seeds. It's an emollient oil high in fatty acids and vitamin E. It absorbs easily into the skin and has a slightly sweet, nutty scent. The oil is thought to help soften and calm irritated, itchy skin.

MCT Oil
As one of the best carrier oil options, MCT gets its name from the structure of its molecules: Medium Chain Triglycerides. Due to its smaller molecular structure, MCT is more digested and absorbed more easily by the human body.

Jojoba Oil
Jojoba oil has a delicate, nutty aroma with powerful moisturizing properties. It's thought to closely mimic sebum, the skin's natural oil. Jojoba oil absorbs easily in the skin and doesn't clog pores.

Safflower Oil
Safflower oil is known for its softening, moisturizing, nourishing and soothing properties due to its richness in vitamins E and K as well as omega-6, which makes it a privileged care for dry, delicate, irritated or redness-prone skins.

CANDLES

100% Handmade in USA

Soy Wax Candles

100% Natural Soy Wax Candles
Soy Wax from US Grown Soybeans
Burns Longer than Paraffin Wax
Burns Cleaner and results in Less Soot than Paraffin Wax
Natural Wick made of Cotton & Paper
100% Phthalate Free Fragrance Oils

Benefits of Soy Wax.
- Derived from a legume (soy bean), while paraffin wax is from petroleum.
- Natural and renewable resource.
- Biodegradable and cleans up with plain soap and water.
- Lower melting point than paraffin wax which means that soy candles will burn slow or longer than paraffin candles.
- Burns clean with zero petro-carbon soot

Are your candle wicks safe?
Our candle wick is a flat cotton wick braided with thin paper threads that give the wick a rigid structure without the need for a core. Simple and natural ingredients : cotton & paper.

Specifications

Inspired by a floral garden, our candles use natural ingredients like flowers, plants and trees. Made from 100% natural soy wax with clean scents and a wick made of cotton and paper, our candles burn cooler, cleaner, and longer than traditional paraffin wax candles.

SALTS

All-natural Gourmet Salts

Himalayan Pink
Our Himalayan Pink is the highest quality salt of its kind. The beautiful pink color and rich variety of trace minerals is the ideal option for any day.

Hiwa Kai
Made with pure sea salt and activated charcoal derived from coconut shells, Hiwa Kai is an exotic, sultry sea salt reminiscent of the black beaches of Hawaii.

Alaea
Alaea Hawaiian-style red sea salt is an all-natural combination of pure sea salt and purified alae clay with a Hawaiian-inspired flair and a delicious flavor.

Flaky
Sea salt flakes are loved by chefs and foodies from all over the world. Packed with freshness, Flakes enhance the flavor of foods with none of the bitter aftertaste.

Sel Gris
Our most iconic artisanal salt, harvested by hand from clay-lined salt ponds in the Guérande region of France. Sel Gris retains much of its natural moisture.

Alderwood
Alderwood Smoked Sea Salt is beloved for its campfire smoke taste and pairs perfectly with salmon, offering rich, bold, and smoky flavors without bitterness.

SPICES & HERBS

Sweet and Savory Spices & Herbs

Cinnamon
As a spice, cinnamon is available in powder form or whole, as pieces of bark. It is now the second most popular spice, after black pepper, in the United States and Europe. Cinnamon is used mainly as an aromatic condiment and flavoring additive in a wide variety of cuisines.

Cumin
Cumin is a spice made from the dried seed of a plant known as Cuminum cyminum. It is a typical ingredient in chili powder and is also often found in other spice blends such as garam masala, curry powder, and adobos.

Garlic
Garlic powder is a spice that is derived from dehydrated garlic and used in cooking for flavor enhancement. Garlic powder is a common component of spice mix. It is also a common component of seasoned salt.

Oregano
Dried oregano is the more common form, and some people prefer it because it is more subtle and doesn't overpower dishes as fresh oregano might. The taste is pungent and described as earthy and green. It adds strong flavor to a variety of savory foods.

Rosemary
Rosemary has a strong piney, resinous flavor and can easily take over a dish, so it should be used sparingly. This culinary herb is best known for its use in poultry dishes, soups, spreads, and teas.

