

PPF in 2022

PPF published its 2022 annual report today, complementing PPF's full-year financial results published on 30 May. The report is also available as a fully online format containing video interviews with selected senior PPF executives, including CEO Jiří Šmejč, who talks about his first year at PPF's helm.

Traditionally, the report devotes sections to the Group's not-for-profit activities and its shareholders, whose overall impact on the Group cannot be measured from an accounting ledger. The instruments for PPF's philanthropic and CSR initiatives are The Kellner Family Foundation and PPF Foundation. This year, the report's online version also features an interview with Jana Sedláčková, the Group's Head of Non-Profit Projects.

The "PPF in 2022" report opens a window onto PPF Group's operations in 25 countries around the world and the work of its tens of thousands of employees.
