Art Gallery of New South Wales

PRESIDENT'S FOREWORD

From its base in Sydney, the Art Gallery of New South Wales is dedicated to serving the widest possible audience as a centre of excellence for the collection, preservation, documentation, interpretation and display of Australian and international art, and a forum for scholarship, art education and the exchange of ideas. Our goal is that by the time of our 150th anniversary in 2021, the Gallery will be recognised both nationally and internationally for the quality of our collection, our facilities, our staff, our scholarship and the innovative ways in which we engage with our various audiences.

Regional engagement

The Gallery is committed to developing targeted and collaborative programs – and to sharing its art collection – with communities in Western Sydney and across regional NSW, and our touring program is a priority. To this end, the Gallery launched its inaugural Regional NSW and Western Sydney Engagement Plan in late 2015. This plan will continue to be updated as the Gallery holds ongoing conversations with our Western Sydney and regional NSW partners and stakeholders.

This year, the Gallery has also invested in two new staff members whose primary role is to engage with communities in Western Sydney and regional NSW and to develop a range of collaborative partnerships, skills exchange opportunities and touring exhibitions: a Community Programs Producer and a Touring Manager.

Sydney Modern Project

The Gallery has also been working with architectural practice SANAA to refine the initial design concept for the Sydney Modern Project – a significant expansion and transformation of one of the state's leading cultural institutions. The planning and competition for the Sydney Modern Project was enabled by the NSW State Government, which provided $14.8 million for the Initial Engagement Phase of the project, and I wish to thank the NSW Government for this significant support.

Self-generated revenue

Based on a state priority to increase self-generated revenue, this year the Gallery delivered an operating surplus, owing to the success of commercial operations, including ticketed exhibitions, the Gallery Shop, a newly refurbished café, venue hire and catering. The Gallery also received two significant bequests. The John Fairlie Cunningham Bequest – worth over $16 million – is the biggest bequest in the history of the Gallery. The other significant bequest this financial year, of over $6.5 million, was left by Steve Watson. These two bequests were made to the Art Gallery of NSW Foundation, the endowment fund for major acquisitions, and have almost doubled the Foundation's annual income from its greatly increased capital base.

Sponsorship

Our engagement with schools is stronger than ever. Art Pathways is a major two-year educational program that provides creative learning opportunities for students and teachers in Western Sydney and is generously supported by Crown Resorts Foundation and the Packer Family Foundation. In 2015, 620 students from low SES schools participated in the program, 257 students from schools with Indigenous background students and 130 students from access school communities. In 2016, the Gallery is also working with regional galleries and Western Sydney University on this program.

This was the second year of the philanthropic gift of $1 million per annum for ten years from Crown Resorts Foundation, through their Sydney Arts Fund, for which we are most grateful. The funds assisted with a number of core projects including the establishment of the National Art Archive, the development of the Pure Land augmented reality project, the commissioning and exhibition of Manifesto, and the production of greatly enhanced content to support the Gallery collection online.

This was the sixth year of the Sydney International Art Series – an ongoing partnership to bring the world's most outstanding exhibitions to Australia – and we gratefully acknowledge the support received from the NSW Government through our strategic partner, Destination NSW. I would like to make special mention of our leadership partners, ANZ (for which I also have the privilege of being chairman) and EY, whose significant support enables us to present inspiring exhibitions, such as the Archibald, Wynne and Sulman prizes and The Greats: masterpieces from the National Galleries of Scotland.

I would like to welcome and thank our new partners: Aqualand for their groundbreaking support of Tang: treasures from the Silk Road capital; Paspaley Pearls for supporting the Atelier program; Bailey Gifford with their major partnership of The Greats; and Champagne Taittinger and McWilliam's Wines. I also acknowledge our presenting sponsors: Herbert Smith Freehills, our legal partner; J.P. Morgan for their ongoing support of the Brett Whiteley Studio; Macquarie for their commitment to the Australian Galleries; and UBS for their continued relationship with our Contemporary Galleries.

Additionally, our principal sponsors make an invaluable contribution to numerous Gallery programs through their ongoing support: City of Sydney, Fairfax Media, JCDecaux, Porter's Original Paints, Official Hotel partner Sofitel Sydney Wentworth; and Variety, the Children's Charity. The Gallery also receives substantial support from members of the President's Council and VisAsia Council.

Edmund Capon Fellowship

The Edmund Capon Fellowship aims to foster a closer relationship with Asian art museums that will lead to the further exchange of ideas, programs, individual works of art and temporary exhibitions between Australia and Asia. Through the fellowship, a museum professional from an Asian institution will spend up to four weeks at the Gallery and a member of Gallery staff will spend an equal amount of time in an Asian museum. I acknowledge the leading role of the Balnaves Foundation in supporting the fellowship.

The 2016 recipient was Ana Maria Theresa P Labrador, assistant director, National Museum of the Philippines, who has been collaborating with the Gallery on the Bayanihan Philippines Project, which will be launched in October 2016. Next year, Yuki Kawakami, the Gallery's assistant programs producer, will visit Singapore, Japan and China to learn about how better to engage youth audiences through tailored programming.

Acknowledgments

I would like to acknowledge formally the strong support of the NSW State Government – the Premier, the Hon Mike Baird MP, and the Deputy Premier and Minister for the Arts, the Hon Troy Grant MP. My thanks are also extended to Andrew Cappie-Wood, Secretary, Department of Justice, and Samantha Torres, Deputy Secretary Justice Services, Arts & Culture, Department of Justice.

I also thank and acknowledge the work of all of the staff of the Gallery under the direction of our director, Michael Brand. 2016 has been a successful year for the Gallery and the trustees and myself acknowledge that that success is the product of the hard work and talent of our staff.

The work of the volunteers and their contribution to the Gallery cannot be underestimated, and we sincerely acknowledge and thank them too.

I would also like to thank the vice-president, Dr Mark Nelson, as well as the other sub-committee chairs, Geoff Ainsworth and Samantha Meers, for their hard work and dedication throughout the year.

I thank all of my fellow trustees. We are working alongside the director and executives of the Gallery to realise the Sydney Modern vision to continue to transform the Gallery into a truly global 21st century art museum, with a focus on maintaining and developing a superb collection accessible to diverse audiences.

DIRECTOR'S STATEMENT

The Art Gallery of New South Wales aims to continue building on our reputation as one of Australia's leading art museums, with our strength in the field of contemporary art balanced by our significant commitment to historical Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander, Australian, Asian and European art. In doing so, we must reflect the continuing evolution of the visual arts in the 21st century alongside the development of new channels of global communication that increasingly transcend national boundaries. While we live in an era of overall financial constraint, we are also blessed with high levels of new thinking and entrepreneurship. For this reason, the Gallery's financial performance was strong this year and all aspects of commercial revenue increased. At the same time the Gallery was able to keep its operating expenses down through the introduction of a number of control measures.

Sydney Modern Project

During the year, the Gallery worked with SANAA and the Australian Executive Architect, Architectus, to complete the Initial Engagement Phase of the project. This included evolving the design concept and the preparation of a Development Application. Workshops were held in both Sydney and Tokyo to progress the ideas underpinning SANAA's design concept. Internal workshops with staff further evolved the design brief and enabled consideration of the future operational needs of the Gallery.

A public exhibition of Stage 1 and Stage 2 design competition entries was held at the Gallery during August and September. The exhibition attracted over 43,000 visitors during the seven-week period, with public response overwhelmingly positive.

Visitation

The total number of visitors to the Gallery was just under 1.3 million during the financial year, on par with last year, and visitation numbers to our building in Sydney's Domain increased slightly overall. We anticipate strong visitation from the beginning of 2016/17 owing to the initial response to the exhibition Frida Kahlo and Diego Rivera: from the Jacques and Natasha Gelman Collection and then the Archibald, Wynne and Sulman prizes 2016. While touring numbers appear to have decreased from the previous financial year, they were skewed by the two large touring exhibitions in 2014/15 and the split of touring exhibitions across venues and financial years. Brett Whiteley Studio visitation numbers remain consistently strong, almost at capacity, so great emphasis is now being placed on developing engaging touring exhibitions. In 2016/17, the Gallery is delighted to be touring five exhibitions to regional centres, including two from the Brett Whiteley Studio.

I am further delighted that the Gallery had over 109,000 followers on Facebook by the end of 2016, making us the most followed art museum in the country; this is the second biggest number for a cultural institution (after the Sydney Opera House). Our Instagram following also grew by a significant 213 per cent during the year to 60,600.

Art collection

In the last financial year, the art collection developed through purchase, gift and bequest with the addition of 642 works worth $12 million. There are currently 32,786 objects in the art collection, valued at over $1.3 billion. Major acquisitions include John Russell's In the afternoon 1891, purchased with funds provided by the Art Gallery Society of New South Wales 2016; Djambawa Marawili's Mundukul 2015, purchased with funds provided by the Mollie Gowing Acquisition fund for Contemporary Aboriginal art 2016; Louise Bourgeois's Arched figure 1993, an Art Gallery of New South Wales Foundation Purchase; and eight photographs from Yasumasa Morimura's series Las meninas reborn in the night I–VIII 2013 (printed 2016), an Art Gallery of New South Wales Foundation acquisition with support from the John Fairlie Cuninghame Bequest 2016.

We have also received two further extraordinary long-term loans from the Lewis Collection, Amedeo Modigliani's Nu assis au collier 1917 and Francis Bacon's Triptych 1974 (reworked 1977). I wish to extend my sincere thanks to all our supporters and benefactors who enable our collection and our displays of art to be enriched so wonderfully each year to the benefit of both the people of NSW and all visitors onsite and online.

Among many loans from our collection to exhibitions in Australia and internationally were 21 works lent to the National Gallery of Australia's Tom Roberts retrospective, highlighting that we have one of the finest collections of the artist's work in Australia. Further, the Gallery's book from our 2014/15 Summer International Art Series exhibition, Pop to popism, won the prestigious Best Large Catalogue at the Art Association of Australia and New Zealand (AAANZ) prizes.

Major exhibitions

The 2015/16 exhibition program celebrated both Australian and international perspectives. The major summer exhibition, The Greats: masterpieces from the National Galleries of Scotland, was exclusive to Sydney and part of the Sydney International Art Series. Drawn from the prestigious collection of the National Galleries of Scotland in Edinburgh, the exhibition spanned a period of more than 400 years and attracted 140,429 visitors.

Tang: treasures from the Silk Road capital continued the Gallery's strong focus on historical Asian art and culture. This was also Australia's first exhibition on the Tang dynasty and featured Pure Land: inside the Mogao Grottoes at Dunhuang, an augmented-reality installation of a UNESCO World Heritage listed cave developed in collaboration with Professor Sarah Kenderdine (University of NSW), City University of Hong Kong and the Dunhuang Academy, China.

Nigel Milsom won the prestigious Archibald Prize 2015 for his portrait of Charles Waterstreet, Judo house pt 6 (the white bird); Natasha Bieniek won the Wynne Prize 2015 for her miniature oil painting, Biophilia; and Jason Phu won the Sir John Sulman Prize 2015 for I was at yum cha when in rolled the three severed heads of Buddha: Fear, Malice and Death. The annual ARTEXPRESS 2016 exhibition featured a selection of outstanding student artworks developed for the artmaking component of the 2015 HSC examination in Visual Arts.

This year the Gallery celebrated 40 years of partnership with the Biennale of Sydney and was a major venue for the 20th Biennale, The future is already here – it's just not evenly distributed. Julian Rosefeldt's Manifesto video installation, commissioned by the Gallery in partnership with the Australian Centre for the Moving Image (ACMI) and showing until January 2017, features Cate Blanchett delivering a series of monologues inspired by some of the most provocative artist manifestos.

The program was also marked by significant Indigenous art exhibitions. Curated by Cara Pinchbeck, When silence falls presented works by artists from across the globe who respond to the inherent violence of massacres, ethnic cleansing, cultural displacement and political force. Artists included Vernon Ah Kee, Paddy Bedford, Daniel Boyd, Fiona Hall, Ben Quilty, Pedro Reyes, Hossein Valamanesh and Judy Watson. Curated by Jonathan Jones, Murruwaygu: following in the footsteps of our ancestors celebrated the Aboriginal culture of south-east Australia by exploring the use of line by Koori male artists and included shields, paintings and works on paper.

National Art Archive

The formal establishment of the National Art Archive recognises the depths of the Gallery's archival collections and marks a commitment to making them more widely available for research and learning. The Gallery has been Australia's leading collector of visual arts archives since its foundation in the 1870s. The gifting of material from the Biennale of Sydney's archive this year adds a strong international focus to these holdings.

Bulgari Art Award

Jude Rae was the recipient of the $80,000 Bulgari Art Award for her painting SL 359 2016. Now in its fifth year, this partnership to support contemporary Australian painting allows the Gallery to acquire a major work by a leading artist to the value of $50,000 and provides the winning artist with a residency in Italy valued at $30,000.

Travelling Art Scholarships

Tom Polo won the 2015 Brett Whiteley Travelling Art Scholarship. This scholarship was established in 1999 and the winner receives $25,000 and a three-month residency at the Cité Internationale des Arts in Paris, which is administered by the Gallery. Elena Papanikolakis was the recipient of the 2016 Eva Breuer Travelling Art Scholarship, established last year to support young Australian female artists for the purpose of travel and study in Paris. Papanikolakis will take up a three-month residency at the Dr Denise Hickey Memorial Studio in Paris with a $25,000 stipend.

Benefactors

The Atelier program and Friends of New Zealand Art (FoNZA) were launched this year. Atelier aims to inspire next generation philanthropists in their 20s to 40s and we are proud to have 84 Atelier supporters already. FoNZA is aimed at improving the Gallery's collection of important New Zealand art, as we look to frame our collection in the regional as well as the broader international context, and the initial gifts have been very gratifying. The Contemporary Collection Benefactors supports the acquisition of contemporary Australian art for the Gallery's collection and this year acquired Richard Tipping's Hold up ahead 1983 2004, Wrong day 2012 2015 and Caution – there is no avant-garde 1993 2012. The Aboriginal Collection Benefactors, Contemporary Collection Benefactors, Photography Collection Benefactors and Australian Prints, Drawings & Watercolours Benefactors also acquired important works for the collection.

Acknowledgments

I would like to extend my most sincere thanks to the Executive Team and all Gallery staff who have done an outstanding job this year in delivering a raft of such high-calibre exhibitions, public programs and related support services. We farewelled some senior staff members during the year and I would like to thank all of them for their significant contribution to the Gallery. I wish to acknowledge the great work of our front-of-house staff, including the volunteer guides and the Task Force volunteers, who deliver an exceptional level of service to the community. Ron Ramsay joined as executive director of the Art Gallery Society and Brian Ladd took up the role of president of the Society – I am looking forward to working with both of them in the years ahead to serve our members.

During a major building maintenance project, approximately 85 staff members have temporarily been located at the State Library of NSW (since February 2016). I wish to acknowledge the collegial support of Dr Alex Byrne, the recently retired state librarian and chief executive, during this time.

Lastly, Guido Belgiorno-Nettis AM's term as president of the Board of Trustees expired at the end of 2015. Guido has made a significant contribution to the Gallery since he joined the Board of Trustees in 2007. He continues to be a great friend and supporter. At the beginning of January 2016, we welcomed David Gonski AC as president. David was previously president between 1997 and 2006 and is now again providing extremely valuable advice and guidance during this critical phase of the Gallery's history. I look forward to working with him as a strong advocate for our Sydney Modern vision. I would also like to acknowledge the reappointment of our valued trustees, Geoff Ainsworth, Mark Nelson and Ben Quilty.

SYDNEY MODERN PROJECT

The Sydney Modern vision is to create an art museum for the 21st century. Realisation of the vision will create shared spaces of discovery for all our visitors and an art museum energised by living artists. It will transform the way we engage with our visitors, enable us to display more of the state's art collection, provide a more complete story of Australian art and create a special centre of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander art as a national and international destination.

A major exhibitions gallery will attract the world's best art exhibitions and an inspiring Learning Centre will enable audiences of all ages to engage and participate in a wide variety of art and learning experiences.

Through the Sydney Modern vision, a significant cultural and architectural landmark with open spaces and inspiring experiences and will be added to the cultural life of Sydney as a global city.

In May 2015 the Gallery engaged Tokyo-based architectural firm SANAA, headed by Kazuyo Sejima and Ryue Nishizawa, as the Design Architect for the Sydney Modern Project, a new building and refurbishment of the existing building.

