

Driving New Product Sales Using Social Listening

Client
Garden Appliances Retailer
Social Listening

Client Problem & Impact

A leading retailer for home and garden appliances wanted to create a campaign for a new and improved hedge trimmer. Previous campaigns had seen generally low response rates and they wanted to use a new channel to identify the best customers for the product.

Social Listening

How Did Sagacity Help?

We used social media listening, for example “cut the hedge last night” and “front garden looking great, but the hedge needs some work still”, and property data to find households we were confident actually had hedges on site.

Integrations

Outcome & Business Benefits

We saw an instant increase in response rates and massive uplift in sales from our newly targeted campaigns.

Key Words