EDDINGTON & LYNN

Cordial, candied fruit peels and an economic crunch.

In early 1929, two passionate pioneers, William John Eddington and W.J. Lynn, came together to form Eddington & Lynn Pty Ltd at 573 Flinders Lane, Melbourne. What started as a humble operation making cordials and candied fruit peel quickly found its place in Melbourne's thriving food market, driven by new eateries, department stores, and local electricity powering the city forward.

Famously, 1929 also saw the arrival of the Great Depression, and with it a once-in-a-generation dip in employment and prosperity. Remarkably, manufacturing initiated and led Melbourne's recovery, as local businesses like Eddington & Lynn stepped up. Government applied tariffs of the time made it cheaper to produce goods locally than import, and Melbourne's factories began to thrive in the mid 30s.

Eddington & Lynn continued to build on their success, operating under the name Edlyn—a nod to their shared vision. By 1932, they had moved to Richmond's bustling Church Street, a manufacturing hub known for its iconic factories and hard-working community, producing everything from matches to shoes.

MELBOURNE.

Eddington and Lynn Pty. Ltd. Capital £20,000, to acquire as a going concern the business of manufacturers and general merchants carried on at 573 Flinders-lane, Melbourne, and elsewhere. Subscribers: W. J. Eddington and W. J. Lynn.

FIRE IN CORDIAL FACTORY
£2000 Damage; 20 Out of Work
 Damage estimated at more than £2000 was caused by a fire in the factory of Eddington and Lynn Pty. Ltd., cordial and lemon peel manufacturers, Church Street, Richmond, late last night. The manufacturing room, in which there was a large stock of lemon peel, was destroyed.
 The brigade managed to confine the damage to the manufacturing and curing rooms.
 Two tons of sugar, worth £70, and valuable machinery was destroyed by the fire, the cause of which is not known.
 The alarm was given by a resident in the locality and a watchman employed at the factory.
 Mr H. E. Eddington, one of the directors of the company, said today that 20 men would be thrown out of employment for several weeks as a result of the fire.
 The building is insured with the Chamber of Manufactures Insurance Ltd. for £4000, and the contents with the Federal Mutual Insurance Company of Australia for £7200.

Of course, this wasn't the end of the road. By 1937, William Eddington had reformed the company with a new business partner, and Edlyn was back in business, manufacturing cordials from a fresh new facility. Their timing couldn't have been better, as waves of Greek and Italian migration were about to set the stage for the café culture that would make Melbourne famous.

From ashes to opportunity, a new chapter begins.

Edlyn faced its share of challenges in its early days. In 1932, disaster struck when a fire tore through the factory, destroying the manufacturing room, valuable machinery, and two tonnes of sugar. The cause remains a mystery, but the impact was devastating. Eddington & Lynn were forced to stand down 20 employees and ultimately entered involuntary liquidation.

"Edlyn" 1929

Decades of trust

Bruce Donnelly, alongside his sons Andrew and Stuart, purchased Edlyn in 1988 from the Eddington Family. Over the decades that followed, they've grown the business into what it is today, nurturing relationships in the Australian food service trade while developing products that would go on to become best sellers in the industry. Like the Eddingtons before them, the Donnelly's family values and emphasis on staff wellbeing would play a crucial role in their chapter of Edlyn's success story.

We've always been a family business.

“Being consistent to our core values and our people have been the secrets to our success. It’s humbling to see our team embracing those values and working so well together to support our customers every day.”

- Andrew Donnelly, Chairman

Australia's Finest Condiments Since 1985.

Wood's Olde Style Preserves was established in 1985, supplying gourmet, homestyle condiments to weekend markets and restaurants around Melbourne and Victoria. Demand and reputation quickly spread about the company that made condiments as good as a chef would make.

In 2002, Edlyn Foods acquired the business of Wood's and moved operations from their small shop front in Wood Street Preston, to a larger manufacturing facility. With the legacy left by its founders, Wood's Premium Condiments continue to be made in the way they always have, with care and attention, using only the freshest and best quality ingredients. As Australia's premium condiment supplier to the foodservice industry, Wood's products are used by discerning clients who value quality above all else.