Thyme
Thyme is often included in seasoning blends for poultry and stuffing and also commonly used in fish sauces, chowders, and soups. It goes well with lamb and veal as well as in eggs, custards, and croquettes.

SEASONINGS

All-natural Gourmet Seasonings

BBQ
A smoky, sweet and salty seasoning for all types of grilled meat and poultry and great in homemade barbecue sauces.
Lemon Pepper
A salted combination of that black pepper kick with the tartness of lemon. Great on poultry, fish, meat, artichokes, asparagus and broccoli.
Seafood
A salted blend of pungent and sweet herbs mixed with spices. Excellent on fish and seafood; or to season vegetables and poultry.
Steak
A salted blend of pepper, garlic, and other spices. It's robust flavor and texture compliments beef and dense fish like tuna.
Cajun
A salted herb and spice blend with a peppery flair; great for adding a Cajun kick to meats, poultry, and seafood.
Jamaican Jerk
A spicy blend of pepper, onion, garlic, and herbs; add a spicy, peppery kick to fish, poultry, and grilled meats.

PEPPERCORNS

All-natural Whole Peppercorns

Black Peppercorns
Black peppercorns are left on the vine to fully mature, then are picked and dried in the sun or blanched before drying. They have a strong spicy flavor due to the presence of the chemical piperine and varying amounts of essential oil.

Green Peppercorns
Green peppercorns are harvested while immature and unripe, then either air-dried, freeze-dried. They're aromatic, with a fresher, fruitier flavor than white or black pepper, but not nearly as sharp and astringent as black.

White Peppercorns
White peppercorns are the seeds of black peppercorns, soaked to remove the dark colored casings before drying. The resulting flavor is hotter and more pungent than black peppercorns, with a slightly fermented odor.

Szechuan Peppercorns
Unrelated to the pepper family, these are the berries of a prickly ash tree, native to the Szechuan province of southwest China. When chewed they cause a numbing sensation on the tongue. Szechuan pepper is very aromatic, with a scent of anise and a sweet fresh citrus flavor.

Rainbow Peppercorns
Our rainbow peppercorn mix is a four-pepper blend of black, white, green, and pink peppercorns. Rainbow pepper is a colorful way to enjoy the flavors from a combination of peppercorns, adding heat and flavor to a multitude of recipes.

Pink Peppercorns
Not peppercorns at all, but the berries of the shrub originated in Peru. Although mild and sweet, they are quite pungent but not peppery. They are very fruity and sweet with spiciness and flavors of juniper, aniseed and pine.

CHILI PEPPERS

All-natural Hot Chili Peppers

Cayenne Pepper
Cayenne chilies are usually sold as a powder. The word cayenne comes from the city of Cayenne in French Guiana. Cayenne is great in soups and sauces, on pizzas, as well as over meats and seafoods. 30,000 to 50,000 Scoville hot units.

Ancho Chili Pepper
Ancho Chili is a dark smoky chili with a deep rich flavor and mild to medium heat. Their flavor is somewhat sweet and a little raisin like. When fresh they are referred to as poblanos. 1,000 to 1,500 Scoville heat units.

Chipotle Chili Pepper
A chipotle pepper is a smoked, dried jalapeno. As they turn red on the vine, they are plucked and smoked until dried, turning them into chipotle peppers. 2,500 to 8,000 Scoville hot units.

Jalapeno Pepper
A jalapeno pepper is a fruit of the Capsicum pod type. While originating in Mexico, it is now grown worldwide for it's popular flavor and mild heat level, which averages around 5,000 Scoville Heat Units. That is hot, but not too hot.

Paprika
It is made of a combination of dried peppers from the Capsicum annum family, then grinding them to a fine, rich red powder. Its flavor varies from mild to pretty robust, but it's never as hot as chili or cayenne, its main purpose is to add flavor and color, more than heat. 250 to 1,000 Scoville heat units.

Red Pepper
Red pepper flakes are made from a mix of peppers from the Capsicum annum family, mostly Cayenne. Seeds are there to add spiciness. The primary use is to achieve heat. 30,000–50,000 Scoville heat units.