During the year, the Gallery has worked with SANAA and the Australian practice Architectus as Executive Architect to deliver the Initial Engagement Phase of the project. The key components of this work included evolution of the concept design that was delivered through the competition process and preparation of a Development Application (DA). A full consultant team was appointed to support this phase of development of the project.

The work of the architectural and consult teams during the year has given the Gallery a clearer understanding of the complexity of the site, which is to the north of the Gallery on an existing concrete slab (land bridge) and into disused fuel bunkers. Ownership of the site is held by the Gallery (6%); Roads and Maritime Service (37%) and Royal Botanic Gardens (RBG) (57%).

A number of images were sourced by Gallery staff during the year and demonstrate the urban transformation of the Gallery's site and environs. The pictures illustrate the Gallery's phases of expansion in 1972, 1988 and 2003 and mirror significant urban planning changes in the city. They are a powerful reminder that significant incursions have occurred on our site with 60% of the site area concrete slab over existing structures and the remaining 40% undisturbed land.

Workshops were held in both Sydney and Tokyo to progress the ideas underpinning SANAA's design concept. Internal workshops with staff further evolved the brief developed for the competition.

The demanding requirements of the topography of the site were also better understood and SANAA's design will have the bulk of the footprint of the new building (80%) constructed on existing concrete slab.

As required under the competition conditions endorsed by the Australian Institute of Architects (AIA), a public exhibition of Stage 1 and Stage 2 entries was held at the Gallery during August and September. The exhibition attracted over 43,000 visitors during the seven-week period with very positive public feedback.

The Sydney Modern Project web page continues to provide information for stakeholders and is regularly updated. All the material displayed in the public exhibition of competition entries, including the Jury Report, is now available on the website. A dedicated email address (smpcommunication@ag.nsw.gov.au) captures comments and feedback.

The Gallery engaged the Institute of Sustainable Futures at the University of Technology, Sydney to undertake initial research to identify best-practice strategies and global benchmarks for art museums in the areas of power, water and waste reduction as well as guidance on achievable environmentally sustainable targets. Sydney Modern has been registered with the Green Building Council of Australia and will be the first gallery in Australia to achieve a Green Star rating. The Gallery is working closely with the architectural and consultant team to achieve at least a 5 Green Star rating.

The Gallery continued to work closely with key stakeholders within the precinct, particularly the Royal Botanic Gardens (RBG) and Domain Trust. Collaboration has occurred in a number of areas including sustainability. A key element of SANAA's design are several pavilions with green roofs, and the advice of RBG scientific staff has been sought to determine appropriate native vegetation for these areas in order to ensure a compatible biodiverse environment is created.

As part of the ongoing consultation process, briefings were regularly held throughout the year to update the local community on the development of the project.

The Preliminary Business Case for the project was submitted to Government in January following a successful Gateway review outcome.

The first major public event with SANAA took place on 27 July 2016 with Kazuyo Sejima and Ryue Nishizawa in conversation with Michael Brand in a session moderated by Ken Maher, national president of the AIA. Over 3600 visitors attended the Art After Hours event, with an overwhelmingly positive response to the presentation.

The image features a solid, muted red background. In the upper right quadrant, there are three overlapping circles. The largest circle is a vibrant, saturated red and is positioned on the left. It overlaps with a medium-sized, light pink circle to its right. This light pink circle, in turn, overlaps with a larger, very light pink circle on the far right. The word "Art" is written in a clean, white, sans-serif font, centered within the vibrant red circle.

ART COLLECTION

The Gallery's art collection is broadly divided into Australian and international art. The total number of objects in the art collection is currently 32,786 and this continues to grow. At present, it is valued at $1,317,417,124. It is the Gallery's greatest asset, as well as a significant cultural asset of the state of NSW and the country.

Over this financial year the Gallery acquired 642 artworks from 153 Australian artists and 62 international artists. A total of 228 artworks (valued at $6,164,024) were purchased – 131 works from Australian artists and 97 works from international artists – and 414 artworks (a value of $5,835,964) were gifted, adding a total value of $12 million to the collection.

CONSERVATION

The Conservation Department has been involved in extensive preparations for a number of exhibitions with over 1500 works assessed/prepared for display. Conservation staff have worked on all types of permanent collection rehangs, including the exhibitions Landscapes of pleasure, Sentient lands and Conversations, as well as See you at the barricades, Rosemary Laing, Body dimensions, The Greats, The modernists, Murruwaygu, When silence falls, Biennale of Sydney, Tang, Monet to Hockney, Manifesto, Imprint and Tracey Moffatt. Conservation work has included assessment, research and analysis, treatment, mounting, preparation of custom supports, installation and documentation.

In 2015–16, over 600 acquisitions were checked, given a condition report and prepared for entry into the collection. More than 300 works were prepared and documented for outward loan, including a large number of works for the Tom Roberts exhibition at the National Gallery of Australia and the forthcoming exhibitions John Olsen and Making modernism. Major preparations were also undertaken for several large installation works by Mike Parr for loan to the National Gallery of Australia. These works included The bridge, The wax bride, Bronze liars and AMERIKA. A new reproduction frame was made for the Frank William Bourdillon painting On Bideford Sands, for loan to the Tasmanian Museum and Art Gallery.

Conservation welcomed the addition of a temporary position in time-based art conservation in August 2015. The Gallery's collection of time-based art includes analogue and digital artworks across a range of media such as video, audio, film, kinetics, computer interactives, slide works, iterative works and installations. There are also significant time-based holdings in the National Art Archive. The conservation of time-based art is a relatively new area of conservation specialisation, which requires a distinctly different approach to the management of collections in traditional media.

The position of a time-based art conservator is increasingly important and the Gallery is fortunate that Friends of Conservation along with other individual benefactors could provide the much needed funds to get this essential work underway.

Two major painting and frame conservation projects have been completed. The conservation of John Webber's A view of Otaheite Peha 1785 was funded by Friends of Conservation. The treatment of Hugh Ramsay's The foil, was generously funded by The Pohl Foundation. In addition, the 90-panel Imants Tillers' work Once upon a time has been given a pioneering magnetic hanging system enabling rapid installation with minimal handling.

The treatment and preparation of watercolours and their frames for the 2017 exhibition Victorian watercolours began in earnest, with ongoing Gallery staff able to complete half of the conservation work needed for this project. Additional funds from the Women's Art Group for the conservation of the watercolours and from a number of other conservation benefactors for the conservation of the original frames have made the completion of the remainder of this project possible.

The benefactor-sponsored Frames Traineeship, undertaken by Tom Langlands, in the making of historical reproduction frames is now complete. This traineeship was generously funded by two benefactors and has made a significant contribution to the Gallery's ability to plan for the eventual retirement of a senior staff member.

The Conservation Department was involved in a number of collaborative conservation research partnerships this year with the University of Sydney Vibrational Spectroscopy Core Facility; Grimwade Centre for Cultural Materials Conservation and University of Melbourne; Australian Synchrotron and Heide Museum of Modern Art; Australian National University and Australian Synchrotron; and Cracow University of Technology.

Conservation held a workshop and symposium in August 2015 on the Preservation of digital prints and contemporary colour photographs, presented by Martin Jürgens, conservator of photographs from the Rijksmuseum and author of The digital print, the primary reference book on the identification of digital prints. Attendees came from all over Australia and New Zealand to attend the workshop and the one-day symposium. The event was supported by the Australian Institute for the Conservation of Cultural Material and the Australian Decorative and Fine Arts Society.

The Conservation Department provided over 20 conservation tours for corporate clients, benefactors, student groups, Gallery Kids Festival 2015 programs, staff and professional colleagues and also provided regular 'Caring for the collection' training for Gallery staff and contractors. Conservation hosted five conservation interns and was the recipient of an FAIC Kress Fellowship in Objects Conservation from the Foundation of the American Institute for Conservation, funded by the Samuel H Kress Foundation.

THE NATIONAL ART ARCHIVE AND THE CAPON RESEARCH LIBRARY

The most significant event for the Gallery's Research Library and Archive this financial year was the launch of the National Art Archive on 12 November 2015. The Gallery has been Australia's leading collector of visual arts archives since its foundation in the 1870s. Current holdings include the personal papers of 230 artists, the business records of 50 commercial galleries and a large collection of artists' painting materials and related artefacts. The Biennale of Sydney archive adds a strong international focus to these holdings. The formal establishment of the National Art Archive recognises the depths of the Gallery's archival collections and marks a commitment to making them more widely available for research and learning.

Important donations of books and archives were received, including the personal archives of Peter Kingston, Colin Lanceley and Peter Upward, along with the business archives of the Blake Society and the Roslyn Oxley9 Gallery. Founding director of the National Gallery of Australia, James Mollison, began the gifting of his superb scholar's library. Along with these collections, 2000 books and 100 serial titles were added to the collections. These were processed and catalogued by staff, along with our devoted team of 14 volunteers. 8400 researchers used the library and archive in person during the year. Another 2000 researchers accessed the collections remotely through phone or web enquiries.

The appointment of Shari Lett as a dedicated archivist of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander collections was the first for an Australian public gallery. The funding of this position was made possible through the generosity of trustee Geoff Ainsworth.

The Edmund Capon Fellow for 2015 was Pitra Hutomo from the Indonesian Visual Arts Archive (IVAA) in Yogyakarta. She was hosted in the Research Library while researching the image projected in Australia through exhibitions and cultural exchanges of contemporary Indonesia.

PRINTS, DRAWINGS AND PHOTOGRAPHS STUDY ROOM

Due to building works in the Gallery, from January to June 2016 the Study Room's opening hours were restricted to Fridays only. Despite limited public access the Study Room enabled over 640 people to directly engage with the Gallery's collection of works on paper either by appointment to view art from storage or to study collection highlights displayed on the walls. The Study Room offers a supportive and intimate environment for the exploration of over 21,000 original works of art, and is utilised as an important resource by scholars, artists, students, museum and gallery professionals, along with interested members of the public.

The Study Room is recognised as a key feature of the Gallery experience for diverse groups, evidenced in repeat visits from universities, TAFE, colleges, community art centres, and primary and secondary schools. Interdepartmental gallery staff collaborations have resulted in the continued use of the Study Room as a resource for promoting awareness and access to the Gallery's collections by participating in the Djamu Indigenous Program, Community Access Program as well as Starting with Art at the House partnership between Sydney Opera House and the Gallery.

Throughout the year Study Room exhibitions highlighted works on paper from the permanent collection. Featured works included the newly acquired set of prints by William Hogarth, The four stages of cruelty 1751; a selection of stencils by French modernists; Australian watercolours by Lucy Culliton; and concluded with a display of etchings by Australian printmaker Elizabeth Rooney.

In addition to facilitating access to collections, Study Room staff completed the Asian works on paper inventory: staff sighted 1235 works, processed 164 new acquisitions, managed the preparation of 280 works for display within the Gallery, as well as 59 works for 17 loans to local, interstate and international venues.

All 110 works exhibited in the 2015 Archibald, Wynne and Sulman prizes were photographed for catalogue, media and web purposes. Additional video footage of the preparations for the exhibition and announcements was also generated for Gallery channel and multimedia purposes. Over 6100 high-resolution images of collection artworks were added to the digital asset management system. Over 31,000 images of events and activities were catalogued and added to the digital asset archive, consisting of images relating to exhibitions and programs around the Gallery.

Brett Whiteley: sculpture and ceramics

5 June – 6 December 2015

Brett's Whiteley used a diversity of materials – wood, bronze, plaster, ceramics, paint, brush and ink, fiberglass and found objects. Birds, animals and nudes inspired Whiteley to create a unique vision which continues to astound and delight. Many of the drawings, collages, studies for sculpture and ceramics were displayed here for the first time.

Other places (somewhere else)

11 December 2015 – 8 May 2016

Whiteley travelled extensively and recorded his experiences in charcoal, photography and paint – he created a visual diary of New York, Fiji, Tokyo, London and Tangier. This exhibition featured many of these works and included Whiteley's early response to Paris at the age of 20, to his last experiences of this beautiful city at 50.

Brett Whiteley: tributes

13 May – 13 November 2016

This exhibition celebrates the art of Brett Whiteley through three key themes: visual art, literature and music. The influences on Whiteley's art and life were many and varied, from writers and poets to musicians, photographers, playwrights and painters. Whiteley paid tribute to artists Francis Bacon, Henri Matisse, van Gogh, musician Bob Dylan and poet Arthur Rimbaud in prints, drawings and paintings as both subject and inspiration.

BRETT WHITELEY TRAVELLING ART SCHOLARSHIP 2015

14 Aug – 13 Dec 2015

Tom Polo, 30, from Smithfield in Western Sydney, NSW, won the 2015 Brett Whiteley Travelling Art Scholarship for his body of work, highlighted by his painting All she needs 2015. Begun in 1999, this scholarship for young Australian painters is now in its 17th year. Mrs Beryl Whiteley, the mother of Brett Whiteley, established the scholarship in 1999 and generously made funds available to continue this legacy. It is open annually to young Australian painters aged between 20 and 30 years. The winner is awarded $30,000 and a three-month residency at the Cité Internationale des Arts in Paris, which is administered by the Gallery, and three months to travel anywhere in Europe.

This year's judges were Australian painter Fiona Lowry (2014 Archibald Prize-winner) and Wayne Tunnicliffe, head curator, Australian art, at the Art Gallery of New South Wales. Seven finalists were selected from 80 entries. Polo has been a finalist on two previous occasions: 2012 (highly commended) and 2013 (finalist). The judges also awarded Jordan Richardson's work Dane holding Emily's tongue 2015 as highly commended. Richardson received $5000 from the Brett Whiteley Foundation.

TOURING PROGRAM

Between July 2015 and June 2016, the Gallery toured four exhibitions to major state institutions and regional galleries in NSW, Queensland and Victoria. Seen by over 134,000 visitors, these exhibitions were The photograph and Australia, John Kaldor Family Collection Artist Room #2 – Bill Viola, 2014 Archibald prize regional tour and 2015 Archibald prize regional tour.

There were many highlights from the touring exhibitions, particularly in the accompanying public programs and audience engagement opportunities at the venues. The extensive public programs connected with The photograph and Australia at Queensland Art Gallery | Gallery of Modern Art (QAGOMA) included an opening weekend celebration with a keynote illustrated lecture by exhibition curator Judy Annear, senior curator, photographs, at the Art Gallery of New South Wales. Annear also led a curators' conversation tour with Michael Hawker, associate curator, Australian art, QAGOMA. Artists Patrick Pound and Rowan McNaught presented at an 'in conversation' session about their installation, The compound lens project 2014–15. Hawker led a second curator's tour and the weekend ended with a 'Beyond the lens' contextual floor talk with Michael Aird, publication contributor and freelance curator, researcher and writer, focusing on some of the early Queensland works and the depiction of Aboriginal Australians.

The 2014 and 2015 Archibald prize regional tours were a great success, with regional communities across NSW enjoying the exhibition, participating in the People's Choice Award and Young Archie Competitions. Nigel Milsom, winner of the 2015 Archibald Prize, was guest speaker at Tweed Regional Gallery and Margaret Olley Arts Centre and Lake Macquarie City Art Gallery. Other artists participated throughout the tour with floor talks and workshops.

FORTHCOMING EXHIBITIONS IN 2016

Frida Kahlo and Diego Rivera: from the Jacques and Natasha Gelman Collection

25 June – 23 October 2016

This exhibition presents 33 artworks from the renowned collection of Jacques and Natasha Gelman, including outstanding self-portrait paintings and drawings by Frida Kahlo, and major examples of Diego Rivera's canvas paintings. Alongside these works are over 50 photographs by figures such as Edward Weston, Lola Alvarez Bravo and Guillermo Kahlo, Frida's father, which provide insights into the artists' worlds and their intriguing relationship.

Archibald, Wynne and Sulman prizes 2015

16 July – 9 October 2016

The Archibald, Wynne and Sulman prizes is an annual exhibition eagerly anticipated by artists and audiences alike.

The Archibald Prize, first awarded in 1921, is Australia's favourite art award, and one of its most prestigious. Awarded to the best portrait painting, it's a who's who of Australian culture – from politicians to celebrities, sporting heroes to artists.

The Wynne Prize is awarded to the best landscape painting of Australian scenery, or figure sculpture, while the Sulman Prize is given to the best subject painting, genre painting or mural project in oil, acrylic, watercolour or mixed media.

Each year, the trustees of the Gallery judge the Archibald and Wynne, and invite an artist to judge the Sulman; this year's judge was Judy Watson.

