ABOUT

Double board-certified facial plastic surgeon Dr. Lee Ann M. Klausner specializes in facial and neck cosmetic and reconstructive procedures. Her focus includes rhinoplasty, facelifts and eye surgery.

She stands out by seamlessly combining surgical expertise with innovative noninvasive and minimally invasive techniques for natural-looking results. Her distinctive quality lies in her compassionate patient-centered approach. She listens attentively, developing customized anti-aging plans that prioritize preserving patients’ unique identities. “Patients want to look their best without losing their essence,” she notes. She offers a range of treatment options, from noninvasive to surgical interventions, ensuring a tailored approach with options such as RF microneedling, Clear + Brilliant, Ulthera, dermaplaning, laser hair removal, and more.

A mini-facelift, necklift and liposuction under the chin restored this 59-year-old patient’s lower face and neck.

Dr. Klausner performed revision rhinoplasty using a rib cartilage graft to correct this 25-year-old patient’s nose.

Q&A

When should someone consider a facelift?

When your jowls are sagging and excess skin on the neck persist despite using minimally invasive procedures.

Why did you become a plastic surgeon?

I realized in my medical rotations that I thought like a surgeon, and that I enjoyed problem solving. I love working with my hands, and the detail and artistry that comes with plastic surgery. No two operations are the same. It’s also meaningful to have an impact on people’s lives.

What are some of your most requested procedures?

In the surgical arena, it would be rhinoplasty, eyelid surgery and mini-facelifts.

What is unique about your treatment style?

In addition to being a board-certified facial plastic and reconstructive surgeon, I am also a board-certified otolaryngology surgeon, and that is an advantage for my patients. It’s the little things, like where you place incisions and how you close them, that make a big difference.

TESTIMONIAL

“Dr. Klausner is a fantastic surgeon, and I’m so glad I found her. I initially consulted with her a few years ago and took time to consider my septoplasty procedure. I chose her because she is the best. She is meticulous and explained every little detail to me. After my surgery she took the time to check in and called me that night when she learned I was feeling nauseous. I also had weekly office visits to monitor my healing and ensure we were both happy with the results. She is a compassionate and skilled doctor and I would recommend her to anyone.”—Jackie S.