TEAS

All-natural Signature Teas

Masala Chai
Our Masala Chai tea blend combines premium black tea with cinnamon, cardamom, and ginger. Originating in India, Masala means 'a blend of spices', and chai means 'tea.' So, Masala Chai is literally spiced tea.

Gunpowder
Gunpowder is a classic green tea from China in which each leaf has been rolled into a small round pellet. Its name comes from its resemblance to grains of gunpowder. When blended with spearmint, it becomes Moroccan Mint tea.

English Breakfast
English Breakfast is a full-bodied black tea blend that goes well with a traditional English breakfast. Made from top quality tea leaves, our English Breakfast stays true to the classic. May be enjoyed plain or with a drop of milk.

Earl Grey
Earl Grey is a classic blend of artisan black tea, flavored with bergamot (a citrus fruit). Fresh citrus aroma from the bergamot oil makes Earl Grey perfect for the afternoon. Its taste is often described as bright, refreshing, and bold.

Vanilla Cream
Vanilla Cream Tea is a flavored black tea with vanilla beans and vanilla creme flavor. This black tea is sweet and is rich in antioxidants. It is a natural stress reliever and a good substitute for ice-cream.

Peach Tea
Our juicy Peach black tea is a sweet and mellow blend of black tea, peach pieces, marigold petals and natural peach flavoring. A perfect option for those who enjoy a sweet, floral and fruity tea.

FLORAL TEAS

All-natural Exquisite Floral Teas

Hibiscus
Hibiscus tea, made from dried parts of the hibiscus plant, is deep red in color. It has sweet and tart flavors, similar to cranberry, and may be consumed hot or iced.

Marigold
Marigold, a flowering plant also known as calendula, can be served as a tea or used as an ingredient in various herbal formulations despite its slightly bitter taste.

Chamomile
Chamomile is an herb that comes from the daisy-like flowers of the Asteraceae plant family. It has been consumed for centuries as a natural remedy for several health conditions. It can also be used as a sleep-promoter.

Lavender Ultra
Lavender tea is made by brewing the purple buds of the Lavandula angustifolia plant with hot water. Lavender tea may help promote sleep, improve skin health, boost mood, and soothe anxiety.

Jasmine
Jasmine is one of the most famous scented teas in China and increasingly attracts popularity worldwide. Its taste is sweet and delicate while the aroma is soothing and very pleasant.

Rose Petal
Rose bud tea is made from the petals of rose plants. In general, rose bud tea has a mildly sweet taste and a lingering aftertaste that entices taste buds after each sip.

SUPERFOOD POWDER

Organic Superfood Powder

Beet Root Powder
Beet root powder is growing in popularity as a natural health-boosting supplement. Beets generally have an earthy, bitter flavor. Beets can be mixed with water to create a juice, or can be added to smoothies, sauces, or baked goods.

Mesquite Powder
Naturally sweet molasses-like flavor with rich nutty hints similar to carob. It is a tasty addition to smoothies and shakes, coffee, baked goods, and chocolates. The high fiber levels take a long time to assimilate.

Turmeric Powder
Turmeric may be the most effective nutritional supplement in existence. It has gained in popularity in the United States. The colorful and fragrant rhizome adds unique earthy, slightly bitter flavor to foods and beverages.

Cacao Powder
Cacao is known for its healthful benefits. The powder has a rich flavor, and can be added to smoothies, energy bars, herbal beverages, and extracts. The aroma has a slight floral aspect balanced with deep chocolate undertones.

Spirulina Powder
The high concentration of amino acids has made spirulina a popular nutritional supplement. In addition to amino acids, spirulina is also a rich source of numerous other nutrients, including many essential vitamins and minerals.

Maca Powder
Maca root is a nutritional powerhouse. It grows wild in the frigid ground of the Andes mountains thousands of feet above sea level in Peru. Maca root can be blended into smoothies, or incorporated into baking recipes.

Fenugreek Seeds
Fenugreek seeds are one of the most aromatic and unique varieties of sprouting seeds. Famous for its rich maple-scented seeds, organic fenugreek sprouts are quick to harvest as a fragrant complement in any curry or buryani.

Alfalfa Seeds
Alfalfa has since become the most popular sprouting seed on the planet. Organic alfalfa sprouts are one of the most delicious and diverse varieties of seed sprouts available. They are simple to grow, full of raw vitamins and nutrients.