Close to home: Dobell Australian Drawing Biennial 2016

30 July – 11 December 2016

The second Dobell Australian Drawing Biennial brings together the drawings of Jumaadi, Maria Kontis, Richard Lewer, Noel McKenna, Catherine O'Donnell and Nyapanyapa Yunupingu. These artists have created works that have grown from memory and been nurtured by the imagination. Collectively they investigate the possibilities of the medium to express complex themes that resonate on both a personal and a shared level.

Yoshitoshi: one hundred aspects of the moon

20 August – 20 November 2016

For the first time, the Gallery will present from its own collection the full series of One hundred aspects of the moon by Tsukioka Yoshitoshi (1839–92). This remarkable series was published between 1885 and 1892 and is recognised as the artist's masterwork, designed in the last seven years of his life.

The exhibition showcases the impressive technical skill and imaginative designs that have secured Yoshitoshi's place in art history and as an originator of manga and anime. Each image is a moment in time and poetically draws from stories relating to the moon in Japanese and Chinese history, famous legends, literature and theatre as well as folklore. The characters of these stories are diverse, from stoic warriors and samurai to everyday townspeople, demons and courtesans, many expressing a reverence to the moon.

Beyond words: calligraphic traditions of Asia

27 August 2016 – 30 April 2017

Calligraphy, the art of beautiful handwriting, is considered the highest artistic achievement in many Asian cultures.

Drawn from the Gallery's collection and enriched with a significant loan from the Islamic Arts Museum Malaysia, this exhibition showcases diverse calligraphic traditions in both religious and secular contexts, across a range of mediums from the ancient to the contemporary. On display are treasures from the Chinese scholar's desk such as brushes, pots and holders as well as exquisite works on paper, textiles and ceramics.

The art of writing using brush and ink is a marker of cultivation and character for educated women and men in China, Korea and Japan. In the Islamic world, where writing the Arabic script is primarily associated with the Qur'an, the practice of calligraphy is seen as a way to express piety.

Two interactive contemporary works illuminate the place of calligraphy in art and society today. Xu Bing's Square Word Calligraphy Classroom 1994–96 replicates a classroom where instructions are provided for preparing ink, holding the brush and making brushstrokes; Persian for kids 2012 by Iranian-born artist Parastou Forouhar gives viewers the chance to practise calligraphy by using zoomorphic script to draw animals.

New matter: recent forms of photography

10 September 2016 – 12 February 2017

Drawn from the Gallery's collection, this exhibition features recent work by Australian and international photographers who expand the limits of photographic representation. These artists are preoccupied with the material properties of the photograph and challenge our tendency to treat a photographic object as a passive conduit that we look through, not at.

The selected works resist the category of the purely representational. They experiment with the abstraction of form and acknowledge illusion and artifice as inherent to the medium. Exposing fissures or gaps in the image that either camouflage the subject or render it illegible, they offer new ways of reading and interpreting photography itself.

The artists – most of whom are in the early stages of their careers – include Jacqueline Ball, Walead Beshty, Matthew Brandt, Zoë Croggon, Christopher Day, Charles Dennington, Cherine Fahd, Deb Mansfield, Todd McMillan, Luke Parker, Kate Robertson, James Tylor and Justine Varga.

Nude: art from the Tate collection

5 November 2016 – 5 February 2017

In a partnership between Tate, London and the Art Gallery of New South Wales, Nude: art from the Tate collection will present over 100 major representations of the nude, including paintings, sculptures, photographs and prints by renowned artists such as Pablo Picasso, Lucian Freud, Henri Matisse and Louise Bourgeois.

At the heart of the show lies the world's most famous image of erotic love, Auguste Rodin's sculpture The kiss 1901–04. Never before has this work from Tate's collection left Europe. Other notable works include Pierre Bonnard's The bath 1925, Picasso's Nude woman in a red armchair 1932 and Ron Mueck's Wild man 2005.

Each artist in the exhibition offers a different way of looking at the naked human body. Some look tenderly; some idealise it; some look anxiously or politically. Together they show how the nude in art has persisted yet changed, shifting shape and acquiring new meanings in the hands of successive generations, from the idealising painters of the Victorian era to the artist-provocateurs of our time.

Nude: art from the Tate collection is a spectacular tour through many major art movements, including romanticism, cubism, expressionism, realism, surrealism and feminism. It is also a story of beauty, truth, desire, vulnerability and human drama.

Art from Milingimbi: taking memories back

12 November 2016 – 29 January 2017

In the 1950s there was a strong artistic community working at Milingimbi, producing jewel-like works on barks as well as fine wooden sculptures and exquisite weavings. Binyinyuwuy, Lipundja and Djawa are three exceptional artists from Milingimbi whose works are highlights of the Gallery's Milingimbi collection. This exhibition will showcase bodies of work by these men, alongside many of their peers and the broader Milingimbi collection, highlighting the strength and diversity of practice from this small island in central Arnhem Land at that particular moment.

The image features a solid light orange background. In the upper-left quadrant, there are three overlapping circles. The top circle is a dark red color and contains the word "People" in white, bold, sans-serif font. Below it, two lighter, semi-transparent circles overlap each other and the dark red circle. The overall composition is minimalist and modern.

TRENDS IN THE DISTRIBUTION OF WORKFORCE DIVERSITY GROUPS

| Workforce diversity group | Benchmark/target | 2014 | 2015 | 2016 |
|---|------------------|------|------|------|
| Women | 100 | 115 | 113 | 110 |

Note 1: A Distribution Index of 100 indicates that the centre of the distribution of the workforce diversity group across salary levels is equivalent to that of other staff. Values less than 100 mean that the workforce diversity group tends to be more concentrated at lower salary levels than is the case for other staff. The more pronounced this tendency is, the lower the index will be. In some cases the index may be more than 100, indicating that the workforce diversity group is less concentrated at lower salary levels.

Note 2: The Distribution Index is not calculated where workforce diversity group or non-workforce diversity group numbers are less than 20.

EMPLOYEE REMUNERATION AND STAFF BENEFITS

The Crown Employees (Public Sector Salaries) Award July 2015 provided a 2.5% pay increase to Gallery staff with effect from 3 July 2015.

The Gallery continues to provide a range of staff benefits to employees. These include salary sacrifice for personal contributions to superannuation and salary packaging for purchase of motor vehicles, and staff scholarships.

Other staff benefits include staff discounts at the Gallery Shop, on Art Gallery Society membership, the restaurant and café. The Gallery has also negotiated arrangements for staff to access discounted parking at the Domain Car Park.

STAFF TRAINING

The Gallery is an active supporter of professional development of staff. Staff are supported through the provision of study leave and flexible working hours and work arrangements to enhance their academic qualifications.

Internal training focused on upgrading of Microsoft Office skills. Sixty staff undertook skills training for Word and Excel. Fifteen management staff undertook training aimed at skills to achieve rapid consensus. Twenty staff across the Gallery were trained in emergency response, including dealing with an active shooter incident.

All staff and volunteer briefings were provided covering Safety Management at the Gallery as well as information about the Gallery's revised Code of Ethics and Conduct.

EMPLOYEE ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

For many years the Gallery has offered employees a confidential counselling service, external to the Gallery. The counselling service is available to all staff and their immediate family and provides counselling on a range of issues including interpersonal relationships, financial planning, stress and critical incident debriefing. The current provider of counselling services to the Gallery is Optum.

WORK, HEALTH AND SAFETY

Number of work-related injuries resulting in worker's compensation claims: 7

Number of lost-time injuries: 5

Number of work-related illnesses: 0

Prosecution under the OH&S Act: 0

The Gallery's injury management process is effective in returning workers to pre-injury duties as quickly as possible. This is reflected in reduced time lost and the capacity of the Gallery to provide suitable duties and gradual return-to-work programs, minimising time lost. The Gallery actively implements injury management by maintaining contact with injured workers, treating doctors and insurers. Preventative measures such as flu injections are made available to all staff.

The Gallery's Work Health and Safety (WH&S) Committee is an internal advisory body, meeting on a quarterly basis. It undertakes workplace inspections and reviews procedures and practices and, where appropriate, makes recommendations to management for improvements to minimise WH&S workplace risks. Quarterly reports on the incidence of accidents and worker's compensation claims are reviewed by the Committee and the Trust's Audit and Risk Committee.

INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS

There were no industrial disputes during 2015–16.

WORKFORCE DIVERSITY

The Gallery continues to surpass the benchmark for the employment of women. At 64%, the Gallery maintained the same level as last financial year for the employment of women. This number still exceeds the public sector benchmark by 14%. The Gallery's executive team maintained the rate of 37% women and the leadership team at 61% women. This year 11.8% of the Gallery's employees identified as coming from a racial, ethnic or ethnic-religious minority group. A number of employees who speak community languages assist other staff and visitors, earning a Community Language Allowance. As at 30 June 2015 the Gallery had staff officially designated as able to offer assistance in Hindi, Polish, Italian, French, Mandarin and Indonesian. An annual calendar of significant religious and holy days was circulated to all supervisors to enable scheduling of employees' commitments to meet their religious obligations.

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders represent 1.7% of the Gallery's workforce, including curatorial, which represents an increase from last financial year of 0.6%. We continue to work on strategies for increasing the percentage further in 2016–17.

The image features a solid red background. In the upper right quadrant, there are two overlapping circles. The circle in the foreground is a darker shade of red, while the one behind it is a lighter shade. The word "Ideas" is written in white, bold, sans-serif font, centered within the overlapping area of these two circles. In the lower left quadrant, there is a third circle, which is a light pinkish-red color and is partially cut off by the left edge of the frame.

The People's Choice competition, which asks the viewing public to vote for their favourite entry in the Archibald Prize, was won by Bruno Jean Grasswill for his portrait of Michael Caton. Grasswill received a $3500 cash prize as did the Gallery visitor whose vote was drawn from all votes cast for the winning artist.

The Packing Room Prize gives the Gallery staff who receive the entries for the Archibald Prize the chance to vote for their favourite portrait. In 2015, the prize was awarded to Bruno Jean Grasswill for his portrait of Michael Caton, for which he received a $1500 cash prize.

WYNNE PRIZE

The prize of $50,000 for an Australian landscape or figure sculpture was awarded to Natasha Bieniek for her work Biophilia.

TRUSTEES' WATERCOLOUR PRIZE

Entries in the Wynne Prize are also eligible for the Trustees' Watercolour Prize. In 2015, the $2000 prize was awarded to Max Miller for his work 'The world of dew is only the only the world of dew and yet ... oh ... and yet ...' Kobayashi Issa (1763–1828).

JOHN & ELIZABETH NEWHAM PRING MEMORIAL PRIZE

SIR JOHN SULMAN PRIZE

The prize of $40,000 was judged by artist Lindy Lee and awarded to Jason Phu for his work I was at yum cha when in rolled the three severed heads of Buddha: Fear, Malice and Death.

YOUNG ARCHIES

Budding artists between the ages of 5 and 18 years were invited to submit a portrait for the Gallery's inaugural Young Archie competition, as part of our family-focused activities for the 2015 Archibald, Wynne and Sulman prizes exhibition. The portrait is to be of 'a person who is special to you – someone who is known to you and plays a significant role in your life'.

There are four age categories: 5–8, 9–12, 13–15 and 16–18 years. The competition was judged by artist Del Kathryn Barton, an Archibald Prize–winner in 2008 and 2013, and Victoria Collings, the Gallery's senior coordinator of education and family programs, based on merit and originality. There were 1284 entries received for the 2015 prize.

Each finalist receives an ANZ money box and 2015 Archibald prize catalogue. Each winner receives a $100 ANZ gift card, an art pack from Faber-Castell and a family pass to our major exhibition at the Gallery as well as an ANZ money box and Archibald catalogue.

The winner for the age category 5–8 was Daniel Harford.

The winner for the age category 9–12 was Marium El-Hajj.

The winner for the age category 13–15 was Ellie Arnott.

The winner for the age category 16–18 was Harriet Mitchell.

THE BULGARI ART AWARD

This award has been established to support contemporary Australian painting. Each year, the Gallery will identify a significant painting by a mid-career Australian artist to be acquired for the collection. The award, sponsored by Bulgari, consists of $50,000 for acquisition of the painting and a residency for the artist in Italy valued at $30,000. The total award of $80,000 makes it one of the most valuable art awards in Australia. The award is selected by the Art Gallery of NSW Trustees and the head curator of Australian art. The 2016 recipient is Jude Rae for her painting SL 359 2016.

DIGITAL ENGAGEMENT

ONLINE COLLECTION

After three and a half years of planning, developing and testing, a new enriched online collection was launched in July 2015. Pages on collection works now include a wealth of contextual information including video, audio, mapping, relevant shop product, links to artist profiles, an ability to share and collect online material into 'art sets' and more alongside the original curatorial data and image. This contextual information is designed to give visitors a sense of the person behind the art as well as the time and place it was created.

ARTIST PROFILES

Artist profiles were also launched alongside the new collection interface with 85 Indigenous artist profiles to be the first to go live; in many cases, these profiles provide the only content online about these important historical and contemporary artists. These were followed by a further 50 artist profiles from the Australian collection, including most of our most popular and searched for names. Many of the profiles feature rarely seen portraits sourced predominantly from the Gallery's archives.

EDUCATION WEBSITE

A new online education section of the website was launched in May 2016 to better represent the new programming focus of the Learning and Participation team, including a new focus on access and outreach. The online learning resources have been reimaged to give teachers access to the Gallery's rich multimedia resources, such as the new collection works and artist profile pages, the Gallery channel, art sets and tours, the INSIDEARTEXPRESS and the prizes online archives, and education-specific competitions and scholarships. This replaces a very long and out-of-date list of past education kits.

VIDEO ONLINE

Over 30 new videos were uploaded onto Gallery's YouTube and web channel this year, including a series of shorts produced in conjunction with the exhibitions Murruwagyu, The Greats, 2015 Archibald prize, Tang, When silence falls and the Biennale of Sydney. Other videos include a recording of international artists' Jennifer Allora and Guillermo Calzadilla's Chalk performance in Sydney, as well as a performance of Pedro Reyes' artworks from the series Disarm. We continue to collect artist interviews for our Australian artists' archive; the short Artist Nigel Milsom in his studio proved popular this year with over 4000 views. A short we produced last year in conjunction with the Pop to popism exhibition, A guide to pop art, was again the most popular short of the year, attracting 68,458 views.

PURE LAND – TANG IMMERSIVE

The exhibition Tang: treasures from the Silk Road capital opened in April 2015 and featured Pure Land: inside the Mogao Grottoes at Dunhuang, an immersive interactive installation of one of the UNESCO World Heritage listed Mogao Grottoes, known as the Caves of the Thousand Buddhas, now closed to public for conservation reasons. Pure Land was developed in collaboration with Professor Sarah Kenderdine (University of NSW), City University of Hong Kong and the Dunhuang Academy, China and was also the focus of a Vivid Ideas panel during the Vivid 2016 festival entitled 'Art and experiential design: how can exhibition design and immersive technologies help audiences engage with the past?'

CONVERSATIONS APP

The Conversations app was developed to accompany the exhibition Conversations: through the Asian collections and uses geolocation to deliver audio, text and rich imagery to visitors depending on where they are in the exhibition. The audio features the voice of curator Justin Paton and includes accessible content for hard of hearing and deaf audiences via Auslan videos. Sponsored by VisAsia.

GET CLOSER TO FRIDA

'Get closer to Frida' is a digital hub that was launched in June 2016 and offers access to stories about Frida Kahlo and Diego Rivera, their artworks, photos, video and special offers associated with the exhibition Frida Kahlo and Diego Rivera. Visitors will be encouraged to access this information while queuing and pre and post visit. Part of this project is an in-gallery digital installation of six of Frida's personal letters that gives visitors the opportunity to read translations.

ARCHIBALD PEOPLE'S CHOICE COMPETITION

For the first time, People's Choice competitions were enabled for each of our five touring exhibition partners to run in each venue alongside the touring Archibald exhibition. The competitions are run through a Gallery-built web platform that is locked down so that visitors can only complete their entry when leaving the exhibition having seen the works up close. There winners differed across regions: the Art Gallery of Ballarat and the Manning Regional Gallery's people's choice was a portrait of Abbe May by Angus MacDonald; New England Regional Art Museum and the Blue Mountains Cultural Centre's winner was Jason Benjamin's portrait of Paul Kelly; the Tweed River Art Gallery shared the same winner as the Art Gallery of New South Wales – Bruno Jean Grasswill's portrait of Michael Caton.

