FEED FOR ORNAMENTAL FISH

DESIGNED FOR BEAUTY

LET'S GROW TOGETHER

At Aller Aqua, we carefully select and combine high-quality ingredients to deliver feeds that support stress resistance, strong immunity, and vibrant colouration.

Each component is chosen for its functional value, whether it is supporting the ability of the fish to handle environmental changes, boosting their natural defense mechanisms, or ensuring exceptional appearance. Backed by extensive trials at Aller Aqua Research, our ornamental feed range is specially formulated to meet the unique needs of ornamental fish.

Koi Primo and Koi Superior

Wholesome floating feeds for ornamental fish from the Cyprinidae family.

Aller Aqua feeds for ornamental fish promote:

A stable stress response, helping fish remain calm and active even during challenging conditions.

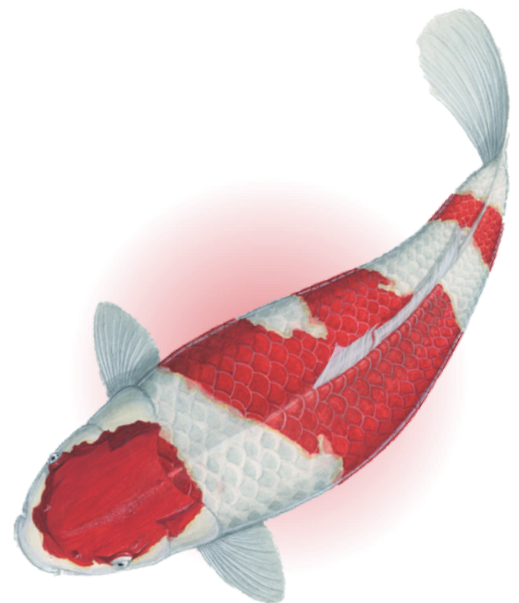

A robust immune system, ready to defend against pathogens and seasonal pressures.

Due to high palatability, the feed is readily consumed, supporting efficient growth and enhancing the fish's natural coloration.

Every product is the result of science-driven development and a commitment to quality.

ALLER AQUA

For over 60 years, Aller Aqua has been a trusted name in aquaculture, delivering high-quality, science-based nutrition to fish farmers worldwide - always with a focus on quality, sustainability, and proven results. Now, we are bringing our global expertise to ornamental ponds. Inspired by the beauty of koi, our feeds are designed not only to keep your fish healthy but to let them truly shine.

With Aller Aqua, you gain more than feed. You gain a partner with a long history of knowledge, care, and trust, now dedicated to helping your ornamental fish thrive.
