

Fishing holidays in Scotland

Kingennie is one of the best destinations for angling and family holidays in Scotland, and is an ideal base from which to explore the Angus countryside and east coast towns. Forbes of Kingennie contains some of the most popular luxury holiday lodges in Scotland due to their comfortable and spacious nature and favourable location.

All our fishing holiday lodges in Scotland have been furnished to the highest of standards and offer luxurious accommodation for guests. No expense has been spared in fitting out our lodges in Scotland to provide you with the highest levels of comfort.

We have 3 trout fishing lochs and one of the few truly dedicated coarse angling ponds in Scotland.

Your accommodation would be in one of our luxury self-catering lodges nestled amidst 12 acres of mature and secluded woodland overlooking the trout fishing lochans.

Trout Fly Fishing in Scotland

There are few better pastimes than fly fishing for trout, and few better places for it than the fishing pools of Kingennie Fishings, near Dundee, Scotland.

Kingennie has trout fishing (rainbow, blue, brown), with bait and fly-fishing on four well-stocked pools year-round. Catches vary according to the season and pool, from fighting trout of 1lb to 'old and cunning' fish of over 15lbs. The pools have fishing piers and some grass banking. Kingennie Fishings attracts around 10,000 anglers each year. Stocking takes place weekly.

Forbes of Kingennie are the proud main sponsors for the Scottish Youth Fly Fishing Team. Mike Forbes himself a former