NEW PAYMENT GATEWAY

A new, more flexible online payment gateway was implemented to serve the Gallery's ecommerce channels including the online shop, prize entries and online donations. The new system (Braintree.com) has vastly improved reporting and testing capabilities and most importantly allows the Gallery to accept repeat payments, which is important for the future development of online donations and memberships.

CULTURAL INSTITUTIONS DIGITAL SURVEY

A survey, Digital infrastructure, resourcing and governance, was developed by the Gallery's Digital team and distributed to 70 cultural institutions of similar size across the world. There were 52 participating institutions, with many offering to share further information on similar planning in other institutions. The results of the survey were collated into a report that was then distributed to the participating institutions, giving a snapshot of digital activity around the world. This formed an integral part the research undertaken for the Gallery's Digital Strategy.

OVERALL VISITATION

Visitation to the Gallery's website (including our mobile site) for this year was 3,173,848 sessions (9% increase), 2,089,497 users (17% increase; however, we have changed the way we collect users after an audit on our metrics) and 11,208,178 page views (4% increase). The highest number of sessions for any one day was 49,290 on 9 July 2015 when the winners of the 2015 Archibald, Wynne and Sulman Prizes were announced.

This year, the most visited part of the site was the prizes database online showcasing the finalists and winners throughout the years of the Archibald, Wynne and Sulman Prizes and the Dobell Prize for Drawing (22%), followed by the collection online (21%), 'What's on', which includes the calendar of events, exhibitions and galleries (19%), education including Inside ARTEXPRESS (6%) and the Gallery Shop online (5%). The homepage received 6% of the traffic.

Eighty-three per cent of all online visitations are from Australia, with 74% of these from NSW. The percentage of website users accessing the Gallery's website via mobile devices (phone or tablet) reached 44% this year, making the mobile optimisation of all digital content more and more important.

The most popular artists (by profile page views rather than number of works) were Tracey Moffatt, Tom Roberts, Margaret Preston, Brett Whiteley, Grace Cossington-Smith, Jeffery Smart, Arthur Boyd, Sidney Nolan, James Gleeson and Margaret Olley. Visitation to the Gallery's pages on Google Art Project (which includes 464 works from the Gallery's collection) for this financial year was 73,434 sessions, 61,707 users and 158,518 page views.

MESSAGING ONLINE

The Gallery received 1466 messages from the general public through the online 'contact us' form during 2015–16. Of these, 36% were for general enquiries, followed by 13% for exhibitions, 11% for Archibald and other art prizes, 7% for events and programs, 7% for education and 6% for the collection; the other ten categories made up the final 20% combined. There were 104 website feedback submissions and 52 online reference enquiries to the Research Library.

SOCIAL MEDIA

Social networking channels continue to play an increasingly important role in Gallery marketing and communications. We are seeing high levels of interaction, sharing and communication with an extremely engaged audience. Instagram is our fastest growing channel, with our followers increasing by an impressive 213% over the last 12 months.

A key social media initiative this year was a special partnership with Instagram for the Gallery's very first 'Emptymeet' event. The event saw key Instagrammers invited to The Greats: masterpieces from the National Galleries of Scotland for an exclusive exhibition viewing and promotion across their influential Instagram accounts. Due to the success of the event – with over 20,000 interactions across Instagram – we have held similar events for other exhibitions including Frida Kahlo and Diego Rivera and will continue to incorporate this in future social media campaigns.

LEARNING AND PARTICIPATION

Learning and Participation programs at the Gallery provide vibrant and engaging art experiences for a diverse range of visitors to the Gallery, from first-time visitors to art enthusiasts and artists, educational groups to specialised community and access groups. We strive to develop and deliver welcoming and stimulating programs and resources which inspire curiosity, ignite imagination and provoke new ways of thinking about the world. This year, our education programs engaged over 91,514 students and teachers; public programs attracted 64,292 visitors; and family programs saw a record attendance of 108,319.

EXHIBITION AND COLLECTION PROGRAMS

The dynamic suite of public programs accompanying the summer blockbuster The Greats successfully engaged a diverse and high-attending audience. Events included an artist's recreation of a 19th-century oil painting, talks on select masterpieces within the exhibition, large-scale drawing workshops and a fun series of talks on the history of European art by comedian Hannah Gadsby. In partnership with the Australian Brandenburg Orchestra, classical music and art were brought together in a series of special performances inspired by the exhibition, drawing a crowd of over 2000 people over four nights. Another programming highlight this year was for the exhibition Tang: treasures from the Silk Road capital. A major symposium on the art and culture of Tang dynasty China featured local and international speakers, and the exhibition closed with a sold-out concert from internationally acclaimed, Grammy award-winning pipa player Wu Man, held in partnership with the University of Sydney's Confucius Institute.

Our monthly photography talks saw over 500 visitors engage with our photography exhibitions and featured speakers including Rosemary

Laing in conversation with academic Donna West Brett, assistant curator Isobel Parker Philip and artist William Yang. This year, we developed a new stream of programs based on the permanent collection, including Thursday lunchtime talks and popular Saturday drop-in drawing sessions. We also participated in several of Sydney's premier cultural festivals, holding three booked-out panel discussions in the Vivid Ideas festival on the future of galleries and museums, and commissioning a live painting project with artist Tom Polo for Spectrum Now.

With live music, talks, workshops and special events, our Art After Hours program offers audiences a way to experience art and culture in a social environment every Wednesday night. Some of this year's highlight celebrity speakers included writer Linda Jaivin, journalist Stan Grant, the Honourable Michael Kirby, musician Simon Tedeschi, writer Benjamin Law, and broadcaster Rachael Kohn. In a special musical performance, Stu Hunter and his band performed on musical instruments created from disused guns by artist Pedro Reyes from the exhibition When silence falls. Our Frida Kahlo-themed nights engaged hundreds of visitors with colourful paper flower-making workshops accompanied by the festive sounds of Victor Valdes' mariachi band, to accompany the exhibition Frida Kahlo and Diego Rivera.

FAMILY PROGRAMS

Family programming at the Gallery continued to increase its popularity and reach with audience numbers rising from over 70,000 last financial year to 108,319 this year. The number of hands-on, drop-in workshops offered throughout the year on Sundays and during school holidays increased, and dedicated exhibition activity spaces were created to allow families to engage more closely with both the Gallery's collection and visiting exhibitions. The specially designed family activity area in the Tang exhibition was highly successful, encouraging children to imagine they were Silk Road travellers and make puppets for a shadow light-box theatre. The family activity space in the Colourwheel exhibition attracted 66,485 visitors, and 17,721 visitors attended the Gallery Kids colour and creativity festival across the September/October 2015 two-week school holiday. Held in association with principal sponsor State Street, the festival brought to life the most colourful artworks on display through commissioned live performances, music, films, talks, drawing workshops, guided tours and art-making activities. Following the success of family programming this year, the development of art-making activities in exhibitions will be continued in 2016–17 in conjunction with Indonesian artist Eko Nugroho with the development of an artist-designed zine activity.

The Young Archie competition continued to grow in 2015–16 with 1284 entries from every state and territory in Australia. Archibald Prize-winning artist Del Kathryn Barton co-judged the competition, selecting the winners of the four different age categories. The 20 finalists and their families attended a special event in August to celebrate their success and for the announcement of the winners. The winner of the 16–18 year old category was invited to talk about the experience on ABC News Breakfast. The Gallery's senior coordinator of education programs, Victoria Collings, also spoke, talking to the value and importance of artistic expression and creativity in young people.

VISITOR EXPERIENCE

This year, the Visitor Experience team was created to facilitate a vibrant and engaging visitor experience for all audiences, supporting the Gallery's strategic objective to connect with existing and potential audiences more effectively. This newly created team was formed as part of an organisational restructure and encompasses all front-of-house operations including ticketing and information; it also integrates and supports the other teams across the Learning and Participation division. The hosts assist and support public, community engagement and education programs to deliver outstanding visitor experience.

The team relies on the ongoing support of the volunteer committees to deliver a wide range of support. The volunteer committees help to ensure that effective integrated communication reaches the visitor-facing volunteer guides and the Art Gallery Society Task Force, who support the children's programs, audience research and are on the concierge for the ticketed exhibitions.

VOLUNTEER GUIDES PROGRAM

The Gallery has approximately 150 volunteer guides who actively engage with visitors to our collections and exhibitions daily. The guides offer a range of tours for the general public, children and students, private groups and sponsors, and access groups as well as presenting tours in Cantonese, Mandarin, Korean and Japanese. This year, approximately 30,000 visitors attended a guided tour.

The Gallery supports the professional development of the guiding team through ongoing training. In October 2015, approximately 20 volunteer guides attended the four-day 20th biennial conference of the Association of Australian Gallery Guiding Organisations in Adelaide, entitled Engage with art, engage with audiences, engage with Adelaide. Participation in these conferences ensures professional development for the guiding cohort and the sharing of industry best-practice between cultural organisations.

COMMUNITY PROGRAMS

The Community Ambassador program continued throughout 2015–16 with the free Gallery Highlight guided tours and special exhibition tours of the 2015 Archibald prize, Go East, Matisse and the moderns, The Greats, Conversations through the Asian collections, Colourwheel, John Kaldor Family Collection, Our spirits lie in the water, See you at the barricades, When silence falls and Tang conducted in Cantonese, Japanese, Korean and Mandarin. The ambassadors also provided language-based content and publicity for local media and radio such as SBS Radio, Chinese, Japanese and Korean radio, Korean community magazine and Nichigo Press (a Japanese-language newspaper).

As part of the 2016 City of Sydney Chinese New Year Festival (6–21 February), the Gallery presented a mix of free events to engage and inspire visitors of all ages and abilities. Events included English, Mandarin and Cantonese tours of the collection, family art-making activities, and an artist panel discussion with 2016 festival curator Claudia Chan Shaw and artists Laurens Tan, Tianli Zu and Dongwang Fan, to discuss the inspiration and concepts behind each of their lantern-inspired installations.

A new position entitled Community Programs Producer was created in 2016 to prioritise engagement with Western Sydney and the local communities of Woolloomooloo and Potts Point. The producer develops specific programs, projects and collaborations that will engage with both the Woolloomooloo and Potts Point arts precinct and community, and Western Sydney-based communities, organisations and regional galleries. One of the inaugural programs was a gallery tour for parents from Condell Park High School in Western Sydney, a school involved in the Art Pathways program. For the first time in Gallery history, the tour, led by Sydney-based contemporary artist Marian Abboud, was conducted in both Arabic and English. The visit provided an opportunity for the families of students to engage with the Gallery, opening an intergenerational dialogue. The tour's success will bring more parents and families from the community to the Gallery and has sparked conversation with other schools in the area for a similar experience.

ABORIGINAL AND TORRES STRAIT ISLANDER ART PROGRAMS

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander art programs have two broad objectives: to engage local, interstate and international audiences with the Gallery's collections of Indigenous Australian art as well as to engage local, regional and remote Indigenous audiences with the collections, resources and services of the Gallery. This year, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander staff developed and implemented the 'Guiding with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Art at the Art Gallery of New South Wales' protocols based on the recently published 'Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Engagement Policy'. Ongoing professional development and training for Indigenous Gallery educators, artist educators and the Gallery's volunteer guides focused on an informed and nuanced engagement with contemporary and historical Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander art practice and our collections.

Digital engagement is essential to the engagement strategy, with the creation of five new art sets and nine films for the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Digital Media Archive. The exhibition Murruwaygu: following in the footsteps of our ancestors, curated by Wiradjuri/Kamilaroi artist Jonathan Jones, presented new research and scholarship relating to Aboriginal art history in the south-east of Australia. The exhibition was supported by a suite of programs including a free public one-day symposium, demonstrations and talks as part of an artist residency by artists Roy Kennedy and Andy Snelgar, and talks by significant Indigenous cultural figures including journalist Stan Grant, actor Jack Charles, Professor Joy Murphy Wandin AO, and artists Roy Kennedy, Andy Snelgar and Simon Penrose. A series of five short films featuring artists, historians, curators and other specialists were created to support and interpret the exhibition content and to ensure a high-quality digital legacy.

In partnership with the Arts Unit (Department of Education) and Wagga Wagga Art Gallery, the Home: Aboriginal art from NSW program continued our engagement with schools in Wiradjuri Country in Western NSW. The program expanded in 2016 under the name 'Gulbalanha' to include 17 schools in the Wagga Wagga region, and to Dubbo Regional Gallery, with seven schools in the Dubbo region. In July 2015, the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Art programs producer and the assistant curator of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander art travelled to Wagga Wagga Art Gallery to deliver a Teacher's Professional Learning Day in association with this next phase of the project. Twelve regional schools visited the Gallery on a virtual 'e-excursion' tour of the collection with curator Cara Pinchbeck, and artist Jonathan Jones.

Koori kwiz: the deadly art game show was hosted at Australian Catholic University (Strathfield) this year, offering 182 primary and tertiary students the opportunity to explore Indigenous art and culture in a fun, accessible way. Programs for NAIDOC Week 2015 included a series of 'Drop-in and make' art-making workshops, performances by Aboriginal artist Adam 'Blak Douglas' Hill, and a celebrity talk by the Honourable Michael Kirby on the role of art in protest and change at Art After Hours.

ACCESS PROGRAMS

The Gallery is committed to creating an inclusive environment through a range of Access programs designed to enhance the participation of diverse audiences of all ages and abilities including visitors with physical, sensory or intellectual disabilities and mental health conditions. This financial year, 3007 individuals and carer partners accessed specifically designed programs.

This year the Signing Art program was expanded, with deaf artists invited to present tours of temporary exhibitions to the deaf community. The Gallery has been widely praised by the deaf community and key access organisations, the Deaf Society and Accessible Arts, for its innovation and community consultation in Auslan program development.

The Art & Dementia program serviced 1047 individuals living with dementia, support staff and carers, twice as many as the 2014–15 year (581). The Access volunteer guides were instrumental in delivering this volume of programming. A research project with the University of Technology, Sydney on the impact of arts engagement for individuals with dementia was conducted in 2015–16; the final report is due for release late 2016.

The innovative creative arts 'Momentum' project was presented to the public during the Art After Hours program in celebration of International Day for People with a Disability, and included a panel discussion exploring the arts and disability. Momentum was a unique four-month collaboration between Sunnyfield Disability Services and the Gallery, funded by Arts NSW and Parramatta Council, and focused on 12 emerging artists with disability and/or acquired brain injury from Western Sydney.

In the past year, strong partnerships have developed with organisations such as Arts and Health Australia and the Arts Health Institute, with the Gallery hosting the International Arts & Health conference (November 2015) and the Music and Memory (March 2016) NSW health program. The Gallery highlighted diversity and inclusion through developing programs in association with Seniors Week (April 2016), Youth Week (April 2016), Dementia Awareness Month (September 2015), Deaf Awareness week and International Day for People with a Disability (3 December). The Gallery also participated in the inaugural Arts and Disability Expo, coordinated by Accessible Arts as a part of community consultation and direct promotion to the disability community.

The Starting with Art program, supported by Variety, the Children's Charity, engaged 510 students with disability this year. This artist-led experience engaged students with works of art, creating opportunities for self-expression and social interaction. Teachers were provided with links to art sets, and open-ended outcomes were encouraged in the program. Access-awareness training was delivered to new artist educators as part of staff training.

OUTREACH

Art Pathways provides creative learning opportunities for Year 5–12 students and teachers in Western Sydney. The program aims to create access to the Gallery collection and resources as well as connecting with the life of Western Sydney. Art Pathways includes Indigenous art education programs, low socio-economic status school communities programs and access programs for students with a disability. 2405 students and teachers have been involved in the program so far, moving towards 2600 by the end of 2016. Research and evaluation has begun by Western Sydney University to see the impact of this program on students and teachers.

REGIONAL ENGAGEMENT

The Gallery is committed to supporting the needs of communities in regional NSW. Each year, the Gallery hosts professional development days for educators and curators from regional galleries exhibiting the touring Archibald prize, aiming to share ideas and provide networking opportunities. Gallery staff share their expertise across a range of programming and resources that are produced annually. Discussions centre on guiding strategies, supporting education groups, using the online education material and public programming. Participants have the opportunity to experience various education programs, this year viewing the Study Morning program with over 200 school students.

In August 2015, the Access Programs Producer trained staff and volunteers at Mosman Regional Gallery on developing strategies and programs for individuals with dementia. This is part of a larger engagement plan to increase dementia programming in regional galleries.

