

Fragmented Horizons: the uncertain future of Palestinians in Israel, Gaza and the West Bank

12.05.2026, 18.00-19.30
Conference Hall, Eurac Research

Program

18.00-18.15	Welcome address and presentation from Andrea Carlà – Institute for Minority Rights and Middle East Task Force (Eurac Research) and Alberto Stenico – Antenna
18.15-19.00	Presentation by Mohammad Darawshe – Center for Shared Society at Givat Havi-va, Israel – will focus on the • The lack of political horizon for Palestinians • The endurance of violence and settler aggression • Deadlock in Gaza • Palestinian citizens of Israel in a fragmented conflict: relationships with Palestinians in Gaza/West Bank and future political dynamics
19.00-19.30	Discussion-Q/A Moderators: Günther Rautz, Institute for Minority Rights – Eurac Research Elisa Piras, Center for Advanced Studies – Eurac Research

Organized by the Eurac Research Middle East Task Force, the Institute for Minority Rights and Antenna - Centro altoatesino per il dialogo e la pace in Medio Oriente.

The Middle East Task Force is a new Eurac Research initiative which was established in response to the ongoing violence in Gaza and across the wider Middle East. Grounded in the principles of human rights and international law, the task force seeks to coordinate reflection and Eurac Research initiatives related to the region and to promote knowledge, awareness, and critical engagement, and contributes to positioning Eurac Research as a center of competence in this area.

The presentation will be held in English only.

Info and contact

Andrea Carlà
Eurac Research – Institute for Minority Rights
andrea.carla@eurac.edu