BRANDMARK

A brandmark, often recognized as a logo, distills a brand's core and identity into a visual emblem.

For Rawabi Holding, the reimagined brandmark pays homage to the previous brand identity, while seamlessly mirroring the company's journey of growth, maintaining the thread of familiarity while eloquently symbolizing the company's evolving progress.

It is imperative to consistently follow the brandmark's prescribed proportions and refrain from distorting it.

INSTITUTIONAL LOGO

The Rawabi trefoil design points in three distinct directions— left, right, and up— symbolizing our continuous growth and diversification, never downward.

The institutional logo serves as a visual representation of the organization's identity and values. To ensure consistent and accurate representation, be sure to follow the provided guidelines for its usage:

1. Exclusive use for official communications:

The institutional logo should be solely utilized for official communication with governments and contractors.

2. Internal documents for the board and directors:

The institutional logo can be used on internal documents aimed at the board of directors and other senior stakeholders.

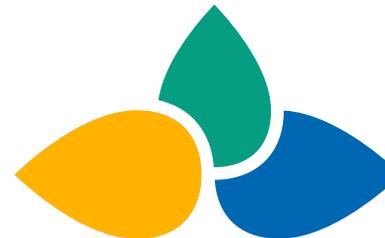

The institutional logo is always bilingual and accompanied by the lockup of the descriptor.

The institutional logo is restricted to limited use and should not be applied for commercial purposes. It must always be used in its entirety and without distortion.

NEVER change the brandmark and always use the original file provided by the Corporate Communications Department at Rawabi Holding

The commercial logo is Rawabi's primary logo. It is used for all our public communications and it comprises two essential elements: The English wordmark 'Rawabi' and the accompanying symbol.

These elements should consistently remain in their designated positions. There are two versions of the primary commercial logo: one for light backgrounds and another for dark backgrounds, featuring a white wordmark.

When employing the commercial logo, be sure to always maintain the bilingual descriptor "Rawabi Holding" within the same visual area. The descriptor should not be attached or paired with the logo but should be visibly present in the same space.

The graphics can be used as a container for imagery, textures, or colors. They can also be applied as an outline to highlight a particular element of an image.