SCHOOL PROGRAMS

An invigorated schools program was introduced to respond to changing educational practice, curriculum and community expectations. With 21st-century learning strategies in mind, a range of active and participatory programs for both the primary and secondary school sector were developed in consultation with schools, teachers and educational authorities. Led by a team of volunteer children's guides and artist educators, 91,514 students and teachers participated in a range of creative education programs, including artist experience workshops, study mornings, volunteer adventures, art box sessions, teacher salons and art lab professional learning programs. The annual ARTEXPRESS exhibition attracted 16,621 student and teacher visitors, 18% of the overall student and teacher attendance at the Gallery. This year, exhibiting students led lectures to inspire emerging senior visual arts students.

Teachers' professional learning continued to be a priority, with high demand for a range of quality programs across primary, secondary and tertiary endorsed by the Board of Studies, Teaching and Educational Standards NSW (BOSTES). New programs such as teacher salons (for primary and secondary teachers) and art labs (primary teachers) offered one free registration to reduce the financial pressure on school budgets. This initiative resulted in capacity attendance at most events, with excellent feedback on the quality of the program and increased school bookings as a result. The 2016 Koori Art Teachers' Day also reached capacity, attracting a record 70 primary and secondary public school teachers to the Gallery for an innovative professional learning program in partnership with the Department of Education. The rich program of talks and workshops featured presentations from well-known Indigenous artists, curators and educators. Due to the program's success, a repeat of the program was scheduled to meet the demand.

TERTIARY PROGRAMS

The Gallery provides facilitated and independent visits for tertiary students from a range of disciplines, especially those in art history, studio practice and museum studies. This financial year 6494 students visited the Gallery as part of their course work.

Internships are an important component of student and early-career professional development. This year, the Gallery placed 22 interns in departments including conservation, curatorial, learning and participation, registration, marketing, research library, and business development.

Our annual Sydney Students Speak program invites tertiary students from Sydney's art schools and universities to present a public talk on an artwork of their choice. The program provides invaluable experience and training for a career in the arts. The eight students selected for this year's program discussed different abstract or contemporary works in the collection.

The Gallery also awards several scholarships and prizes to art students and artists. This year's recipients were:

Robert Le Gay Brereton Memorial Prize: Yvonne East

Elioth Gruner Prize: Hannah Pembroke

Basil and Muriel Hooper Scholarship: Jannette Deng

Dyason Bequest: Jennifer Hou and Simon Wilson

The 2016 recipients of the Studios in Paris residences at the Cité Internationale des Arts were:

Eva Breuer Travelling Art Scholarship: Elena Papanikolakis (Denise Hickey Memorial Studio)

Moya Dyring Memorial Studio: Anita Holtsclaw, Elena Betros, Chris Dolman, Sadie Chandler, Lynne Barwick and Madeleine Preston

Denise Hickey Memorial Studio: Anna Theresa McMahon and Kevin Platt

FILM PROGRAM

The film program presents features, documentaries and experimental film in conjunction with major exhibitions at the Gallery. Encompassing the history of cinema, the program specialises in historically significant films which are screened using prints accessed from public and private archives worldwide.

From 17 June – 19 July 2015, in conjunction with the exhibition Go East, we screened a series of provocative cinema drawn from some of the most dynamic film industries in the world: Japan, Vietnam, Singapore, South Korea, Hong Kong and China. The Taking flight film series included Mother (director Bong Joon-ho, 2009), Election (director Johnnie To, 2005), Departures (director Yōjirō Takita, 2008) and Be with me (director Eric Khoo, 2005) and Oldboy (director Park Chan-wook, 2003).

From 5 August – 30 September 2015 we presented a comprehensive collection of features and documentaries exploring cinema's long engagement with social struggle and revolutionary culture. The Wild in the streets film series, in conjunction with the exhibition See you at the barricades, included some of the most powerful films ever made about political and humanitarian struggle. Films included Attica (director Cinda Firestone, 1973), The patriot game (director Arthur Mac Caig, 1979), The 17th parallel (director Joris Ivens and Marceline Loidan Ivens, 1968), If ... (director Lindsay Anderson, 1968), Paradise now (director Hany Abu-Assad, 2005) and Town bloody hall (director, DA Pennebaker and Chris Hegedus, 1979). This series was particularly popular with the under-35s.

From 3 October – 25 October 2015, in conjunction with The Japan Foundation, we presented a retrospective of the work of Kon Ichikawa. With an oeuvre ranging from war films to family dramas, Ichikawa is one of Japan's most significant directors. One of the highlights was presenting a new 35mm print of his celebrated Tokyo Olympiad (1965) – considered to be one of the finest documentaries ever made.

In conjunction with The Greats: masterpieces from the National Galleries of Scotland, a series of European cinema classics was screened from 11 November 2015 – 7 February 2016. Featuring historical dramas, literary adaptations and biographies, the series included the work of celebrated directors such as Ingmar Bergman, Pier Paolo Pasolini, Jean Cocteau, Jean Renoir, Andrei Tarkovsky, Roman Polanski and Werner Herzog.

In conjunction with the Sydney Film Festival, the Gallery hosted a major retrospective of the work of American film director Martin Scorsese. Presented by David Stratton, the retrospective included Taxi driver (1976), King of comedy (1983), Raging bull (1980) and Goodfellas (1990) among others. Most sessions sold out.

Screening in parallel with the 20th Biennale of Sydney, the Putting on a show film series explored the transformative power of theatrical performance to create illusion, alter perception and re-invent the everyday. Ranging from cinéma-vérité documentary to Hollywood musicals, highlights included Cabaret (director Bob Fosse, 1972), Santa sangre (director Alejandro Jodorowsky, 1989), The harder they come (director Perry Henzell, 1973) and Latcho drom (director Tony Gatlif, 1993).

Offering a rare opportunity to experience the original cinematic scope and intention of filmmakers, the gallery audience took advantage of this unique opportunity to see films projected from original 16mm and 35mm prints. Throughout the year the film program presented a total of 82 features, documentaries and shorts with 25,109 people attending – an average of 210 people per screening session. The overall attendance was lower than previous years due to an 11-week break when no films were screened.

The image features a solid light-orange background. In the upper-middle section, there are three overlapping circles. The top circle is a darker shade of red-orange and contains the word "Partnerships" in white, bold, sans-serif font. Below it, two lighter, peach-colored circles overlap each other and the top circle. A fourth, even lighter circle is partially visible at the bottom right edge of the frame.

Partnerships

CORPORATE PARTNERS

The Gallery is able to present high-calibre exhibitions, programs and initiatives due to the strong support of its family of sponsors and partners. These organisations share the Gallery's commitment to culture and are a vital part of our vision for the future.

We gratefully acknowledge the support of all our sponsors and partners, who enabled us to raise $3.7 million through sponsorship in 2015–16.

Sponsorship retention remained high during the year thanks to the loyalty of our corporate partners and the inclusion of several multi-year sponsorship agreements, ensuring a greater degree of continuity and stability for the Gallery.

This year was the sixth year of the Sydney International Art Series – an ongoing partnership to bring the world's most outstanding exhibitions to Australia. We acknowledge the support received from the NSW Government through Destination NSW.

We would like to make special mention of our leadership partners ANZ and EY whose significant support enables us to present inspiring exhibitions such as the Archibald prize and The Greats: masterpieces from the National Galleries of Scotland.

We welcome and thank our new partners: Aqualand, for their groundbreaking support of Tang; Paspaley Pearls, attached to our Next Generation cultivation program, Atelier; Bailey Gifford with their major partnership of The Greats; and Champagne Taittinger and McWilliam's Wines.

Our presenting sponsors: Herbert Smith Freehills, our legal partner; J.P. Morgan for its ongoing support of the Brett Whiteley Studio; Macquarie for its commitment to the Australian Galleries; and UBS for their continued relationship with our Contemporary Galleries.

In addition, we thank our generous and loyal supporters: City of Sydney, Fairfax Media, JCDecaux, Porter's Original Paints, official hotel partner Sofitel Sydney Wentworth; and Variety, the Children's Charity.

The Gallery also receives substantial support from members of the President's Council and VisAsia Council. The funds raised by these bodies sustain many of the Gallery's programs, particularly the Exhibitions program. Council members also provide a vital source of business expertise and advice and we are extremely grateful for their enthusiastic and loyal support of the Gallery.

Partnership with the Gallery provides opportunities for the corporate community to creatively build their brand identity and to engage with their clients and employees in a style that sets them apart from their competitors. Our position as a national icon, staging world-class exhibitions and cultural events, allows us to create true, valuable and lasting partnerships.

With an exciting program of upcoming exhibitions, community and education initiatives, and strategically tailored partnerships, there has never been a better time to be involved with the Gallery.

INDIVIDUAL GIVING

ART GALLERY OF NSW FOUNDATION

The Art Gallery of NSW Foundation continues to raise funds to support the Gallery's acquisition program. Its policy is to invest its capital and use the income to purchase works of art for the Gallery's permanent collection.

The Foundation has over $52 million in funds under investment. With the income from these investments the Foundation has contributed over $38 million to acquire 36 works for the collection since 1984. The majority of these works were funded exclusively by the Foundation; however, in recent years, with the price of the major Gallery acquisitions being in the many millions, funding is often a combination of Foundation and other sources, such as bequest funds and targeted fundraising.

The most recent acquisition to which the Foundation was the sole contributor is Yasumasa Morimura's 2013 series Las meninas reborn in the night. As this is the first acquisition made since the Foundation received a major bequest from John Fairlie Cuninghame, Cuninghame's name has been listed alongside all references to the work, including the wall label and online listing, in recognition.

The Foundation publishes its own biannual newsletter, containing details of recent acquisitions, arts-based activities and events, a listing of new members and a financial summary. A copy of the Foundation's financial reports is also available on the Gallery's website: <http://www.artgallery.nsw.gov.au/about-us/corporate-information/annual-reports/foundation/>

COLLECTION BENEFACTORS AND OTHER SUPPORT GROUPS

Many departments within the Gallery have their own support group to help raise funds either for their collection or, in the case of the Research Library and Archive, Conservation, and Learning and Participation departments, for special projects. Members of all groups who pledge a minimum commitment of $1800 per year for four years are deemed to be members of the Foundation and are entitled to have their names listed on the Foundation's honour board for the duration of their support or as otherwise agreed. The minimum annual commitment was increased to $1800 from 1 July 2015; $300 of this annual donation is directed to the Foundation's endowment fund, with the balance directed as the donor chooses – from either one of the acquisition or resource groups, or the endowment fund.

Examples of works acquired in whole or in part with collection benefactor groups' funds last year include:

Aboriginal Collection Benefactors (ACB) – Fred Grant, Kulpitjara 2014; Brook Andrew, Possessed III and IV 2015

Contemporary Collection Benefactors (CCB) – Richard Tipping, Hold up ahead 1983 2004, Wrong day 2012 2015 and Caution – there is no avant-garde 1993 2012

Photography Collection Benefactors (PCB) – Pat Brassington, The branching 2015

Australian Prints Drawings & Watercolours (PDW) – Sydney Ure Smith, Top of King Street 1915 and The building of HMAS Adelaide (The bows) 1918

BEQUESTS

The Gallery's acquisition programs last year were again given considerable support through bequest funds, most notably from the estates of John Fairlie Cuninghame, Stephen Watson and Dr Janet Carr. The Cuninghame bequest of over $16 million is the largest bequest ever received by the Foundation, and the Watson bequest of over $6.5 million is the second largest bequest ever received by the Foundation.

RECOGNITION

Donors of both works of art and cash, and supporters who have pledged a bequest to the Gallery or to the Foundation, are in most instances offered acknowledgment through membership of the Foundation and an invitation to have their names included on the Foundation's honour board in a category and for a length of time commensurate with their gift. They are also invited to Foundation events.

NEW BEQUESTS

The Trust received one new bequest this financial year from Lawrence Hinchliffe, 'to acquire a maritime-themed Australian or European painting'.

The major bequests this year were left to the Art Gallery of NSW Foundation – see 'Individual Giving'.

ART GALLERY SOCIETY OF NSW

The Art Gallery Society of NSW was established in 1953 and is a public company limited by guarantee. Its purpose is to provide a range of services and programs to its 27,000 members and to support the Gallery through financial assistance for acquisitions, programs and exhibitions – opportunities to enhance the experience of the Gallery for our members and the public.

In 2015–16 financial contributions to works of art included Martin Lewis's Stoops in the snow 1930 and John Russell's In the afternoon 1891. The Society's Dagmar Halas Bequest provided funds for the purchase of Hilda Rix Nicholas's Through the gum trees, Toongabbie c1920 and Grace Cossington Smith's Arums growing 1926.

Once again the Society supported the Art After Hours program with a donation of $240,000. This popular evening continues to be extremely successful for both members and the public. The Society provided $30,000 to Learning and Participation and $12,000 to the Staff Development Scholarship, which was awarded to Kuldeep Duhan, head of security and Gallery services.

The Task Force volunteers continue to provide excellent support for Society programs as well as to the public.

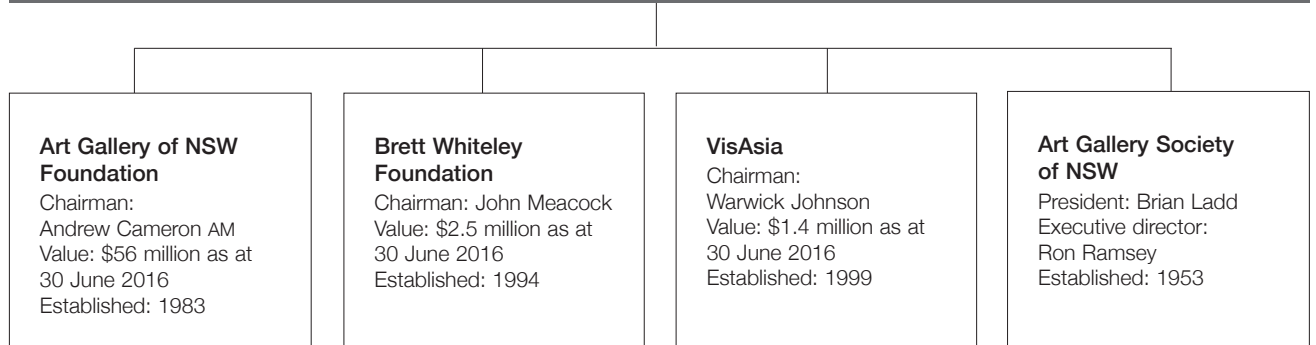

Society programs were well attended with 45,555 people attending 446 events. The 2016 Art Appreciation lecture series was fully subscribed and the theme of 'Collections and collectors' was found to be a rich source for content. Classes for children were extremely popular, with 66 Kids Club workshops for 5–8 year olds and 55 Art Club sessions for 9–12 year olds taking place. 1650 children attended and the average attendance rate was 99% for Kids Club and 75% for Art Club.

International tours continue to be popular, however, some destinations were reconsidered due to security concerns. There were 14 tours which included two to Eastern Europe, one to the Caucasus, five to Europe, one to the Middle East, three to Asia and two to the United States.

Les Moseley resigned as Society president in December and Brian Ladd, vice president, was elected president in the new year. Executive director Judith White retired in December and Ron Ramsey commenced in the position in February.

RISK MANAGEMENT

Risk management is essential to good corporate governance. The Gallery is committed to a risk-management approach when implementing activities under our corporate plan's seven key strategic areas. External risks, their indicators and the management strategies that control them are part of the Gallery's strategic management processes. Internal risks are addressed through policies, procedures and internal controls.

The Gallery's strategic risks include: strategic financial management; remaining competitive; reputation and impact; Sydney Modern; corporate strategy; government relationships; and stakeholder management.

The operational risks are: corporate governance; damage, loss or theft of art work; security management; business continuity/disaster recovery; information security management; contract and procurement management; performance management and succession planning; operational financial management; intellectual property; work health and safety; legislative compliance; and management of hazardous substances.

The Gallery's risk-management framework is managed in accordance with the NSW Government's Internal Audit and Risk Management Policy (Treasury Policy Paper: TPP 15-03). The mandatory annual attestation certification is included below.

The Audit and Risk Sub-Committee confirmed the setting of the Gallery's internal audit program and risk profile for 2015-16 and regularly reviewed work health and safety quarterly reports.

