Confidentiality Between Clients

In order for all clients to feel safe and trusted while attending outpatient substance use disorder services at Ideal Balance, a high level of confidentiality must be maintained at all times. Ideal Balance requires that confidentiality of all clients be maintained fully at all times.

In order to maintain such a high level of confidentiality, Ideal Balance asks that you do not allow those who are not attending outpatient substance use disorder services to enter this agency. This would include family members who may drive you to our agency, significant others, etc. This reduces the risk of confidentiality being broken by someone who has not signed the below agreement.

For others who fall under this agreement, Ideal Balance does not allow for your friends, co-workers, or others to enter any area within Ideal Balance with or without you, except for the waiting area, unless there is a valid consent form, signed by you, in your clinical file. We ask that all clients and non-clients check-in at the front desk

For clients, please be assured that all who have access to your records has signed an oath of confidentiality which is placed in their employee file. Also, all visitors who enter this agency (to provide educational services, family members attending family sessions, etc.) are required to sign an oath of confidentiality which remains on file at all times.

Grievance Procedure

I have been offered a copy of the “Washington State’s Behavioral Health Benefits Book” at assessment/admission which includes the following information about the grievance system.

Per Washington State Health Care Authority, a grievance is “an expression of dissatisfaction about any matter other than:

1. The reduction, suspension, or termination of a previously authorized service;
2. The denial, in whole or in part, of payment for a service;
3. The failure to provide services in a timely manner, as defined by the state; or
4. The failure of a managed care organization (MCO) to act within the time frames provided in 42 C.F.R. 438.408(b).

Examples of grievances may be the following but is “not limited to: the quality of care or services provided, aspects of interpersonal relationships such as rudeness of a provider or employee, or failure to respect consumer/client rights.”

At Ideal Balance, we strive to provide a consistent, caring, and respectful therapeutic experience; however; at times, a client will need to express a grievance. We will do our utmost to provide an agreeable genuine resolution to a grievance.

There are several appropriate routes of grievance resolution.

1. When client has a grievance, client will do the following:
 - a. Take grievance to Ideal Balance Clinical Supervisor (process if client does not have Medicaid)
 - b. Then this person will discuss a plan of correction or action with the person that has a grievance. The plan will be implemented and the client will verify whether they are satisfied with the resolution.
 - c. Then if client is satisfied with the resolution provided by Clinical Supervisor, the Clinical Supervisor will provide information to Ideal Balance Administrator for Kennewick/Yakima offices.
 - d. If grievance is not resolved, the client and Clinical Supervisor will meet with the Administrator. An additional resolution plan will be made and followed through. If grievance is not resolved, proceed to Step 2.
2. If Ideal Balance is unable to provide an acceptable resolution of the grievance for the client, the client may file a grievance directly with their assigned Managed Care Organization using the following methods of communication:

(1) The commission of any act involving moral turpitude, dishonesty, or corruption relating to the practice of the person's profession, whether the act constitutes a crime or not. If the act constitutes a crime, conviction in a criminal proceeding is not a condition precedent to disciplinary action. Upon such a conviction, however, the judgment and sentence is conclusive evidence at the ensuing disciplinary hearing of the guilt of the license holder of the crime described in the indictment or information, and of the person's violation of the statute on which it is based. For the purposes of this section, conviction includes all instances in which a plea of guilty or nolo contendere is the basis for the conviction and all proceedings in which the sentence has been deferred or suspended. Nothing in this section abrogates rights guaranteed under chapter 9.96A RCW;

(2) Misrepresentation or concealment of a material fact in obtaining a license or in reinstatement thereof;

(3) All advertising which is false, fraudulent, or misleading;

(4) Incompetence, negligence, or malpractice which results in injury to a patient or which creates an unreasonable risk that a patient may be harmed. The use of a nontraditional treatment by itself shall not constitute unprofessional conduct, provided that it does not result in injury to a patient or create an unreasonable risk that a patient may be harmed;

(5) Suspension, revocation, or restriction of the individual's license to practice any health care profession by competent authority in any state, federal, or foreign jurisdiction, a certified copy of the order, stipulation, or agreement being conclusive evidence of the revocation, suspension, or restriction;

(6) The possession, use, prescription for use, or distribution of controlled substances or legend drugs in any way other than for legitimate or therapeutic purposes, diversion of controlled substances or legend drugs, the violation of any drug law, or prescribing controlled substances for oneself;

(7) Violation of any state or federal statute or administrative rule regulating the profession in question, including any statute or rule defining or establishing standards of patient care or professional conduct or practice;

