

Vendor Cybersecurity Incident Notice

Updated April 3, 2026

Valued Clients,

On January 30, 2026, we were notified about a cybersecurity incident involving a third-party provider. Specifically, this provider manages a secure cloud platform that hosts certain client files on behalf of our firm. In response to this matter, we took steps to confirm that this incident did not involve our computer network and reviewed the information shared by the third-party provider.

The provider advised that its cloud storage platform was accessed between November 27 and December 5, 2025, and some of its customers' files were copied without permission, which included certain files for our firm. Given the services we provide, the types of information stored in the provider's cloud platform will vary significantly by client but may collectively include name and the following: Social Security number, driver's license number, and/or medical information. Because of this, we are placing this notice on our website to make clients aware that this happened, and we will reach out directly to let clients that may be affected know about this matter.

In the interim, we are placing information on how individuals may obtain copies of the credit reports, place a fraud alert or security freeze on their credit files, and additional resources to help monitor and protect personal information in the "Steps Individuals Can Take To Protect Personal Information" section below.

We look forward to continuing to serve our clients and apologize for any concern this matter may cause.

Sincerely,

McMath Woods P.A.

STEPS INDIVIDUALS CAN TAKE TO PROTECT PERSONAL INFORMATION

Monitor Relevant Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended "fraud alert" on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a one-year alert that is placed on a consumer's credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer's credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer's identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a "credit freeze" on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer's express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer's name without consent. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should consumers wish to place a credit freeze or fraud alert, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Equifax—www.equifax.com; 1-888-298-0045; and P.O. Box 105788 Atlanta, GA 30348-5788

Experian—www.experian.com; 1-888-397-3742; and P.O. Box 9554, Allen, TX 75013

TransUnion—www.transunion.com; 1-833-799-5355; and P.O. Box 160, Woodlyn, PA 19094

For loved ones that may have recently passed, individuals may also place a “deceased – do not issue credit” flag on the loved one’s credit file. Only one consumer reporting bureau needs to be notified, and it will notify the other two major consumer reporting bureaus. Individuals may complete this process using the information provided by the credit bureaus at the below websites:

STEPS INDIVIDUALS CAN TAKE TO PROTECT THEIR MINOR DEPENDENTS’ PERSONAL INFORMATION

Monitor Relevant Accounts

Typically, credit reporting agencies do not have a credit report in a minor’s name. To find out if your minor dependent has a credit report or to request a manual search for your minor dependent’s Social Security number, each credit bureau has its own process. To learn more about these processes or request these services, you may contact the credit bureaus by phone or in writing or you may visit or contact the below credit bureaus.

Equifax—www.equifax.com; 1-888-298-0045; and P.O. Box 105788 Atlanta, GA 30348-5788

Experian—www.experian.com; 1-888-397-3742; and P.O. Box 9554, Allen, TX 75013

TransUnion—www.transunion.com; 1-833-799-5355; and P.O. Box 160, Woodlyn, PA 19094

To request information about the existence of a credit file in your minor dependent’s name, search for your dependent’s Social Security number, place a security freeze on your dependent’s credit file, place a fraud alert on your dependent's credit report (if one exists), or request a copy of your dependent's credit report you may be required to provide some or all the following information:

- A copy of your driver's license or another government issued identification card, such as a state identification card, etc.;
- Proof of your address, such as a copy of a bank statement, utility bill, insurance statement, etc.;
- A copy of your minor dependent's birth certificate;
- A copy of your minor dependent's Social Security card;
- Your minor dependent's full name, including middle initial and generation, such as JR, SR, II, III, etc.;
- Your minor dependent's date of birth; and
- Your minor dependent's previous addresses for the past two years.

Additional Information

Consumers may further educate themselves regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, credit freezes, and the steps they can take to protect their personal information by contacting the consumer reporting bureaus, the Federal Trade Commission, or their state Attorney General. The Federal Trade Commission may be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20580; www.identitytheft.gov; 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338); and TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. Consumers can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. Consumers have the right to file a police report if they ever experience identity theft or fraud. Please note that in order to file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, consumers will likely need to provide some proof that they have been a victim. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement.