Work undertaken in policy and procedure areas included reviews of the Art Acquisition Policy, Exhibition Development Policy, Incoming Loans Policy, Outgoing Loans Policy, Provenance and Due Diligence Research Policy, Code of Ethics and Conduct Policy, Art Acquisition Policy, Safety Management Policy, Audit and Risk Committee Charter and the Internal Audit Charter. The committee meets each year with the senior managers of the external and internal audit team to discuss findings from their review of statutory accounts and other audited areas.

INTERNAL AUDITS 2015/16

There were three internal audit reviews completed by Deloitte during the year:

GIFTS AND BENEFITS AUDIT

The objective of the audit was to evaluate the effectiveness of managing gifts, benefits and hospitality within the Sponsorship and Philanthropy teams.

BUILDING SERVICES AND SYDNEY MODERN PROJECTS PROCUREMENTS INTERNAL AUDIT

The objective of the audit was to evaluate the design and operating effectiveness of the key controls established to mitigate specific risks, associated with procurements undertaken by the Building Services and Sydney Modern Project teams.

DIGITAL INFORMATION SECURITY POLICY INTERNAL AUDIT

The objective of the audit was to evaluate the activities the Gallery has undertaken to meet the requirements of the DISP and highlight any identified potential gaps in meeting the requirements.

Recommendations from the audits are implemented by management on an agreed timeframe, as resources allow. The Audit and Risk Sub-Committee review and monitor implementation of internal audit review findings.

INSURANCE

As a NSW statutory authority, the Gallery's insurable risks are covered under the Treasury Managed Fund (TMF), the NSW Government self-insurance scheme.

POLICY DEVELOPMENT

During the year, the Gallery continued to revise and refresh key policies including the corruption prevention policy and the protected disclosures policy as outlined under 'Risk management'.

OTHER GALLERY ENTITIES

The Gallery is responsible for providing administrative support to three other entities, namely the Art Gallery of NSW Foundation, the Brett Whiteley Foundation and VisAsia. Each of these entities has a separate legal structure established by a trust deed or incorporated with a memorandum and articles of association. Each has a board of trustees/directors, as determined by its enabling legislation. The board meetings are generally held on a quarterly basis. The Art Gallery of NSW Foundation also has a Finance Sub-Committee which monitors the funds invested. The support provided by the Gallery includes management, finance, corporate secretariat and general administrative services.

CUSTOMER SERVICE DELIVERY

In accordance with our pledge of service, visitors to the Gallery are invited to leave praise, criticisms and suggestions at the information desk via the Visitor Response Register. In 2015-16, 665 comments were received in writing and via email. Overall, there were 232 positive comments, 343 negative comments and 90 suggestions. Comments are responded to by reception desk officers and referred to a relevant senior staff member for their reference or action, as appropriate.

The majority of positive comments received in 2015-16 related to public programs and how enjoyable and informative the guided tours of exhibitions were. This is testament to the Gallery's commitment to providing an enriching visitor experience. The Greats: masterpieces from the National Galleries of Scotland exhibition also received a large number of positive comments, with one visitor remarking, 'One of the most important and historical exhibitions to come to Australian shores' and another: 'I was in awe of many works and still find myself reflecting on the experience. Thanks for the opportunity to catch a train for three hours each way and see a world-class collection.'

Most of the complaints related to visitors disagreeing with the choice of works included in the Archibald, Wynne and Sulman prizes, which demonstrates an ongoing interest in this perennially engaging exhibition.

Other areas of concern included some visitors wanting to see alternative menu options and design at the Gallery café.

INTERNAL AUDIT AND RISK-MANAGEMENT ATTESTATION FOR THE 2015–16 FINANCIAL YEAR FOR THE ART GALLERY OF NEW SOUTH WALES

BUILDING MANAGEMENT

BUILDING UPGRADE

Through ongoing generous NSW Government support, the Gallery continues to upgrade and refurbish its building in line with other prominent state institutions and government requirements. In 2015–16 a number of building upgrades were implemented:

- The Entrance Court, Court 1, was fully refurbished including new LED energy-saving exhibition lighting, a new three-circuit Dali lighting track and retrofitted house lights with new energy-saving LED lights. All walls were re-lined and all the air-conditioning ductwork was replaced. All fire dampers were upgraded to comply with the current code, as was new acoustic panelling installed above the ceiling. All electrical cabling was upgraded and all smoke detectors, EWIS speakers and detectors plus their cabling were replaced.
- The section of the Conservation laboratories originally built in 1972, the Captain Cook wing, was refurbished with new energy-saving LED lighting, ductwork replacements, new electrical cabling, an upgraded skylight to ensure better daylighting for conservation work requiring daylight, an upgrade to the fire damper in the ductwork and replacement smoke detectors and wiring.
- The previously very congested and siloed administration, curatorial and executive office area is in the process of being reconfigured and refurbished to provide a more open plan and efficient office environment, including more meeting spaces, break-out discussion facilities and enhanced staff amenities. At the time of writing the work was 75% complete, with completion planned for October 2016. The office reconfiguration will ensure that the vast majority of staff will have direct access to daylight and views. The open-plan configuration is intended to facilitate greater levels of communication and collaboration among staff. Energy-saving LED lighting has been introduced and the air-conditioning ductwork replaced.

All fire dampers were upgraded to comply with the current code, as was new acoustic panelling installed above the ceiling. All electrical cabling was upgraded and all smoke detectors, EWIS speakers and detectors plus their cabling were replaced. During the refurbishment the staff have been generously housed in a vacant office area in the Mitchell Library wing of the State Library of NSW. This has ensured staff have readily stayed in contact with the Gallery via a short walk across The Domain park and access to the Gallery's server and phone system has been maintained seamlessly via a direct wireless link to the roof of the Gallery building.

- The floor slab of the heritage Vernon wing below the entrance portico, cloak and vestibule areas has been refurbished and reinforced, with the original cast iron beams rust-treated and additional steel supports installed. These works ensure that the Vernon wing floor will remain structurally sound for another 100 years and be able to support maintenance vehicles as well as the many thousands of visitors entering through the building.
- The Gallery's critical air-conditioning system has received a major upgrade. Two of the three chillers had reached the end of their life and have been replaced with two chillers that are considerably more energy efficient, use less water and are quieter. As part of this chiller replacement project the four cooling towers have been reconfigured to be in parallel, with an increased efficiency in power and water usage. In addition, variable speed drives were added to the numerous water pumps and the three chillers, ensuring the power consumption is maintained at optimum efficiency. The project is currently in the last stages of being completed.

- The Café at the Gallery was reconfigured and refurbished in partnership with the operator, Morsul. The Café at the Gallery can now seat many more patrons and is able to provide an enhanced food and beverage offering.

BUILDING MAINTENANCE

The maintenance of all three buildings owned by the Gallery – the Gallery Domain building, the off-site Collection Store and the Brett Whiteley Studio – continued in 2015–16 to ensure the buildings remained regulation and code compliant, as well as ensuring the buildings continued to operate within the strict environmental standards necessary to protect the collections and meet artwork loan requirements.

ENERGY MANAGEMENT

During 2015–16, parts of the Gallery were shut down for extended periods due to upgrades, so it is difficult to obtain an accurate assessment of how the Gallery is performing from an energy management perspective. However, all upgrades involve initiatives which will increase efficiencies in energy consumption and management, in particular the chiller upgrade project. The forecast decrease in energy consumption is between 12% and 20%, which should start to be realised over 2016–17.

Our computer network has been configured to automatically switch off any computers left on by employees at 9.30pm every night, potentially saving hours of unproductive wasted electricity usage. The lights in the fire stairs have been replaced with automatically dimming LED lights, ensuring minimal power usage when the stairs are not in use.

Over the last year sophisticated power consumption metres were added to the key switchboards throughout the Gallery, enabling more detailed collection of usage data. Electricity usage is monitored very closely to achieve minimum consumption while maintaining international museum standards for temperature and humidity.

ELECTRICITY

Our electricity usage currently comprises a 6% green energy component. The average daily electricity consumption at our Domain site in 2015–16 was 21,268 kilowatt-hours.

GAS

The average daily consumption of gas in 2015/16 was 111 gigajoules.

WATER

Through the Smart Green Business initiative by the City of Sydney in conjunction with Sydney Water, the Gallery has fitted flow regulators to every tap in the Gallery building to control the level of water usage. The chiller upgrade project will enable a more efficient use of water in the air-conditioning system and a reduction is forecast for 2016–17.

The average daily water usage in 2015–16 was 99.8 kilolitres.

MOTOR VEHICLE FLEET

The Gallery's permanent small fleet of seven motor vehicles includes a sedan and a van that run on E10 petrol, and a utility truck, a two-tonne truck and a 4.5-tonne truck that use diesel. The Gallery's wagon is a Prius Hybrid vehicle, which is compliant with the NSW Government policy that all departments are required to meet the vehicle fleet target of 5% of their passenger fleet being hybrid, plug-in hybrid electric or electric vehicles by December 2015.

Acquisition and maintenance of the motor vehicle fleet is undertaken in accordance with the NSW Government fleet management policy, including the purchasing of fuel-efficient cars.

The Gallery's motor vehicle procedures provide guidelines for environmentally sound driving. All employees driving our fleet vehicles are directed to use E10 unleaded petrol when refuelling, where applicable.

WASTE REDUCTION

With the implementation of a new CRM system, the Gallery has moved to email invites for the majority of Gallery events and other correspondence. This has resulted in a significant reduction in paper consumption.

The main Gallery printers/photocopiers are set to default to double-sided black and white printing. The printers also function as scanners and staff are increasingly scanning documents, such as plans and contracts, rather than photocopying them and sending documents via the post office.

The development of the Gallery's intranet to replace previously paper-based systems continued in 2015–16. The 'Log a job' feature allows staff to book work by, or report problems to, our Building Services, Graphics, IT, Photographic Studio, Security and AV Services departments. The information available in the intranet's policy and procedures section was increased again during the year, giving staff easy online access to information relevant to their work.

The Gallery continued to use rechargeable batteries and recycle used batteries.

The Gallery will upgrade TRIM to increase licenses and continue to roll out the electronic documents management system to more users, which will decrease the use for paper-based records.

RESOURCE RECOVERY INITIATIVES

A designated recycling mini-skip is located on the loading dock for recycling all paper products, including flattened cardboard boxes. Every workstation is issued with a recycling bin, which is collected regularly by the cleaners.

Wherever possible, construction and display materials are reused for exhibitions. All excess steel, wire and workshop and building materials are sent to an external recycler. The Conservation Department recycles its paper and cardboard off-cuts internally.

Used toner cartridges, drums and waste collectors were sent for recycling, with 89 kilograms being diverted from landfill in 2015–16.

The Research Library and Gallery Shop continue to reuse cardboard boxes for packaging interlibrary loans and filling visitor and ecommerce merchandise orders. All food and beverage services are handled by our new contract caterer, Morsul, which ensures that all glass bottles from the food outlets and functions are appropriately recycled.

The IT Department participates in the SORT Recycling program (sort.org.au), a whole-of-government initiative which enables the donation of redundant computers to not-for-profit organisations and disadvantaged individuals.

FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE

The Gallery's financial position in 2015–16 improved significantly over the financial position in 2014–15. The Gallery was able to improve its financial position this financial year by curtailing discretionary costs, despite the impact of government efficiency dividend measures, and by increasing non-government revenue. During the financial year, general visitation to the Gallery increased over the previous financial year. The main drivers for the increase in visitation were a successful exhibition program; creative use of the Gallery's art collection in its various galleries in conjunction with a range of public programs; the ongoing success of the Art After Hours program on Wednesday nights; a popular lecture program; other member activities; excellent food options at the Gallery café and CHISWICK at the Gallery restaurant; high use of the Gallery's venues for functions and events; and sales in the Gallery Shop.

In terms of revenue, exhibition ticket sales increased significantly in 2015–16. Venue hire, catering revenue and shop revenue increased by 18% over the previous year. Revenue from exhibition ticket sales increased by 18%. The Gallery continues to attract a high level of donations of art works in kind ($6.2 million) and cash donations for the acquisition of art ($7.6 million) from benefactors. Cash sponsorship revenue was also higher than in the previous year.

In terms of costs, employee costs have increased mainly due to the compulsory pay increase to all staff and a one-off redundancy cost funded by Treasury. Fixed and variable costs were less than the previous year due to control measures implemented during the year.

The overall Net Result for the year was $26 million, as reported in the Gallery's Statement of Comprehensive Income (SOC), which is prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards. This result includes non-operating specific purpose funds such as capital grants from government, art works donated and cash and non-cash donations. These funds have already been expensed, either to acquire assets, such as works of art or on specific capital projects, but the expense is recorded in the Statement of Financial Position (Balance Sheet) and not in the SOCI. Therefore, even though these revenue items are included in arriving at the net result in accordance with accounting standards, the funds are not available for operating purposes. The Gallery's underlying operating result in 2015–16 was a surplus of $412,000.

LOOKING FORWARD

The Gallery has made strategic capital investments to curtail operating costs and increase commercial revenue in 2016–17 and forward years. There is a growing demand for the hiring of the Gallery's venues for functions and events. The Gallery continues its successful partnership with Aria Catering, enhancement of the café and the revitalisation of the product range in the Gallery Shop. A popular exhibition program in the 2016–17 financial year has already seen a significant increase in visitor numbers to the Gallery in July and August 2016, and therefore revenue in 2016–17 is expected to be higher than in 2015–16.

To Members of the New South Wales Parliament

Opinion

I have audited the accompanying financial statements of the Art Gallery of New South Wales Trust (the Trust), which comprise the statements of financial position as at 30 June 2016, the statements of comprehensive income, statements of changes in equity and statements of cash flows for the year then ended, notes comprising a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information and the Trustees' declaration of the Trust and the consolidated entity. The consolidated entity comprises the Trust and the entities it controlled at the year's end or from time to time during the year.

In my opinion, the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Trust and the consolidated entity as at 30 June 2016, and of their financial performance and cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards
- are in accordance with section 41B of the Public Finance and Audit Act 1983 (PF&A Act) and the Public Finance and Audit Regulation 2015
- have been prepared in accordance with Division 60 of the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012 and Division 60 of the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Regulation 2013.

My opinion should be read in conjunction with the rest of this report.

Basis for Opinion

I conducted my audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. My responsibilities under those standards are further described in the 'Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements' section of my report.'

I am independent of the Trust and the consolidated entity in accordance with the auditor independence requirements of:

- Australian Auditing Standards
- ethical requirements of the Accounting Professional and Ethical Standards Board's APES 110 'Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants' (the Code).

I have also fulfilled my other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code.

The PF&A Act further promotes independence by ensuring the Auditor-General and the Audit Office of New South Wales are not compromised in their roles by:

- providing that only Parliament, and not the executive government, can remove an Auditor-General
- mandating the Auditor-General as auditor of public sector agencies, but precluding the provision of non-audit services.

I believe the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.

The Trustees' Responsibility for the Financial Statements

The Trustees are responsible for preparing financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards, the PF&A Act and the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012, and for such internal control as the Trustees determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Trustees must assess the ability of the Trust and consolidated entity to continue as a going concern unless the operations will be dissolved by an Act of Parliament or otherwise cease. The assessment must include, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting.

Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Financial Statements

My objectives are to:

- obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and
- issue an Independent Auditor's Report including my opinion.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but does not guarantee an audit conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards will always detect material misstatements. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error. Misstatements are considered material if, individually or in aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions users take based on the financial statements.

A further description of my responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located at the Auditing and Assurance Standards Board website at: <http://www.auasb.gov.au/Home.aspx>.

The description forms part of my auditor's report.

My opinion does not provide assurance:

- that the Trust or the consolidated entity carried out their activities effectively, efficiently and economically
- about assumptions used in formulating the budget figures disclosed in the financial statements
- about the security and controls over the electronic publication of the audited financial statements on any website where they may be presented.

NOTES TO AND FORMING PART OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For the year ended 30 June 2016

1 SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(a) Reporting entity

The Art Gallery of NSW Trust (the Gallery) as a reporting entity comprises all the entities under the Gallery's control including the Gallery's exhibitions, merchandising, venue hire, and catering as well as the activities of the Australian Institute of Asian Culture, Visual Arts (VisAsia) and Art Gallery of NSW Staff Agency. Other entities associated with the Gallery but not controlled or consolidated include the Art Gallery of NSW Foundation and the Brett Whiteley Foundation.

The Art Gallery of NSW Staff Agency (the agency), being a special purpose entity, is a NSW Government Services established on 24th February 2014 under the Government Sector Employment Act 2013 (GSE Act). The objective is to provide personnel services to the parent entity, Art Gallery of NSW Trust.