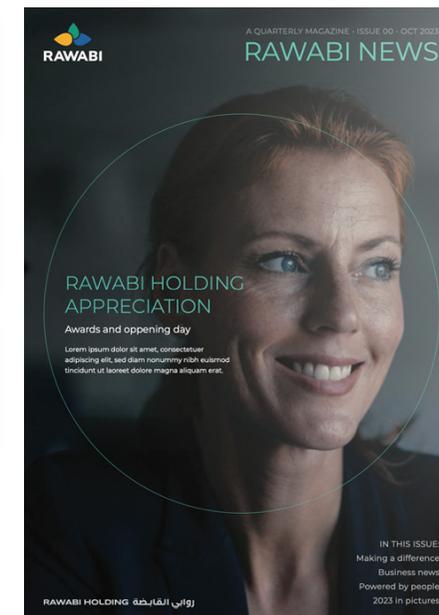

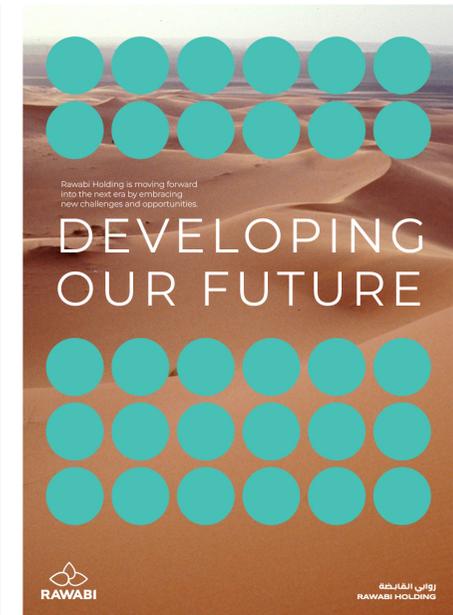

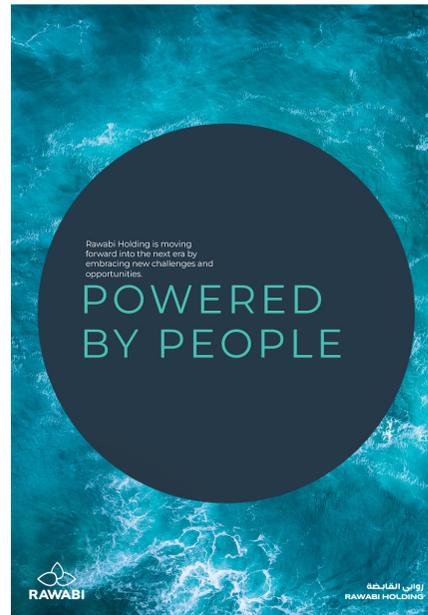

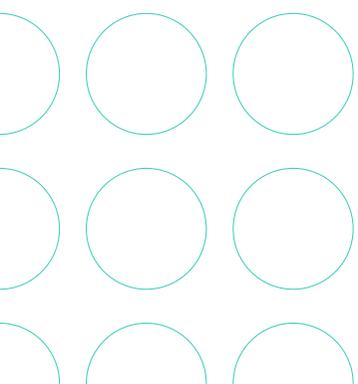

The usage of the graphics must be carefully defined. They must obey the purpose of the material:

- Protect an area for important information
- Highlight a visual
- Visually translate a headline, etc.

The secondary graphics can contain, overlap, or interact with the copy to create movement and depth. The criteria to define the combination between the copy and the secondary graphics is legibility.

HOW TO CREATE RAWABI TEXTURES

Rawabi textures are inspired by states of matter (solid, gas, liquid) and energy. They are an important element of our identity.

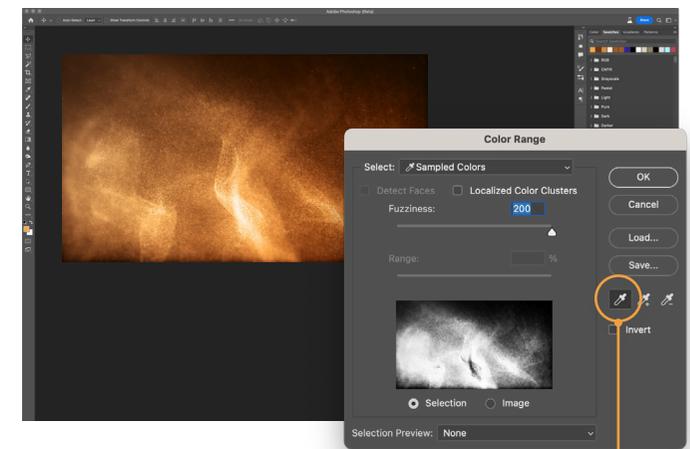

To create the textures, please follow the steps on this page to obtain the correct look of the textures, keeping them consistent and aligned with the Rawabi brand expression.

To use the textures with Pantone colors, generate a greyscale PSD file and apply the Pantone in Adobe Illustrator.

