RESORT OVERVIEW

Peter Allis and Dave Thomas designed the Emerald Course in 1973, the course opened in 1975. They were renowned golf Professionals and went onto become course architects and Peter Allis a TV commentator. Our 18-hole Emerald and Sapphire golf courses make Hill Valley Hotel, Golf & Spa one of Shropshire's leading golf venues.

With lush, rolling fairways and subtly undulating greens, The Emerald course is Shropshire's hidden gem, presenting a formidable test to even the most seasoned of golfer. The Sapphire, shorter in length than its sister course, is the perfect place for beginner golfers to hone their skills.

A fleet of buggies is available throughout the year, and our well-stocked pro shop with its experienced staff means that all your golfing needs are catered for.

THE COURSES

► EMERALD

The 6,630-yard par 73 is formidable test of golf, hidden away in the Shropshire countryside. The Emerald course sweeps around undulating fairways through natural water hazards and strategically placed bunkers, presenting a real golfing challenge to experienced and mid-level players.

A real grand-stand finish, the 18th requires a lengthy carry over water off the tee, where positioning is key if you want to have a favourable shot to the green, also well-protected by a water hazard.

► SAPPHIRE

The shorter 4,765-yard, par 66 Sapphire course is one to challenge your short game. Underestimate The Sapphire at your peril! Positioning is key if you want to successfully plot your way around this deceptively undulating course
