the new & improved Glo2Facial

We're excited to introduce the newest Glo2Facial system at Saving Face, with two machines now available at our Aesthetics location and one at HillCo.

This upgraded treatment now includes Radio Frequency (RF), adding a powerful collagen-stimulating and skin-tightening component to the facial. Combined with the signature CO₂ oxygenation technology, the treatment boosts circulation, enhances product absorption, and delivers the immediate glow and hydration clients love.

The Glo2Facial experience now combines:

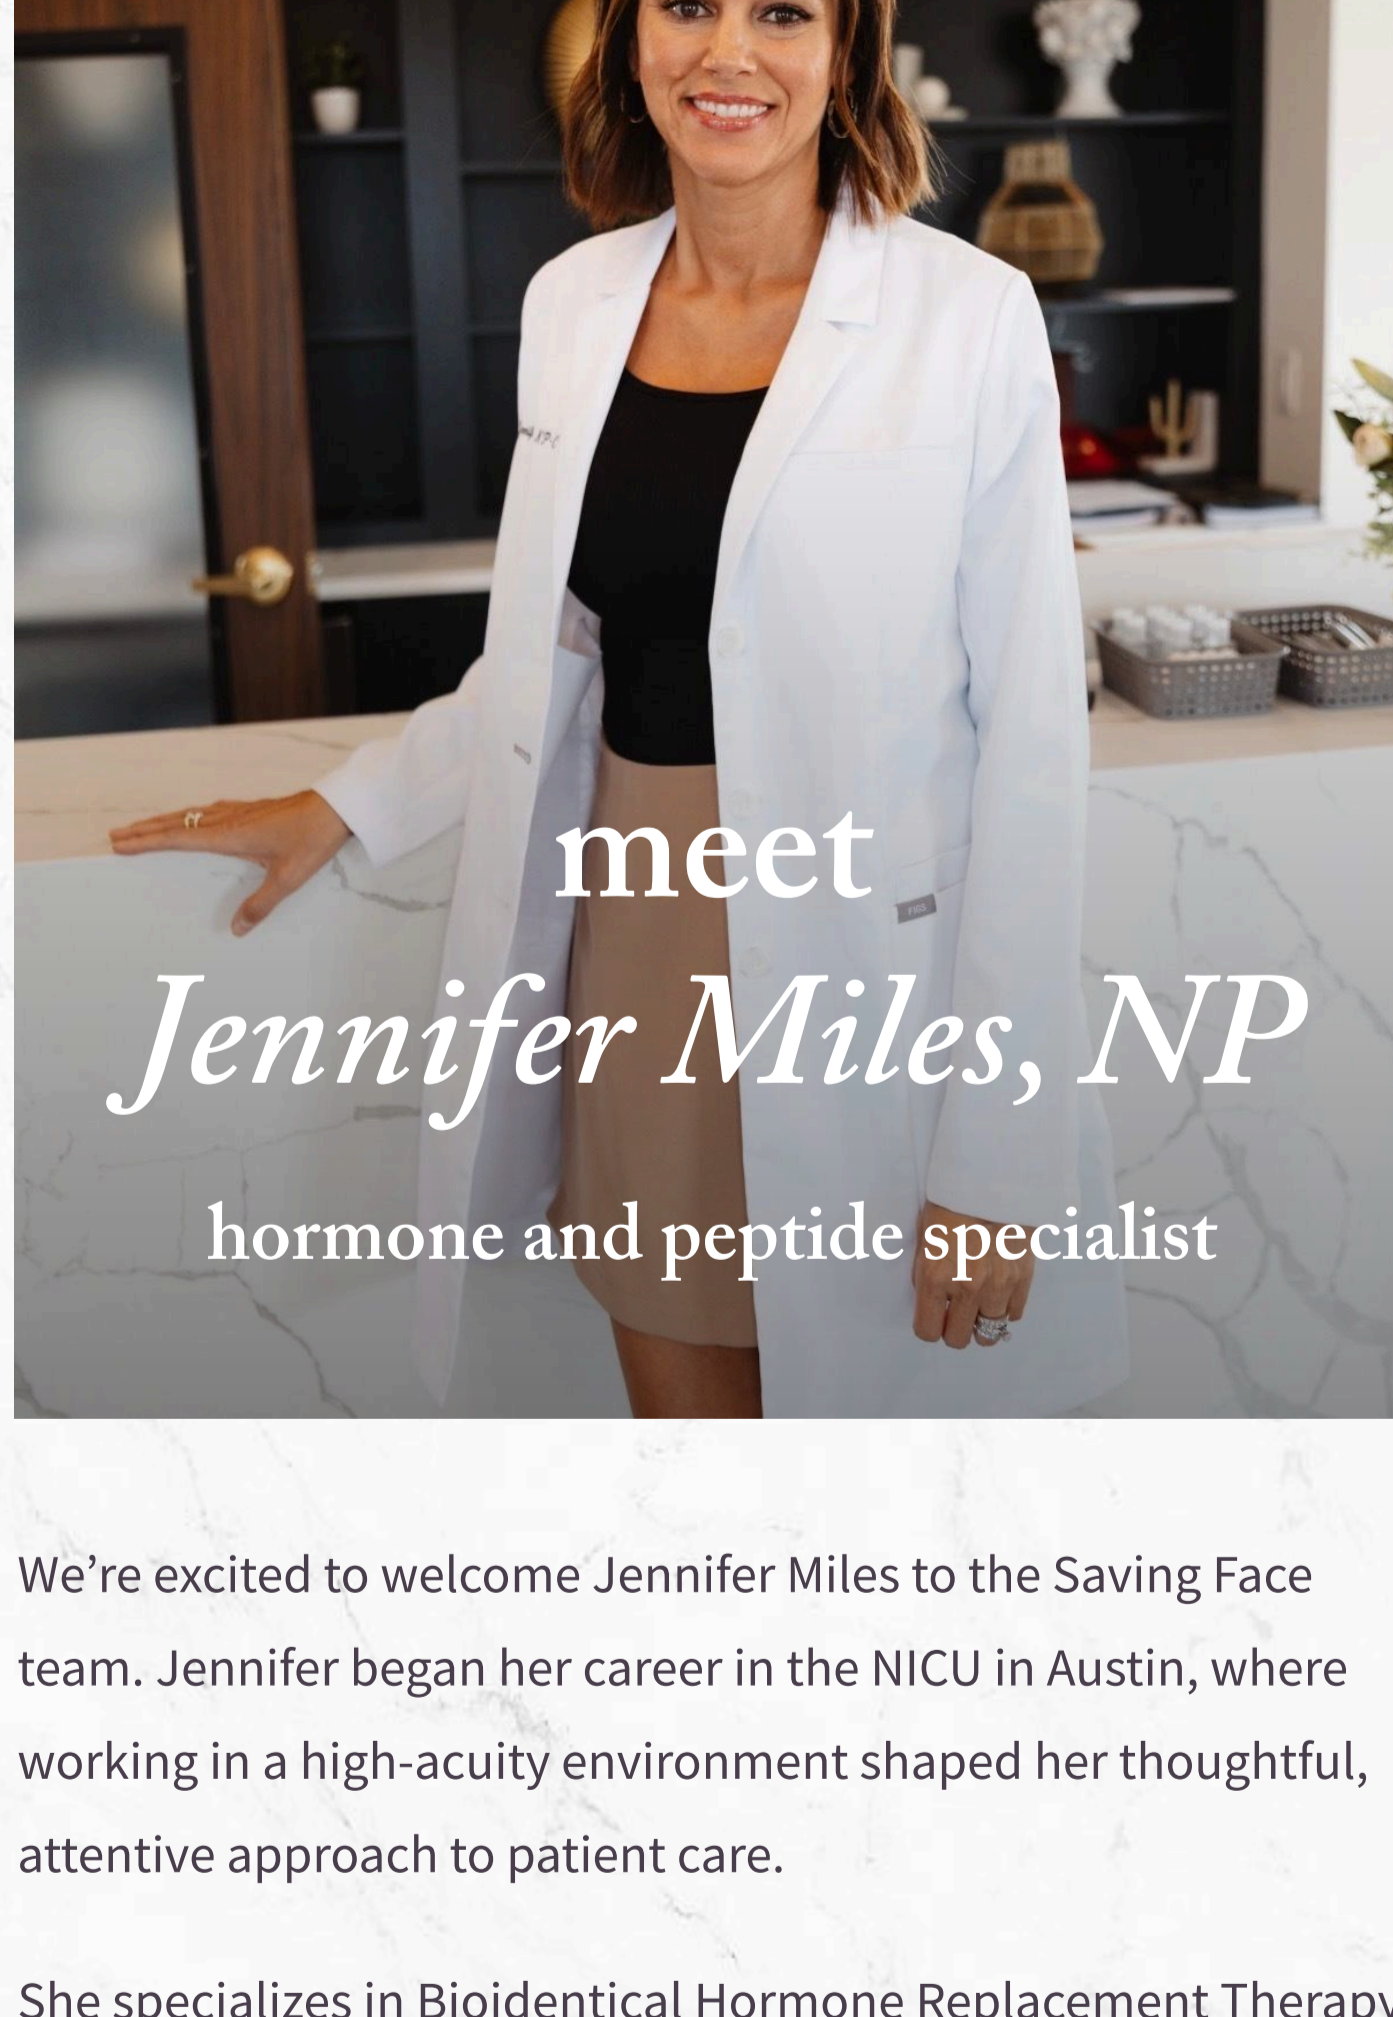

- CO₂ oxygenation for glow and circulation
- Radio Frequency (RF) for collagen stimulation and firmness
- Ultrasound to enhance product absorption
- Lymphatic detox massage to reduce puffiness and support skin health

The result is instantly radiant skin with long-term benefits for firmness, hydration, and overall skin health—all with no downtime.

INTRODUCTORY OFFER
Glo2Facial with RF — $300

meet Jennifer Miles, NP

hormone and peptide specialist

We're excited to welcome Jennifer Miles to the Saving Face team. Jennifer began her career in the NICU in Austin, where working in a high-acuity environment shaped her thoughtful, attentive approach to patient care.

She specializes in Bioidentical Hormone Replacement Therapy (BHRT), peptide therapy, and weight loss management, helping patients restore energy, balance hormones, and improve overall wellness.

Jennifer takes a personalized approach to care, working closely with each patient to understand their lifestyle, concerns, and goals so they can feel confident, supported, and empowered in their health journey.
