The Fund has a range of investment options including a MySuper LifeStage product, a simple, low-cost option for members (based on their age) who don't want to make an investment choice. The product dashboard at guildsuper.com.au has information you can use to compare this MySuper product with other MySuper products. See Section 5 of this PDS for a summary of other available investment options.

It is important that you feel empowered to make a great decision about your super. We aim to make this PDS as transparent and easy to read as possible, while including all of the legally required information. Please call us on 1300 361 477 or email us at info@guildsuper.com.au if you would like more information to help with your decision.

2. How super works

Superannuation (super) is a long-term, tax effective way to save for your retirement that is, in part, compulsory. For many Australians, super will be their main source of retirement income. The Government provides tax concessions and other benefits which generally makes super one of the best long term investment products.

It's your choice

Most people can choose the super fund to which their employer contributes, called having a 'Choice of Fund'. Check with your employer if you are eligible. If you haven't exercised Choice of Fund in the past, you may have multiple super accounts across different super funds from different employers.

To stop the creation of multiple super accounts the Government introduced a system whereby your existing super fund is 'stapled' to you when you change jobs, unless you take action to make a change. Your new employer obtains information about your stapled super fund from the ATO. If you have never had a super account before you will need to choose a fund, or your employer will create an account for you with their default super fund.

It's important you take an interest in your super and help it grow into a healthy retirement nest egg. More general information on choice and stapling is available from the ATO's website.

Contributing to super

Contribution types available to you include:

- Compulsory employer Superannuation Guarantee (SG) contributions
- Salary sacrifice (voluntary and before-tax employer contributions)
- Personal contributions (including Downsizer contributions, First Home Super Saver contributions and contributions for which a tax deduction can be claimed; conditions apply)
- Spouse contributions
- Government contributions.

Annual limits apply to the amount of contributions that can be paid into a super fund for you – both from your employer and personally – without incurring extra tax. Further information is provided in the How GuildSuper Works Guide available at guildsuper.com.au

Account consolidation

You can rollover or transfer super from another super fund into your account with the Fund.

By combining the accounts, you may save on fees and more easily keep track of your investments. We recommend you seek financial advice and consider any fees or loss of insurance or other benefits before combining your accounts.

Withdrawing from super

Super is intended to provide for your retirement, and you generally cannot access your super until you meet a condition of release. Once you meet a condition of release, you may be able to access your super as a pension income stream or a lump sum (usually tax-free from age 60).

You should read the important information about How Super Works before making a decision. Go to the How GuildSuper Works Guide available at guildsuper.com.au The material relating to How Super Works may change between the time when you read this Statement and the day when you acquire the product.

4. Risks of super

Super, like all investments, carries risks. This product invests in different types of assets, including Australian shares, international shares, property, alternative assets and fixed interest. Different investment options have different levels of risk, depending on the asset classes making up the options. Assets with the highest long-term returns may also carry the highest level of short-term risk.

IMPORTANT: The appropriate level of risk for you will depend on a range of factors including your age, your investment timeframe, your risk tolerance and what other investments you hold and how they are invested. You should assess the likely investment return, risk and your personal situation (including your investment timeframe) carefully before making an investment decision.

When considering your investment in super, it is important to understand that:

- The value of your investment will fluctuate;
- The level of investment returns will vary, and future returns may differ from past returns;
- Returns are not guaranteed; you may lose some or all of your money;

- The amount of your super benefit at retirement (including contributions and returns) may not be enough to provide adequately for your retirement; and
- Super laws may change in the future.

The significant risks associated with this product include investment risks arising from:

- Changes in the market, including the economic and political climate;
- Changes in government policies and super laws;
- Changes in interest, foreign currency or inflation rates;
- Inadequate diversification;
- Investment decisions made by any external underlying fund managers; and
- The possibility that an available investment option may fail the Australian Prudential Regulation Authority (APRA) 'Your Future, Your Super' performance test.

You should read the important information about Risks of super before making a decision. For more detailed information about investment and other risks that may be relevant to your investment in super, refer to the How GuildSuper Works Guide available at guildsuper.com.au The material relating to the Risks of super may change between the time when you read this Statement and the day when you acquire the product.

