

EXIT TICKET

Provide an example of how written or spoken language, visual information, gestures, and sound could be used to:

Think about how modes of communication can combine to create meaning for the reader.

- highlight what is important

- create a particular mood

- explain what a character might be thinking