Mung Bean Seeds
Mung bean sprouts are one of the most delicious and popular sprouts available. Dense with essential protein, fiber, iron, and plenty of B vitamins, mung bean sprouts are a low-calorie, nutrient-rich snack ideal for many weight loss goals.

Broccoli Seeds
Broccoli sprout seeds offer more nutritional benefits without calories, sugar, or fats. Up to 50x more nutrients than fully matured raw broccoli. Broccoli sprouts are a recognized superfood rich in sulforaphane, an essential compound.

Daikon Radish Seeds
Daikon radish sprouts are a great low-calorie source for calcium, potassium, and Vitamin C. Grown for its robust spiced peppery flavor, Daikon radish sprouts are a gourmet complement to many dishes.

Wheat Seeds
Hard red organic winter wheat is undoubtedly the best wheat we have ever used for growing wheatgrass and sprouts. This organic hard red winter wheat has an incredible germination rate and sweet sprout tails.

EDIBLE FLOWER SEEDS

Grow Salad Topper from Seeds

Nasturtium
Nasturtium plants are easy to grow. Their bold blooms and edible leaves, flowers, and seedpods make them an especially fun flower plant and a favorite companion plant in the garden.

Borage
Growing borage provides cucumber-flavored leaves for tea and other beverages as well as bright, starry blue flowers for decorating salads. All parts of the plant, except the roots, are flavorful and have culinary or medicinal uses.

Calendula
Calendula is a plant known as pot marigold, bearing an edible orange or yellow daisy-like flower. They brighten herbal tea blends and make a tasty calendula tea infusion.

Lavender
A relative of mint, the lavender plant is adorned with violet flowers and green or pale grey leaves. Both the flowers and leaves can be eaten and have a pleasant yet slightly bitter flavor.

Viola
Violas are edible flowers and eaten as garnishes and salad ingredients. They can also be candied for a frosted effect, or used to decorate cakes or other confections.

Cornflower
With a neutral flavor, cornflower really is the most versatile edible flower and is excellent for both savory and sweet dishes. Use whole flowers or separate the florets for a punch of vivid blue, pink or aubergine.

Specifications

Edible flower seeds help to add various unique flavors to your dishes. They can be used as simple garnish to add various colors to your plate or added to salads to blend together various flavors.

HERB SEEDS

Growing Fresh Herbs from Seeds

Greek Oregano
One of my absolute favorites in the herb garden is Greek oregano. It is savored for its strong aroma and spicy intense flavor and is prominently used in Greek, Italian, or Spanish cuisine in homemade pizzas, tomato sauces, soups, and more.

Genovese Basil
Genovese basil is grown for its many culinary uses. Fresh or dried, basil leaves are an essential ingredient in many Italian, Greek, and Asian dishes. They are perfect for making pesto or Caprese salad fresh from the garden. Edible Flowers

Sweet Marjoram
Growing marjoram is a great way to add both flavor and fragrance in the kitchen or garden. Marjoram plants are also great for attracting butterflies and other beneficial insects to the garden, making them ideal as companion plantings.

Italian Parsley
Italian parsley adds a fresh flavor and color that makes the dish. Growing Italian parsley in the garden or in a window box will allow you to harness the lively flavor of this plant. You can even use Italian parsley roots in salads or sautés.

Dill
Dill is a popular herb in the kitchen, flavoring everything from pickles to fish. Gourmets know that you can't beat fresh dill for the flavor. The best way to have the very freshest dill possible is by growing dill in your own garden.

Common Chive
Chives are a perennial member of the onion family with beautiful edible flowers. Plus, they're a wonderful companion plant that helps deter pests. Its grass-like hollow leaves have a mild onion flavor and are common in salads and dips.

Base is made of recyclable Valchromat. Whenever available, postindustrial pine wood chips (waste from pine sawmills, from wood pallets, etc.) are used in Valchromat's production.

Sustainable
Valchromat is certified as FSC® and PEFC.

Organic Dyes
Only organic dyes are used to produce Valchromat.

CARB 2
Valchromat may be supplied CARB 2 certified. This certificate assures formaldehyde emissions are below 0.11ppm.