5. How we invest your money

MySuper LifeStage is our default MySuper investment option. If you don't make an investment choice, your super will be invested in accordance with this default investment option until you make an investment choice. MySuper LifeStage, or any of the options available, may not be suitable for you so we strongly recommend seeking advice from a financial adviser. You can switch between available investment options via the member online account. If you need help or advice, call 1300 361 477. This PDS provides a summary of the MySuper LifeStage investment option. For details on other investment options, please see the How GuildSuper Works Guide available at guildsuper.com.au

MySuper LifeStage is intended for members who don't want to actively monitor their investment but expect to remain invested until retirement. The option automatically invests your super according to one of four age-based LifeStages, with each life stage having a different mix of growth and defensive assets designed to balance risk and return over time. As you move through the life stages, your investment mix will generally become more conservative as you approach retirement. We review your age twice yearly (in February and August) and will automatically move your account to the appropriate LifeStage applicable to your age at that time. For example, if you are 51 when the review occurs, your portfolio will be automatically adjusted to the Age 51-60 LifeStage. The asset allocation, expected return and level of risk will vary depending on the life stage applicable to your age group, as shown below.

6. Fees and costs

DID YOU KNOW?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long-term returns.
For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30-year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000).
You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs. You or your employer, as applicable, may be able to negotiate to pay lower fees.* Ask the Fund or your financial adviser.

TO FIND OUT MORE

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) website moneysmart.gov.au has a superannuation calculator to help you check out different fee options.

* This text is required by legislation. Fees are not negotiable.

This section sets out the fees and costs that you may be charged for an investment in the MySuper LifeStage option shown in Section 5 of the PDS. These fees and other costs may be deducted from your account balance, investment returns, or Fund's assets.

Information in the Fees and costs summary below can be used to compare fees and costs between different super products.

7. How super is taxed

The tax treatment of super is complex and may change. This section provides a summary only, that is general in nature. The impact of super tax rules depends on your individual circumstances. We recommend that you consult a professional adviser for advice about how the tax treatment of super affects you.

Tax on contributions

The tax payable on contributions depends on the amount and type of contribution.

There are limits, called 'contribution caps', on the amount you can contribute to super. The contribution caps apply across all super accounts you hold. You should monitor all contributions (made by you and on your behalf) to ensure they do not exceed the caps.

WARNING: You will pay extra tax if you exceed the caps.

Type of Contribution	Tax rates for 2026/27
Concessional (before-tax contributions) E.g., employer contributions (including salary sacrifice contributions), personal contributions claimed as a tax deduction.	15% on amounts up to $32,500 p.a. (or up to your higher cap if you have unused concessional cap amounts from the previous 5 financial years and your Total Super Balance[a] is less than $500,000 on 30 June of the previous financial year). Generally, we will deduct this contributions tax when a contribution is processed to your account. An additional 15% will apply if your income plus before-tax contributions (within your cap amount) is greater than $250,000 a year. Contributions that exceed the cap will also incur additional tax (based on your marginal tax rate, less a 15% tax offset due to tax paid by the Fund). Any additional tax is payable by you personally, however you may be able to release some of your super to meet this liability.
Non-Concessional (after-tax contributions) E.g., personal contributions (not claimed as a tax deduction), spouse contributions, excess concessional contributions retained in the Fund.	Nil on amounts up to $130,000 p.a. (or up to $390,000 over 3 years if certain conditions are met). If your Total Super Balance is equal to or more than the general transfer balance cap[b] at the end of the previous financial year your non-concessional contributions cap is nil. Contributions that exceed your cap are subject to extra tax payable by you personally, however you may be able to release some of your super to meet this liability. The tax you pay depends on whether you release the excess non-concessional contributions (plus associated earnings) from the Fund.

a. Total Super Balance is the amount you hold across all super products.

b. $2.1 million for 2026/27.

Tax on investment earnings

Investment earnings are generally subject to a tax rate of 15%, however offsets (tax credits and rebates) apply which may reduce the effective tax rate. This tax is calculated and deducted before investment returns are applied to your super account.

If your total superannuation balance exceeds $3 million, you may be subject to additional tax on a portion of your superannuation earnings from 1 July 2026 (Division 296 tax). A higher rate applies to the portion of earnings attributable to balances over $10 million. The tax is assessed to you personally. For more information, visit the ato.gov.au

Tax on withdrawals

Tax on withdrawals you make is deducted before you receive your payment (if applicable). The tax treatment varies depending on the components of your payment and your age.

Component	Tax rates for 2026/27
Tax-free component	No tax payable
Taxable component – taxed element	Age 60 or above: tax free Below Age 60: 20% plus Medicare Levy
Note different tax rates apply to payments in other circumstances, e.g. lump sum death benefits paid to dependants (for tax purposes) and qualifying terminal illness payments are tax-free.