1. Open the image and go to Select > Color Range

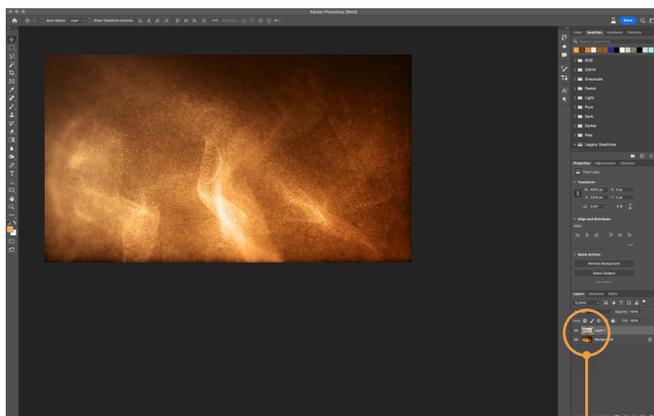

2. The dialog box will appear

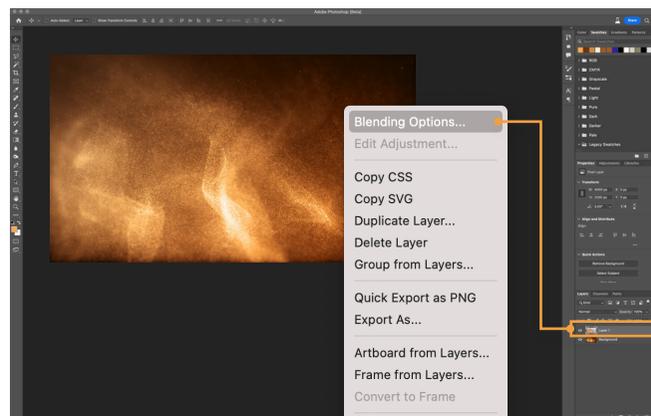

Use the eyedrop to select the areas of the image you want to create the texture. If the texture is applied in Pantone, it must be as dark as possible.

3. Create a new layer

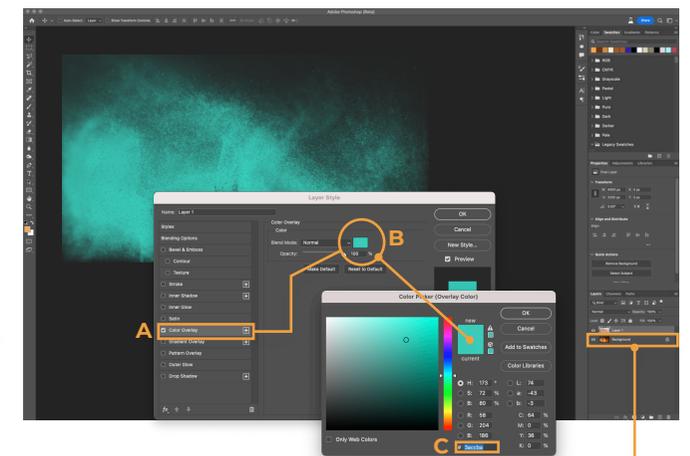

Copy and paste the selection into a new layer.

4. Right-click the layer and go to 'Blending Options'

5. Select the 'Color Overlay' option (A)

Click on the color box (B) enter one of Rawabi's color codes (C) and click OK.

IMAGERY

Imagery is a vital component of Rawabi's identity. Thoughtfully chosen visuals effectively convey our brand's essence, creating a positive resonance with our audience.

CATEGORIES

We use images that represent our brand in a positive and dynamic light. We show partnership and trust and only use images that determine how we wish to be perceived. The styling of people in our images will trigger various signals to audiences. Therefore, we pay attention to the type of clothing a person is wearing, facial expressions, and body language. When using images, ensure they align with our brand personality and complement our brand colors. To portray our wide range of activities, we have created different categories for our images:

People: General people showcased in offices, plants, or construction sites, portrayed with a positive look, and hopeful and energetic expression.

People in action: People will be included in two different settings. The first is an office environment, and the second is a heavy-duty work setting that requires physical effort. The difference between these two types of images will be in the mood, action, and people's attitudes.

Our sites/environments: It will focus on the view of our premises and operations.

TREATMENT

When selecting or shooting images for Rawabi, it is important to consider the overall look and ensure they align with our categories and brand personality.

The images we use involve people from offices and sites, who are the focus of the image and have minimal background noise.

The environment should reflect our company in action and with background colors that are desaturated/cold. Vibrant, saturated colors should be avoided.

