KEY RISKS AND RISK MANAGEMENT

You should not invest in this Fund if you do not understand or are not comfortable with the accompanying risks.

Interest Rate Risk:	The possibility for an investor to experience losses due to changes in interest rates. The purchase and sale of a debt instrument may result in profit or loss because the value of a debt instrument changes inversely with prevailing interest rates.
Market/Price Risk:	The possibility for an investor to experience losses due to changes in the market prices of bonds. It refers to the portfolio's exposure to marked-to-market valuation due to market price fluctuations of the bonds.
Liquidity Risk:	The possibility for an investor to experience losses due to the inability to sell or convert assets into cash immediately or in instances where conversion to cash is possible but at a price that could result in a loss. This may be caused by low trading volume due to different reasons such as securities with small or few outstanding issues, absence of buyers and/or sellers (limited buy/sell activity) or underdeveloped capital market.
Credit Risk / Default Risk:	The possibility for an investor to experience losses due to a borrower's failure to pay principal and/or interest in a timely manner on instruments such as bonds, loans, or other forms of fixed income security which the borrower issued. This inability of the borrower or counterparty to make good on its financial obligations may have resulted from adverse changes in its financial condition thus, lowering credit quality of the security, and consequently lowering the price (market/price risk) which contributes to the difficulty in selling such security.
Reinvestment Risk:	The possibility of having lower returns or earnings when funds mature and are reinvested. Investors in the UITF who redeem and realize their gains run the risk of reinvesting their funds in an alternative investment outlet with lower yields. Similarly, the UIT fund manager is faced with the risk of not being able to find better yielding alternative investment outlets as some of the securities in the fund matures.
Foreign Exchange Risk:	The possibility for an investor to experience losses due to fluctuations in foreign exchange rates. The exchange rates depend upon a variety of global and local factors, e.g. interest rates, economic performance, and political developments.
Country Risk:	The possibility for an investor to experience losses arising from investments in securities issued by/in foreign countries due to the political, economic and social structures of these countries. There are risks in foreign investments due to the possible internal and external conflicts, currency devaluations, foreign ownership limitations and tax increases of the foreign country involved which are difficult to predict but must be taken into account in making such investments.
Other Risks:	Your participation in the UITFs may be further exposed to the risk of any actual or potential conflicts of interest in the handling of in-house or related party transactions by Metrobank. These transactions may include own-bank deposits; purchase of own-institution or affiliate obligations (stocks, mortgages); purchase of assets from or sales to own institution, directors, officers, subsidiaries, affiliates or other related interests/parties; or purchases or sales between fiduciary/managed accounts.

The Fund invests only in high-credit quality assets which are evaluated using a rigorous internal scoring model required under the Trustee's accreditation process and BSP regulations. Internal risk limits and position limits together with regulatory exposure limits are monitored, reviewed and strictly adhered to on a daily basis. The Fund may also use financial derivatives solely for hedging risk exposures.

THE UIT FUND IS NOT A DEPOSIT AND IS NOT INSURED BY THE PHILIPPINE DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION (PDIC).

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Global markets remains resilient amid Covid-19 Delta variant posing risk to growth outlook as vaccinations continue to be effective in preventing critical complications among patients; with some countries already announcing booster programs to support further re-opening of their economies. US inflation accelerated by 5.4% year-on-year in line with both market expectation and prior month's print. However, slower increase of 0.5% was seen month-on-month due to lower prices of used cars and apparel. Core inflation which excludes food and energy prices rose by 4.3% year-on-year (vs 4.5% prior month) and 0.3% month-on-month (vs 0.9% prior month). Federal Open Market Committee remains accommodative to support economic recovery; but could start tapering monthly bond purchase program by the end of the year. Fed Chair Powell during his speech at the Jackson Hole Symposium cited that while the US economy is at a strong path forward, they are still looking at incoming data from the labor market. Moreover, with inflation considered as transitory and is mainly driven by supply constraints, they are not in a hurry to raise interest rates as tapering too aggressively could derail progress. Market participants will now closely monitor Federal Open Market Committee September meeting for further clues on the tapering and the release of the committee's rate forecasts.

US Treasury yields climbed higher by 1-8 bps month-on-month as investors continue to price gradual monetary easing hinted by the Fed. Overall, global sovereign and corporate bond yields rose for the month with data showing economy is still expanding that point towards minimal impact of the Delta variant. Asian investment grade bond spreads narrowed and prices were marginally higher attributable to a strong demand for better yielding assets. Bond yields are expected to rise as the Fed is anticipated to gradually wind down its ultra-easy monetary stance by tapering asset purchases possibly to start by year end.
