

FAQs

What is HashiDays?

HashiDays is HashiCorp's one-day, multi-city conference bringing together cloud technical experts, platform teams, thought leaders, and executives in person and online to share their insights and learn about the latest advances from HashiCorp. Attendees will hear about product updates, have the opportunity to attend technical deep dives from the HashiCorp team, and learn from community members, customers, and partners who use HashiCorp products every day.

What is HashiConf?

HashiConf is HashiCorp's flagship global user conference bringing together cloud technical experts, platform teams, thought leaders, partners, and executives in person and online to share their insights and learn about the latest advances from HashiCorp. For two and a half days, attendees will gather in person to hear from HashiCorp product experts, attend educational deep dives, get hands-on learning, level up with product certifications, and connect with peers who use our products.