FRAMING

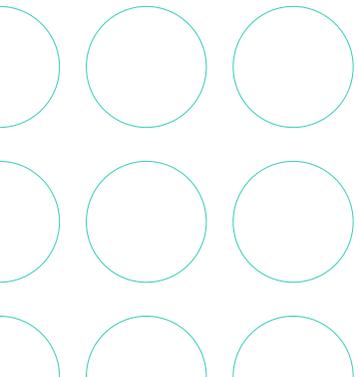

When selecting an image, consider the framing of the image and how it will sit and be incorporated into Rawabi's branding.

The suggested final image format is 16:9 and should be configured according to where the image will appear.

Whether a website header or a digital banner, the image should be surrounded by a clean area.

Recommended image format is 16:9

PEOPLE

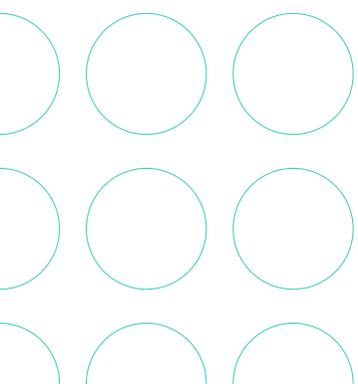

When choosing an image or conducting a photo shoot, it is important to focus on the person's expression and ensure they are acting naturally and not posed. If displaying more than one person, focus on portraying partnership and trust, ensure the image is not posed, and the people look natural. Use an equal mix of men, women, and different nationalities, to ensure the people are wearing suits and traditional clothes.

Natural light is preferred for people's images. In the composition, the subject shouldn't occupy more than 50% of the frame and must be positioned to the side, leaving enough free space on the side.

People in action: People will be included in two different settings. The first is an office environment, and the second is a heavy-duty work setting that requires mainly physical effort. The difference between these two types of images will be in the mood, action, and people's attitudes.

Remember, Rawabi is a globally diverse company powered by its people.

SCENES

Photographic excellence in lighting, composition, and resolution reflects Rawabi's core remit as a leading business entity in Saudi Arabia.

We must portray our scale, size, and reach. We are a confident company, and that should be reflected in our photography.

For our environments, the images must have:

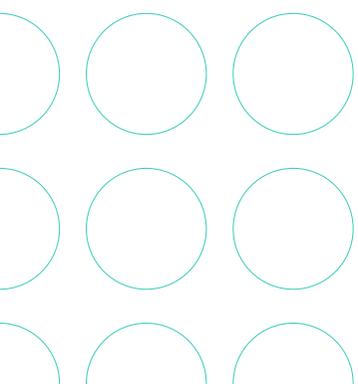

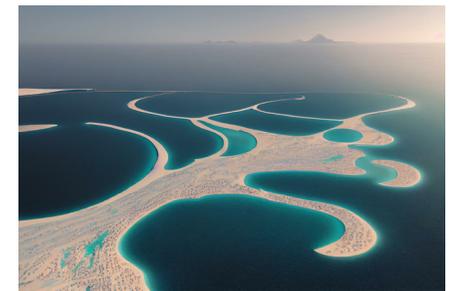

- Natural light and contrast
- Natural saturation
- Light depth of field
- Shoot natural situations and environments
- Interesting angles

STOCK IMAGES

When stock assets are necessary, please pay attention to some key points of the Rawabi imagery:

- Follow our image guidance described in the previous pages.
- Choose images that help us tell a story.
- Formats should be one of the following: high-resolution JPG, TIFF, or RAW files.
- For digital media, PNG files are acceptable.
- When downloading an image from a stock library, do not rename it, as it makes it difficult to track.
- Always obtain the required image rights.

INCORRECT USES

We maintain simplicity and sophistication when selecting images, and we always avoid certain elements such as busy backgrounds, saturated objects, colors that can reduce the logo legibility, etc.

