DR. JACOB G. UNGER is a board-certified plastic surgeon specializing in aesthetic surgery of the face, nose, eyes, breast and body as well as reconstructive surgery following trauma and cancer.

Dr. Unger received his medical degree from NYU and completed his plastic surgery residency at UT Southwestern in Dallas, ranked as the # 1 residency program in the nation. He continued his training with a fellowship in Paris, France and throughout Europe, focusing on cutting-edge aesthetic advances in medicine.

He is delighted to be practicing in Nashville at the world renowned Maxwell Aesthetics, which offers a full range of surgical and non surgical procedures.

Dr. Unger is dedicated to providing his patients the most up-to-date surgical procedures with a focus on safety with beautiful, natural-looking results. Dr. Unger values the patient-physician relationship, tailoring each procedure to the individual patient's needs. He is humbled by the opportunity to have a positive and often times life-changing effect on people's lives.

A recent patient said "Dr. Unger has an incredible bedside manner, only bested by his amazing surgical skills. I love my results!" Dr. Unger's goal is to make his patients look and feel their best.
