7 Legal basis for processing your data

Candidate Recruitment – Legitimate interest: To ensure that althaus match candidates wishing to seek apprenticeship and learning opportunities and considering their interests, skills and abilities to match them with employer apprenticeship and employment opportunities.

Learner Enrolment and on programme participation – Legitimate interest: To ensure althaus deliver a programme of training in accordance with ESFA requirements which supports individuals and meets their learning and welfare needs. For special categories of personal data, this is processed as it is necessary for employment.

Employers – Legitimate interest: To ensure althaus supports your recruitment needs and that together we deliver a successful apprenticeship programme to our learners/employees.

Improving our service – Legitimate interest: To make sure that althaus continue to improve our service and provide the best and most effective service possible to our customers (candidates, learners and employers).

8 Who might we share your information with?

We do need to share your data with some third parties

Candidate data will be shared with employers recruiting to fulfil an apprenticeship vacancy.

Learner data will be shared with the Education & Skills Funding Agency, Qualification Awarding Bodies, E-Portfolio Provider and End Point Assessment Organisations. These organisations will become Data Controllers on receipt of data. Your contact details will be shared with organisations who carry out destination surveys on completion of your apprenticeship. These organisations will be data processors.

Employer data will be shared with the Education & Skills Funding Agency.

Data will be visible to service providers who provide the mechanisms althaus use to collect and store data:

- Databases are provided by Bud Solutions
- Company Shared Drive Data and email service is provided by Google Drive
- Data transfer routes are provided by Google Doc

9 How we protect your information

Measures we have in place to protect your information include computer safeguards such as firewalls and data encryption and we enforce physical access controls to our buildings and files to keep data safe. We only authorise access to employees who need it to carry out their job responsibilities. Please note that we cannot guarantee the security of any personal data that you transfer to us by email, for example a CV you submit to us for a vacancy. CVs and Applications submitted via our website portal are secure.

10 How we store your information?

Althaus maintains records of the geographical location of your personal data. This is either:

- Stored within the European Economic Area (EEA)

- Stored in countries approved by the European Commission as having adequate levels of protection in place e.g. Canada
- Stored in the USA, with organisations who are certified with Privacy Shields, e.g. Google, this means that Google provide a level of protection which is deemed adequate by the European Commission.

11 How long do we keep hold of your information?

Candidate/Learner and Employer data will be retained in accordance with our ESFA contractual requirements.

Unplaced candidate data will be retained for a period of 12 months from date of first contact.

12 Automated decision making

Please be advised that no decisions are made using automated decision mechanisms.

13 Your rights under GDPR?

You have a number of rights under data protection law. We will need to ask you for proof of your identity before we can respond to a request to exercise any of the rights set out below. We also may need to ask you for more information, for example to help us to locate the personal data that your request relates to.

Right 1 – A right to access your information

You have a right to ask us for a copy of your personal data that we hold about you. A request to exercise this right is called a “subject access request” Details of our subject access procedure can be requested via info@althausdigital.co.uk

Right 2 – A right to object to us processing your information

You have a right to object to us processing any personal data that we process where we are relying on legitimate interests as the legal basis of our processing. This includes all of your personal data that we process for all of the purposes set out in this Privacy Policy. If we have compelling legitimate grounds to carry on processing your personal data, we will be able to continue to do so. Otherwise we will cease processing your personal data.

You can exercise this right by emailing info@althausdigital.co.uk

Right 3 – A right to have inaccurate data corrected

You have the right to ask us to correct inaccurate data that we hold about you; on notification we will correct your personal data.

Right 4 – A right to have your data erased

You have the right to ask us to delete your personal data in certain circumstances for example if we no longer need the data for the purpose set out in this Privacy Policy. You can exercise this right by emailing info@althausdigital.co.uk

Right 5 – A right to ask us not to market to you

You can ask us not to send you direct marketing. You can do this by clicking “update your preferences” or “unsubscribe from this list” option at the foot of the email.

Right 6 – A right to have processing of your data restricted

You can ask us to restrict processing of your personal data in some circumstances, for example if you think the data is inaccurate and we need to verify its accuracy.

14 How to complain?

You have a right to complain to the Information Commissioner’s Office (ICO) which regulates data protection compliance in the UK, if you are unhappy with how we have processed your personal data. You can find out how to do this by visiting www.ico.org.uk