WARNING: You should provide your TFN when acquiring this product. If we don't hold your TFN, we may not accept member contributions for you. The tax on concessional contributions and super benefits may be higher and it may be more difficult to locate any lost super benefits or consolidate your super.

> You should read the important information about How super is taxed before making a decision. Go to the How GuildSuper Works Guide available at guildsuper.com.au The material relating to How super is taxed may change between the time when you read this Statement and the day when you acquire the product.

8. Insurance in your super

This section provides a summary of the different types of insurance cover that, subject to meeting eligibility requirements, you may be able to access as a member of GuildSuper.

Insurance cover is available in the Fund through a group insurance policy held by the Trustee. Cover is subject to the terms and conditions contained in the policy, the interpretation of which prevails over any information that may be inconsistent with the PDS, Insurance Guide, and any other related disclosure or information.

The types of cover available are summarised below.

Type of Insurance	Description of Insurance[a]
Death Cover	A lump sum benefit is payable in the event of your death or terminal illness diagnosis while an insured member.
Total and Permanent Disablement (TPD) Cover	A lump sum is payable in the event you become totally and permanently disabled while an insured member.

Type of Insurance	Description of Insurance[a]
Income Protection (IP) Cover	A regular monthly income is payable should you be unable to work due to illness or injury while an insured member.

a. Subject to acceptance of your claim by the Insurer.

Default cover

After you join GuildSuper and your account balance reaches $6,000, you may automatically receive default Death, TPD and IP cover if you are aged at least 25 and under the maximum insurable age, if eligible. If you meet the eligibility criteria then the cost of this cover will be deducted from your account unless you decide to cancel your cover. If you are under the age of 25 or your account balance is less than $6,000, you may still elect to receive your Default cover earlier. Read the Insurance Guide for more details.

Default cover for eligible members provides:

- lower levels of Death cover compared with TPD cover when you're younger, and steps up to higher levels of Death cover compared with TPD cover at age 31, when you typically may have more financial and personal responsibility in life. From age 32 and 39 respectively, the level of TPD and Death cover starts reducing as you get older. The default Death cover ranges between $3,200 and $192,300 and default TPD cover ranges between $16,800 and $169,400 depending on your age.
- IP benefits of up to 85% of your income if you become disabled and can't work. Maximum monthly benefits apply. The default arrangement applies a 5-year (maximum) benefit period and a 90-day waiting period.

Conditions apply to Default cover, including its commencement.

There are situations where you are ineligible for Default cover including if:

- you have received a TPD or Terminal Illness benefit through a super fund or insurance policy at any time previously;
- you are currently claiming or are eligible to claim a TPD or Terminal Illness benefit;
- you have previously been diagnosed with a Terminal Illness.

You should notify us if any of these situations apply to you. Refer to the Insurance Guide for the type and amount of Default cover applicable to each age. Default cover is not tailored to your individual circumstances and you should assess its suitability. Pre-existing illnesses or injuries are not covered in some situations. You can change or opt-out of Default cover by logging into your online account or by completing the relevant form, or by calling us.

Default cover ceases in certain circumstances and other conditions apply. Should your account become inactive (i.e. not receive any contributions or rollovers) for a continuous period of 16 months or more we must cancel your insurance cover unless you have told us in writing that you want to keep it.

Your occupation and insurance fees

There are insurance fees associated with Default cover which you are responsible for paying by way of deductions from your GuildSuper account. The insurance fees include the costs incurred by the Promoter in relation to administration of the Default cover (see below).

The insurance fees for Default cover depends on your age and your Occupational Classification (Active, White Collar or Professional).

If you or your employer do not provide us with details of your occupation, then you will be classified as Active and you may pay more than you need to for your insurance cover. You should notify us if your actual occupation is White Collar or Professional so that we can ensure your Occupational Classification is correct.

The annual insurance fees for Default Death and TPD cover, based on the Active Occupational Classification, generally range from $18.30 to $423.95, depending on your age.

The annual insurance fees for Default IP cover (90-day waiting period, 5-year benefit period, and a monthly benefit of $1,100 to $2,200 depending on your age), based on the Active Occupational Classification, generally range from $28.96 to $1,100.84.

Information about the insurance fees per unit for each type of Default cover is shown in the Insurance Guide.

If you apply for additional insurance cover, then the insurance fees will be calculated in accordance with insurance fee tables shown in the Insurance Guide.