In the process of preparing the consolidated financial statements for the economic entity consisting of all entities controlled at year end or any time during the year, all inter-entity transactions and balances have been eliminated and like transactions and other events are accounted for using uniform accounting policies.

The Art Gallery of NSW Trust (the Gallery) is a statutory body of the NSW State government. The Gallery is a not-for-profit entity (as profit is not its principal objective) and it has no cash generating units. The reporting entity is consolidated as part of the NSW Total State Sector Accounts.

These financial statements have been authorised for issue by the Board of Trustees on 29 September 2016.

(b) Basis of preparation

The Gallery's financial statements are general purpose financial statements which have been prepared on an accruals basis and in accordance with:

- applicable Australian Accounting Standards (which include Australian Accounting Interpretations)
- the requirements for the Public Finance and Audit Act 1983, the Public Finance and Audit Regulation 2015; and
- the Financial Reporting Directions published in the Financial Reporting Code for NSW General Government Sector Entities or issued by the Treasurer.

Property, plant and equipment, collection assets, and financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are measured at fair value. Other financial statements items are prepared in accordance with historical cost convention.

Judgements, key assumptions and estimates that management have made are disclosed in the relevant notes to the financial statements.

All amounts are rounded to the nearest one thousand dollars and are expressed in Australian currency.

(c) Changes to accounting policy

There were no changes to accounting policy this year.

(d) Statement of compliance

The financial statements and notes comply with Australian Accounting Standards, which include Australian Accounting Interpretations and the requirements of the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012.

(e) Income recognition

Income is measured at the fair value of the consideration or contribution received or receivable. Additional comments regarding the accounting policies for the recognition of income are discussed below:

(i) Grants and contributions

Grants and contributions include donations and grants from Department of Justice. Grants and contributions from other bodies (including donations) are generally recognised as income when the Gallery obtains control over the assets comprising the grants / contributions. Control over grants and contributions is normally obtained when the obligations relating to the receipt have been met and, in the case of donations, upon receipt of cash.

NOTES TO AND FORMING PART OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For the year ended 30 June 2016

(ii) Sale of goods

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognised as revenue when the Gallery transfers the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the assets.

(iii) Rendering of services

Revenue is recognised when the service is provided. Royalty revenue is recognised in accordance with AASB 118 Revenue on an accrual basis in accordance with the substance of the relevant agreement.

(iv) Investment revenue

Interest revenue is recognised using the effective interest method as set out in AASB 139 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement. TCorp Hour Glass distributions are recognised in accordance with AASB 118 Revenue when the Gallery's right to receive payment is established. The movement in the fair value of the Hour Glass Investment facilities incorporates distributions receivable as well as unrealised movements in fair value and is reported as 'Investment revenue'.

(f) Personnel services and other provisions

(i) Personnel services arrangements

The Government Sector Employment Act 2013 (GSE Act) came into effect from 24th February 2014 and it replaced the Public Sector Employment and Management Act 2002. The new Act is supported by the GSE Regulation 2014 and GSE Rules 2014. As at 24th February 2014 all assets and liabilities relating to personnel services were transferred to the Art Gallery of NSW Staff Agency.

(ii) Personnel Services - salaries and wages, annual leave, sick leave and on-costs

Liabilities for personnel services are stated as liabilities to the service provider Art Gallery of NSW Staff Agency. Salaries and wages (including non-monetary benefits) and paid sick leave that are expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the service are recognised and measured at the undiscounted amounts of the benefits.

If applicable, long-term annual leave that is not expected to be taken within twelve months is measured at present value in accordance with AASB 119 Employee Benefits. Market yields on government bonds are used to discount long-term annual leave.

Unused non-vesting sick leave does not give rise to a liability, as it is not considered probable that sick leave taken in the future will be greater than the benefits accrued in the future.

The outstanding amounts of payroll tax, workers' compensation insurance premiums and fringe benefits tax, which are consequential to the provision of personnel services by the Staff Agency, are recognised as liabilities and expenses where the personnel services to which they relate have been recognised.

(iii) Long service leave and superannuation

The Gallery's liabilities for long service leave and defined benefit superannuation are assumed by the Crown Entity. The Gallery accounts for the liability as having been extinguished; resulting in the amount assumed being shown as part of the non-monetary revenue item described as 'Acceptance by the Crown Entity of employee benefits and other liabilities'.

Long service leave is measured at present value in accordance with AASB 119 Employee Benefits. This is based on the application of certain factors (specified in NSW TC 15/09) to employees with five or more years of service, using current rates of pay. These factors were determined based on an actuarial review to approximate present value.

The defined benefits superannuation on-cost expense for the financial year is determined by using the formulae specified in the NSW Treasury Circular TC 14/05. The expense for certain superannuation schemes (i.e. Basic Benefit and First State Super), is calculated as a percentage of the employees' salary. For other superannuation schemes (i.e. State Superannuation Scheme and State Authorities Superannuation Scheme), the expense is calculated as a multiple of the employees' superannuation contributions.

NOTES TO AND FORMING PART OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For the year ended 30 June 2016

(g) Equity and reserves

(i) Revaluation surplus

The revaluation surplus is used to record increments and decrements on the revaluation of non-current assets. This accords with the Gallery's policy on revaluation of property, plant and equipment as discussed in note 1(l).

(ii) Accumulated Funds

The category of 'Accumulated Funds' includes all current and prior period retained funds.

(h) Insurance

The Gallery's insurance activities are conducted through the NSW Treasury Managed Fund Scheme of self insurance for Government agencies. The expense (premium) is determined by the Fund Manager based on past claim experience, asset values and risk.

(i) Accounting for the Goods and Services Tax (GST)

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of GST, except where:

- the amount of GST incurred by the Gallery as a purchaser that is not recoverable from the Australian Taxation Office is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of an asset or as part of an item of expense and
- Receivables and payables are stated with the amount of GST included.

Cash flows are included in the statement of cash flows on a gross basis. However, the GST component of cash flows arising from investment and financing activities which are recoverable from, or payable to the Australian Taxation Office are classified as operations cash flows.

(j) Acquisitions of assets

The cost method of accounting is used for the initial recording of all acquisitions of assets controlled by the Gallery. Cost is the amount of cash or cash equivalents paid or the fair value of the other consideration given to acquire the asset at the time of its acquisition or construction or where applicable the amount attributed to that asset when initially recognised in accordance with the specific requirements of other Australian Accounting Standards.

Gifts of artworks or works acquired at no cost, or for nominal consideration, are initially recognised at their fair value at the date of acquisition and brought to account as assets and revenues for the period.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset in an orderly transaction between market participants at measurement date.

Where payment for an asset is deferred beyond normal credit terms, its cost is the cash price equivalent, i.e. the deferred payment amount is effectively discounted at an asset-specific rate.

(k) Capitalisation thresholds

Property, plant and equipment, and intangible assets costing $5,000 and above individually (or forming part of a network costing more than $5,000) are capitalised.

(l) Revaluation of property, plant and equipment and collection assets

Physical non-current assets were valued in accordance with the "Valuation of Physical Non-Current Assets at Fair Value" Policy and Guidelines Paper (TPP14-01). This policy adopts fair value in accordance with AASB 13 Fair Value Measurement and AASB 116 Property, Plant and Equipment.

AASB 13 Fair Value Measurement is complied with for this revaluation using the market approach. Appropriate valuation technique is used to measure the fair value and the following fair value hierarchy is being used:

- Land – Level 2 – other observable inputs used
- Building – Level 3 – largely relied on unobservable inputs
- Collections – Level 2 – other observable inputs used

Collection assets include art works.

There is a part of the building that is listed in the heritage assets.

NOTES TO AND FORMING PART OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For the year ended 30 June 2016

Property, plant and equipment is measured at the highest and best use by market participants that is physically possible, legally permissible and financially feasible. The highest and best use must be available at a period that is not remote and take into account the characteristics of the asset being measured, including any socio-political restrictions imposed by government. In most cases, after taking into account these considerations, the highest and best use is the existing use. In limited circumstances, the highest and best use may be a feasible alternative use, where there are no restrictions on use or where there is a feasible higher restricted alternative use.

Fair value of property, plant and equipment is based on a market participant's perspective, using valuation techniques (market approach, cost approach, income approach) that maximise relevant observable inputs and minimise unobservable inputs. Also refer to note 10 for further information regarding fair value. The Gallery revalues each class of property, plant and equipment at least every three years or with sufficient regularity to ensure that the carrying amount of each asset in the class does not differ materially from its fair value at reporting date. Details of the last revaluations are shown at note 10 and were based on independent assessments.

Non-specialised assets with short useful lives are measured at depreciated historical cost, as a surrogate for fair value. When revaluing non-current assets using the cost approach, the gross amount and the related accumulated depreciation are separately restated. For other assets valued using other valuation techniques, any balances of accumulated depreciation at the revaluation date in respect of those assets are credited to the asset accounts to which they relate. The net asset accounts are then increased or decreased by the revaluation increments or decrements.

Revaluation increments are credited directly to the asset revaluation surplus, except that, to the extent that an increment reverses a revaluation decrement in respect of that class of asset previously recognised as an expense in the net result, the increment is recognised immediately as revenue in the net result.

Revaluation decrements are recognised immediately as expenses in the net result, except that, to the extent that a credit balance exists in the asset revaluation surplus in respect of the same class of assets, they are debited directly to the asset revaluation surplus.

As a not-for-profit entity, revaluation increments and decrements are offset against one another within a class of non-current assets, but not otherwise. Where an asset that has previously been revalued is disposed of, any balance remaining in the asset revaluation surplus in respect of that asset is transferred to accumulated funds.

(m) Impairment of property, plant and equipment

As a not-for-profit entity with no cash generating units, impairment under AASB 136 Impairment of Assets is unlikely to arise. As property, plant and equipment is carried at fair value, impairment can only arise in the rare circumstances where the costs of disposal are material. Specifically, impairment is unlikely for not-for-profit entities given that AASB 136 modifies the recoverable amount test for non-cash generating assets of not-for-profit entities to the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and depreciated replacement cost, where depreciated replacement cost is also fair value.

(n) Intangible Assets

The Gallery recognises intangible assets only if it is probable that future economic benefits will flow to the Gallery and the cost of the asset can be measured reliably. The intangible assets held by the Gallery comprise the website and software for internal use and are recognised at cost.

Intangible assets are subsequently measured at fair value only if there is an active market. As there is no active market for the Gallery's intangible assets the assets are carried at cost less any accumulated amortisation.

The useful life of intangible assets is assessed to be finite. The Gallery's intangible assets are amortised on a straight line basis over three years.

Intangible assets are tested for impairment where an indicator of impairment exists. If the recoverable amount is less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount is reduced to recoverable amount and the reduction is recognised as an impairment loss.

NOTES TO AND FORMING PART OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For the year ended 30 June 2016

(o) Depreciation of property, plant and equipment

Except for certain heritage assets and collection assets, depreciation is provided for on a straight-line basis for all depreciable assets so as to write off the depreciable amount of each asset as it is consumed over its useful life to the Gallery.

All material identifiable component assets are depreciated over their shorter useful lives.

Land is not a depreciable asset. Certain heritage assets have an extremely long useful life, including original art works and collections and heritage buildings because appropriate curatorial and preservation policies are adopted. Such assets are not subject to depreciation. The decision not to recognise depreciation for these assets is reviewed annually.

Depreciation rates for each category of depreciable assets for the year and 2014-15 are as follows:

|-------------------------|-------|
| Plant and Equipment | 7-20% |
| Motor Vehicles | 20% |
| Furniture and Fittings | 20% |
| Office Equipment | 33% |
| Computer Equipment | 33% |
| Catering Equipment | 20% |
| Other Equipment | 20% |
| Building Infrastructure | 1-7% |

These rates are reviewed annually to ensure they reflect the assets' current useful life and residual values.

(p) Maintenance

Day-to-day servicing costs or maintenance are charged as expenses as incurred, except where they relate to the replacement of a part or component of an asset, in which case the costs are capitalised and depreciated.

(q) Leased assets

The Gallery does not have any assets subject to finance leases. Operating lease payments are charged to the Statement of Comprehensive Income in the periods in which they are incurred.

(r) Inventories

The Gallery's inventories are held for sale and are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is calculated using the weighted average cost method.

The Gallery does not have any inventories acquired at no cost or for nominal consideration. Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

(s) Financial instruments policies

The Gallery's principal financial instruments policies and the main risks arising from financial instruments are outlined below, together with the Gallery's objectives, policies and processes for measuring and managing risk. Further quantitative and qualitative disclosures are included throughout these financial statements.

These financial instruments arise directly from the Gallery's operations or are required to finance its operations. The Gallery does not enter into or trade financial instruments including derivative financial instruments for speculative purposes.

(i) Financial instruments

(a) Cash & Term Deposits

Cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand, deposits held at call with financial institutions, other short-term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value. Interest is earned on daily bank balances and received monthly at the normal commercial rate.

NOTES TO AND FORMING PART OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For the year ended 30 June 2016

The Gallery has placed funds in bank deposits "at call" or for a fixed term. The interest rate payable is negotiated initially and is fixed for the term of the deposits. These term deposits are usually held to maturity. The fair value includes the interest accrued as at 30 June 2016.

(b) Trade and Other Receivables

Trade and other receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. These financial assets are recognised initially at fair value, usually based on the transaction cost or face value. Subsequent measurement is at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less an allowance for any impairment of receivables.

All trade debtors are recognised as amounts receivable at balance date. Collectability of trade debtors is reviewed on an ongoing basis. Procedures as established in the NSW Treasurer's Directions are followed to recover outstanding amounts, including letters of demand. Debts which are known to be uncollectible are written off. An allowance for impairment is raised when there is objective evidence that the entity will not be able to collect all amounts due. Any changes are accounted for in the Statement of Comprehensive Income when impaired, derecognised or through the amortisation process. The evidence included past experience and current and expected changes in economic conditions and debtors credit ratings. No interest is earned on trade debtors. The carrying amount approximates fair value. Sales are made on 30 day terms.

Short-term receivables with no stated interest rate are measured at the original invoice amount where the effect of discounting is immaterial.

(c) Investments

Investments are initially recognised at fair value, plus, in the case of investments not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs. In accordance with the Investment Policy and in line with NSW Treasurer's Direction, the only equity based investments permitted are in TCorp, a government approved investment fund. The Gallery determines the classification of its investments after initial recognition and when allowed and appropriate, re-evaluates this at each financial year end.

The Gallery investments in TCorp Hour Glass medium and long term facilities are classified as "at fair value through profit or loss" based on its investment strategy. The Gallery's investments are represented by a number of units in managed investments within the facilities. Each facility has different investment horizons and comprises a mix of asset classes appropriate to the investment horizon. The fair value of these investments is determined by reference to quoted current bid prices at the close of business on the reporting date. Any change in unit price impacts directly on profit (rather than equity). The movement in the fair value of the Hour Glass Investment facilities incorporates distributions receivable as well as unrealised movements in fair value and is reported in the line item 'Investment revenue'.

These investments are generally able to be redeemed with 24 hours notice. The value of the investments represents the Gallery's share of the value of the underlying assets of the funds and is stated at fair value, based on the market value.

TCorp appoints and monitors fund managers and establishes and monitors the application of appropriate investment guidelines.

(d) Payables

These amounts represent liabilities for goods and services provided to the Gallery and other amounts, including interest. Trade and other payables are recognised initially at fair value usually based on the transaction cost or face value. Subsequent measurement is at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Short-term payables with no stated interest rate are measured at the original invoice amount where the effect of discounting is immaterial.

(e) Financial guarantees

A financial guarantee contract is a contract that requires the issuer to make specified payments to reimburse the holder for a loss it incurs because a specified debtor fails to make payment when due in accordance with the original or modified terms of a debt instrument. Financial guarantee contracts are recognised as a liability at the time the guarantee is issued and initially measured at fair value, where material. After initial recognition, the liability is measured at the higher of the amount determined in accordance with AASB 137 Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets and the amount initially recognised, less accumulated amortisation, where appropriate.

The Gallery has not granted any financial guarantees. However, refer note 20 regarding disclosures on contingent liabilities.

NOTES TO AND FORMING PART OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For the year ended 30 June 2016

(ii) Risk management

The Gallery's Investment Policy was reviewed in 2015/16 and its Strategic Risk Management Plan was reviewed by the Audit and Risk Management Committee during 2015/16.

