Hidonix Industries

Hidonix Industries is a defense and safety engineering company delivering high-reliability spatial intelligence for complex, infrastructure-dense environments. With ION, its flagship dual-use technology, the Company develops mission-critical systems across autonomy, sensing, geolocation, and integrated mission intelligence. As a defense-focused architecture builder, Hidonix Industries delivers deployable technologies for contested, high-security, and high-infrastructure environments. Building on this foundation, with ION, the company extends its sovereign stack into industrial spatial intelligence and robotics integration.