(8) Failure to cooperate with the disciplining authority by:

- (a) Not furnishing any papers, documents, records, or other items;
- (b) Not furnishing in writing a full and complete explanation covering the matter contained in the complaint filed with the disciplining authority;
- (c) Not responding to subpoenas issued by the disciplining authority, whether or not the recipient of the subpoena is the accused in the proceeding; or
- (d) Not providing reasonable and timely access for authorized representatives of the disciplining authority seeking to perform practice reviews at facilities utilized by the license holder;

- (9) Failure to comply with an order issued by the disciplining authority or a stipulation for informal disposition entered into with the disciplining authority;
- (10) Aiding or abetting an unlicensed person to practice when a license is required;
- (11) Violations of rules established by any health agency;
- (12) Practice beyond the scope of practice as defined by law or rule;

- (15) Engaging in a profession involving contact with the public while suffering from a contagious or infectious disease involving serious risk to public health;
- (16) Promotion for personal gain of any unnecessary or inefficacious drug, device, treatment, procedure, or service;
- (17) Conviction of any gross misdemeanor or felony relating to the practice of the person's profession. For the purposes of this subsection, conviction includes all instances in which a plea of guilty or nolo contendere is the basis for conviction and all proceedings in which the sentence has been deferred or suspended. Nothing in this section abrogates rights guaranteed under chapter 9.96A RCW;
- (18) The procuring, or aiding or abetting in procuring, a criminal abortion;
- (19) The offering, undertaking, or agreeing to cure or treat disease by a secret method, procedure, treatment, or medicine, or the treating, operating, or prescribing for any health condition by a method, means, or procedure which the licensee refuses to divulge upon demand of the disciplining authority;
- (20) The willful betrayal of a practitioner-patient privilege as recognized by law;
- (21) Violation of chapter 19.68 RCW;
- (22) Interference with an investigation or disciplinary proceeding by willful misrepresentation of facts before the disciplining authority or its authorized representative, or by the use of threats or harassment against any patient or witness to prevent them from providing evidence in a disciplinary proceeding or any other legal action, or by the use of financial inducements to any patient or witness to prevent or attempt to prevent him or her from providing evidence in a disciplinary proceeding;

HIV/AIDS BRIEF RISK INTERVENTION

Blood Borne and Air Borne Pathogens

The Human Immunosuppressant Virus (HIV) caused Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS). Infection of the virus results from contact with blood, semen or vaginal fluids, during unprotected oral, anal, or vaginal intercourse, as well as contact with injectable drug paraphernalia.

Intravenous (I.V.) drug users and heterosexual females account for most of the current HIV infections across the United States. The highest risk behaviors for becoming infected are: (1) Having unprotected sex (sexual contact without a condom), (2) Sharing infected and unbleached injectable drug paraphernalia with I.V. drug users, or (3) Having sexual contact with I.V. drug users.

It is possible to have no symptoms of HIV infection for up to ten years or more after the date of infection. Because a person infected with HIV may have no symptoms for such an extended period of time, it may be impossible to know a person is HIV positive without diagnostic testing. Thus, it is important to protect yourself at all times. Everyone who is HIV positive is infectious, and should be protecting themselves from re-infection with other diseases, as well as protecting others around them from HIV infection.

You can protect yourself and reduce your exposure to HIV by doing the following:

- Do not have sexual contact with any injectable drug user.
- If you have sexual contact with someone, use a latex condom.
- Do not use drugs. If you do use drugs, do not share needles, cotton, bottle cap, spoon, etc. You must clean injectable drug paraphernalia with bleach and water before sharing paraphernalia to reduce the risk of HIV infection.
- Consider having the HIV Antibody test completed. This test can be anonymous and is available at the local Health Department at a minimal cost.
- Consider having the HIV Antibody test if you are pregnant or planning to father a child as an infected mother can pass the virus to her unborn child and an infected father can pass the virus to the mother.

Managing your risks regarding other blood born pathogens is also important, such as Hepatitis B and air borne pathogens, such as Tuberculosis. Consult your treatment team, physician, or your local Health Department if you have further questions.

If you feel you are at risk for having been exposed to HIV and/or blood borne and air borne pathogens, please feel free to discuss this with clinical staff so that we may refer you for further information and/or treatment.

Referral for Substance Use Disorder Providers

I have been informed of my right to be referred to an approved Substance Use Disorder Treatment provider that offers services consistent with the assessment recommendations.