When selecting images, remember to keep it simple and avoid overcrowded or messy images with a lot going on in the background.

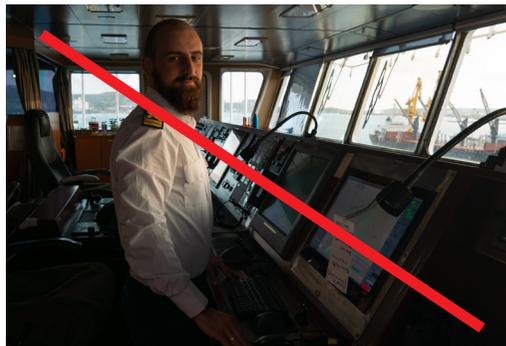

Also, avoid posed or fake-looking images that don't accurately or clearly represent our business.

Avoid fake poses/smiles

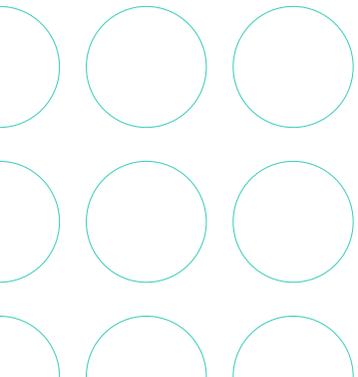

Avoid noisy backgrounds

Avoid images with poor lighting

Avoid images with the wrong atmosphere

By incorporating Rawabi's elements into social media templates, the brand's vibrancy and identity will shine through, fostering a strong online presence that resonates with our core audience and maintains visual coherence across platforms.

AVATAR

Our social media channels play a crucial role in communicating our brand with the external world.

To build a strong identity and create a connection with them, our brand must be consistent, relevant, and aligned with our message and other channels.

INSTAGRAM

RAWABI SMART OBJECTS PSD: HOW TO EDIT

Templates have a smart object PSD:

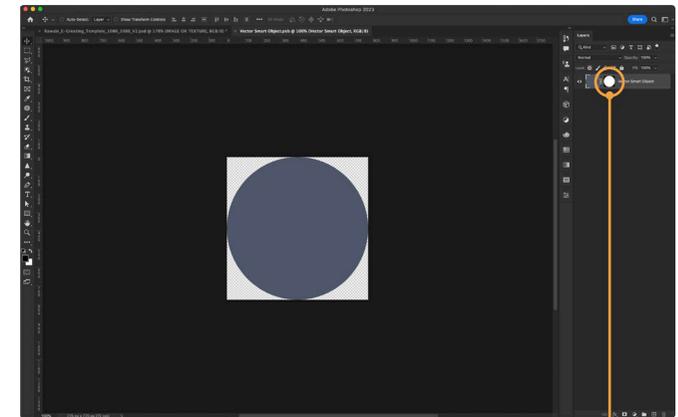

- E-mail headers
- E-greetings
- Screen announcements

The process of editing is straightforward and should be followed for the best efficacy and legibility.

1. Open the PSD and double-click on the smart object layer

2. A new window will open separately

Add image or texture (done as shown in Secondary graphics section) then, apply the mask.

3. Change the copy

- Open 'COPY' group to modify text layers
- Follow the same font weight and size

4. Apply the most legible logo and descriptor

- Within the folders DESCRIPTORS and LOGOS, you will find versions suitable for both light and dark backgrounds

- Select the layer with the most legible version for the selected background color

5. Select the background color

The background colors are inside the color folder. Select the preferred one and hide the others.

BRAND HIERARCHY

Brand hierarchy is an integral part of a company's brand strategy. It structures its products and services and establishes a cohesive and well-organized brand portfolio.

Rawabi Holding's brand hierarchy will help brand guardians to efficiently navigate the brand's diverse portfolio and leverage its potential to build long-term value.

BRAND ARCHITECTURE

A pure unitary (one brand) model is best aligned with Rawabi Holding, given its current business organization, practice, and previous history.