The Gallery's Audit and Risk Committee has overall responsibility on behalf of the Board for the establishment and oversight of risk management and reviews and recommends policies for managing each of these risks. Risk management policies are established to identify and analyse the risks faced by the Gallery, to set risk limits and controls and to monitor risks. Compliance with policies relating to financial matters is managed by the Finance Committee and will be reviewed by the Audit and Risk Committee on a periodic basis.

The risk management analysis reviewed the major risks associated with the financial instruments i.e. Credit, Liquidity, Market, Interest rate, Currency and other risks. Risk impact area and implications arising from each risk factor is analysed and a risk rating has been assigned. The likelihood and the consequences of each risk were analysed and the controls and risk mitigation strategies confirmed.

(a) Credit risk

Credit risk arises when there is the possibility of the Gallery's debtors defaulting on their contractual obligations, resulting in a financial loss to the Gallery. The maximum exposure to credit risk is generally represented by the carrying amount of the financial assets (net of any allowance for impairment).

The Gallery is not materially exposed to concentrations of credit risk to a single trade debtor or group of debtors. NSW Treasurer's Directions are followed to recover outstanding amounts, including letters of demand. The credit risk for trade debtors is the carrying amount (net of any allowance for impairment).

No collateral is held by the Gallery.

Credit risk associated with the Gallery's financial assets, other than receivables, is managed through the selection of counterparties and establishment of minimum credit rating standards. In accordance with the Gallery's Investment Policy cash and term deposits will only be made in those banks and building societies approved by the Reserve Bank/Australian Prudential Regulatory Authority (APRA) and included in the "AGNSW Approved List" all of which have A ratings or better and no more than 30% of the Gallery's funds or $6 million (whichever is the smaller) to be invested in any one institution. The Finance Committee during 2015/16 continued to confine the deposits to the four major banks and this policy remains unchanged.

Gallery deposits held with NSW TCorp are guaranteed by the State. The value that best represents the maximum credit risk exposure is the fair value.

(b) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Gallery will be unable to meet its payment obligations when they fall due. The Gallery continuously manages risk through monitoring future cash flows and maturities planning to ensure adequate holding of high quality liquid assets.

The Gallery has no loans or overdrafts and no assets have been pledged as collateral. An overdraft facility is not considered necessary as arrangements have been put in place to call in term deposits at short notice if needed. A penalty of reduced interest rate may sometimes be incurred.

The liabilities are recognised for amounts due to be paid in the future for goods or services received, whether or not invoiced. Amounts due to suppliers (which are unsecured) are settled in accordance with the policy set out in NSW Treasury circular TC 11/12. If trade terms are not specified, payment is made no later than the end of the month following the month in which an invoice or a statement is received.

(c) Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices.

The Gallery endeavours to limit the market risk by investing in NSW TCorp funds which provide diversification through asset allocation over a spread of financial assets (cash, bonds, fixed interest securities and equities) over medium and long term investment horizons. NSW TCorp is required to act in the best interest of the unit holders and to administer the investments accordingly. Notwithstanding these controls, market risk is inevitable in the equity markets, which is subject to global volatility.

NOTES TO AND FORMING PART OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For the year ended 30 June 2016

(d) Currency risk

The Gallery is exposed to currency risk on purchases made in currencies other than Australian Dollars. The Gallery fully hedges any substantial future foreign currency purchases when contracted. The Gallery uses forward exchange contracts to hedge its currency risk, as soon as the liability arises.

(e) Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is limited as the Gallery only enters into fixed interest terms on its term deposits. The Gallery has no interest bearing liabilities and therefore is not exposed to interest rate risk on borrowings.

(iii) Fair value

Financial instruments are generally recognised at cost, with the exception of the TCorp Hour-Glass facilities, which are measured at fair value. The amortised cost of financial instruments recognised in the statement of financial position approximates the fair value, because of the short-term nature of many of the financial instruments.

A number of the Gallery's accounting policies and disclosures require the measurement of fair values, for both financial and non-financial assets and liabilities. When measuring fair value, the valuation technique used maximises the use of relevant observable inputs and minimises the use of unobservable inputs. Under AASB 13, the Gallery categorises, for disclosure purposes, the valuation techniques based on the inputs used in the valuation techniques as follows:

Level 1 - quoted prices in active markets for identical assets / liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date.

Level 2 - inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable, either directly or indirectly.

Level 3 - inputs that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

There were no transfers between Level 1 or 2 during the periods. The value of the Hour-Glass Investments is based on the entity's share of the value of the underlying assets of the facility, based on the market value. All of the Hour-Glass facilities are valued using 'redemption' pricing.

The Gallery recognises transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy at the end of the reporting period during which the change has occurred.

Refer Note 10 and Note 16 for further disclosures regarding fair value measurements of financial and non-financial assets.

(iv) Impairment of financial assets

All financial assets, except those measured at fair value through profit or loss, are subject to an annual review for impairment. An allowance for impairment is established when there is objective evidence that the Gallery will not be able to collect all amounts due.

For financial assets carried at amortised cost, the amount of the allowance is the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows, discounted at the effective interest rate. The amount of the impairment loss is recognised in the net result for the year. Reversals of impairment losses of financial assets carried at amortised cost cannot result in a carrying amount that exceeds what the carrying amount would have been had there not been an impairment loss.

Any reversals of impairment losses are reversed through the net result, where there is objective evidence.

(v) De-recognition of financial assets and liabilities

A financial asset is de-recognised when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial assets expire; or if the Gallery transfers the financial asset:

- Where substantially all the risks and rewards have been transferred; or
- Where the Gallery has not transferred substantially all the risks and rewards, if the entity has not retained control.

Where the Gallery has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards or transferred control, the asset is recognised to the extent of the Gallery's continuing involvement in the asset.

A financial liability is de-recognised when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, cancelled or expired.

NOTES TO AND FORMING PART OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For the year ended 30 June 2016

(t) Current assets held for resale

Current Assets held for sale are recognised at lower of carrying amount and fair value less costs to sell. These assets are not depreciated while they are held for sale.

(u) Bequests and special purpose funds

The Gallery receives monies and gifts of works of art. The aggregate of these contributions received for the year has been stated as revenue in the 'Bequest and Special Purpose Funds' Statement of Comprehensive Income in note 5. These revenues provide for expenditure in the current year and in future years. Any revenues unspent in the current year have been carried forward for appropriate expenditure in future years.

(v) Budgeted Amounts

The budgeted amounts are drawn from the original budgeted financial statements presented to Parliament in respect of the reporting period. Subsequent amendments to the original budget (e.g. adjustment for transfer of functions between entities as a result of Administrative Arrangements Orders) are not reflected in the budgeted amounts. Major variances between the original budgeted amounts and the actual amounts disclosed in the primary financial statements is explained in note 18.

(w) Comparative information

Except when an Australian Accounting Standard permits or requires otherwise, comparative information is disclosed in respect of the previous period for all amounts reported in the financial statements.

(x) Trustee benefits

The trustees of the Gallery have not entered into any contract with the Gallery and do not receive any other benefits.

(y) Taxation status

The activities of the Gallery are exempt from income tax. The Gallery is registered for GST purposes and has gift deductible recipient status.

(z) Services provided at no cost

Where material contributions are made to the Gallery at no charge an expense is recorded in the accounts to reflect activities at the Gallery and is offset by an equivalent revenue entry. Services provided by volunteers are calculated using the actual hours worked at an average Gallery guide salary rate - refer to note 15.

(aa) Changes to Accounting Policies, including new or revised Australian Accounting Standards

At reporting date a number of accounting standards adopted by the AASB had been issued but are not yet operative. At present New South Wales Treasury is mandating not to early adopt new Australian Accounting Standards, unless Treasury determines otherwise.

(i) Applicable for the first time

The following standards are applicable for the first time in 2015-16.

- AASB 2015-4 regarding amendments to AASB 128 Investments in Associates and Joint Ventures relating to financial reporting requirements for Australian groups with a foreign parent

(ii) Issued but not yet effective

The following new Australian Accounting Standards have not been applied and are not yet effective. It is considered that the adoption of these standards will not have any material impact on the Gallery's financial statements.

TCorp Hour Glass Investment facilities

The Gallery has investments in the following TCorp's Hour Glass Investment facilities. The Gallery's investments are represented by a number of units in managed investments within the facilities.

| Facility | Investment Sectors | Investment horizon | | | | |
|-----------------------------|---|--------------------|--------|--------|--------|--------|
| Medium term growth facility | Cash, Australian bonds Australian and international shares listed property and emerging markets | 3 years to 7 years | 11,914 | 11,657 | 11,914 | 11,657 |

18 BUDGET REVIEW

On the financial statement the split for employee related and other operating expenses differ to the published budget. Due to the GSE Act, the split had to be done to provide a more realistic comparison. Also, the published budget figure for property, plant and equipment had to be split to give better information.

Net result

The actual net result is better than budget due to higher than expected admission income, venue hire income and shop merchandise sale revenue. Donation of artwork is also higher than anticipated.

Assets and Liabilities

Higher asset value than budget due to revaluation increments for building and collection assets. Liabilities also higher than budget due to higher capital creditors for the Sydney Modern project.

Cash flows

The net cash flows from operating activities slightly lower than budget. Despite donations and contributions being higher than budget, employee and other operating expenses were slightly higher.

19 EVENTS AFTER THE REPORTING PERIOD

END OF AUDITED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Art Gallery of New South Wales Trust Staff Agency

To Members of the New South Wales Parliament

Opinion

I have audited the accompanying financial statements of the Art Gallery of New South Wales Trust Staff Agency (the Staff Agency), which comprise the statement of financial position as at 30 June 2016, the statement of comprehensive income, statement of changes in equity and statement of cash flows for the year then ended, notes comprising a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

In my opinion, the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Staff Agency as at 30 June 2016, and of its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards
- are in accordance with section 41B of the Public Finance and Audit Act 1983 (PF&A Act) and the Public Finance and Audit Regulation 2015.

My opinion should be read in conjunction with the rest of this report.

Basis for Opinion

I conducted my audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. My responsibilities under those standards are further described in the 'Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements' section of my report.

I am independent of the Staff Agency in accordance with the auditor independence requirements of:

- Australian Auditing Standards
- ethical requirements of the Accounting Professional and Ethical Standards Board's APES 110 'Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants' (the Code).

I have also fulfilled my other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code.

The PF&A Act further promotes independence by ensuring the Auditor-General and the Audit Office of New South Wales are not compromised in their roles by:

- providing that only Parliament, and not the executive government, can remove an Auditor-General
- mandating the Auditor-General as auditor of public sector agencies, but precluding the provision of non-audit services.

I believe the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.

The Director's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

The Director is responsible for preparing financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and the PF&A Act, and for such internal control as the Director determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Director must assess the Staff Agency's ability to continue as a going concern unless the Staff Agency will be dissolved by an Act of Parliament or otherwise cease operations. The assessment must include, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting.

Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Financial Statements

My objectives are to:

- obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error
- issue an Independent Auditor's Report including my opinion.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but does not guarantee an audit conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards will always detect material misstatements. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error. Misstatements are considered material if, individually or in aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions users take based on the financial statements.

A further description of my responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located at the Auditing and Assurance Standards Board website at: <http://www.auasb.gov.au/Home.aspx>.

The description forms part of my auditor's report.

My opinion does not provide assurance:

- that the Staff Agency carried out its activities effectively, efficiently and economically
- about the security and controls over the electronic publication of the audited financial statements on any website where they may be presented.

NOTES TO AND FORMING PART OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
For the year ended 30 June 2016

1 Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

(a) Reporting Entity

The Art Gallery of New South Wales Trust Staff Agency's (Staff Agency) objective is to provide personnel services to the Art Gallery of New South Wales Trust.

The Staff Agency commenced operations on 24 February 2014, when it assumed responsibility for the employees and employee related liabilities of the former employer, the Department of Trade and Investment, Regional Infrastructure and Services. The assumed liabilities were recognised on 24 February 2014 together with the offsetting receivable representing the related funding due from the former employer for the year ended 30th June 2014. The funding and liabilities are due from the Trust for the year ended 30th June 2016.

These financial statements as at 30 June 2016 have been authorised for issue by the Board of Trustees on 29 September 2016.

(b) Basis of Preparation

The entity's financial statements are general purpose financial statements which have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of Australian Accounting Standards which include Australian Accounting Interpretations, the Public Finance and Audit Act 1983, the Public Finance and Audit Regulation 2015 and specific directions issued by the Treasurer.

Generally, the historical cost convention has been adopted. However, certain provisions are measured at fair value.

The accrual basis of accounting has been adopted in the preparation of the financial statements.

Management's judgements, key assumptions and estimates are disclosed in the relevant notes to the financial statements.

The financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis which assumes that repayment of debts will be met as and when they fall due, without any intention or necessity to liquidate assets or otherwise winding up the operations.

All amounts are rounded to the nearest one thousand dollars and are expressed in Australian currency.

c). Statement of Compliance

The financial statements and notes comply with Australian Accounting Standards, which include Australian Accounting Interpretations.

The Staff Agency has adopted all of the new and revised standards and interpretations issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board (AASB) that are relevant to its operations and effective from the current annual reporting period. The impact to the Staff Agency of the adoption of the new standards and interpretations was insignificant.

(d) Income Recognition

Income is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable. Revenue from the rendering of personnel services is recognised when the service is provided and only to the extent that the associated recoverable expenses are recognised.

(e) Receivables

A receivable is recognised when it is probable that the future cash inflows associated with it will be realised and it has a value that can be measured reliably. It is derecognised when the contractual or other rights to future cash flows from it expire or are transferred.

A receivable is measured initially at fair value and subsequently at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method, less any allowance for impairment. A short-term receivable with no stated interest rate is measured at the original invoice amount where the effect of discounting is immaterial. An invoiced receivable is due for settlement within thirty days of invoicing.

(f) Payables

Payables include accrued wages, salaries, and related on costs (such as payroll tax, fringe benefits tax and workers' compensation insurance) where there is certainty as to the amount and timing of settlement.

A payable is recognised when a present obligation arises under a contract or otherwise. It is derecognised when the obligation expires or is discharged, cancelled or substituted.

A short-term payable with no stated interest rate is measured at historical cost if the effect of discounting is immaterial.

(g) Employee benefits and other provisions

i. Salaries and wages, annual leave, sick leave and on-costs

Salaries and wages (including non-monetary benefits), annual leave and paid sick leave that are expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the service are recognised and measured at the undiscounted amounts of the benefits.

Annual leave is not expected to be settled wholly before twelve months after the end of the annual reporting period in which the employees render the related service. As such it is required to be measured at present value in accordance with AASB 119 Employee Benefits (although short-cut methods are permitted). Actuarial advice obtained by Treasury has confirmed that the use of a nominal approach plus the annual leave on annual leave liability can be used to approximate the present value of the annual leave liability. The entity has assessed the actuarial advice based on the entity's circumstances and has determined that the effect of discounting is immaterial to annual leave.

Unused non-vesting sick leave does not give rise to a liability as it is not considered probable that sick leave taken in the future will be greater than the benefits accrued in the future.

ii. Long service leave and superannuation

The entity's liabilities for long service leave and defined benefit superannuation are assumed by the Crown Entity. The entity accounts for the liability as having been extinguished, resulting in the amount assumed being shown as part of the non-monetary revenue item described as 'Acceptance by the Crown Entity of employee benefits and other liabilities'.

Long service leave is measured at present value in accordance with AASB 119 Employee Benefits. This is based on the application of certain factors (specified in NSWTC 15/09) to employees with five or more years of service, using current rates of pay. These factors were determined based on an actuarial review to approximate present value.

The superannuation on-cost for the financial year is determined by using the formulae specified in the Treasurer's Directions. The expense for certain superannuation schemes (i.e. Basic Benefit and First State Super) is calculated as a percentage of the employees' salary. For other superannuation schemes (i.e. State Superannuation Scheme and State Authorities Superannuation Scheme), the expense is calculated as a multiple of the employees' superannuation contributions.

iii. Consequential on-costs

Consequential on-costs to employment are recognised as liabilities and expenses where the employee benefits to which they relate have been recognised. This includes outstanding amounts of payroll tax, workers' compensation insurance premiums and fringe benefit tax.

(h) Comparative

Except when an Australian Accounting Standard permits or requires otherwise, comparative information is disclosed in respect of the previous period for all amounts reported in the financial statements.

(i) Accounting Standards issued but not yet effective

The Staff Agency did not early adopt any new accounting standards and interpretations that are not yet effective. It is considered that the adoption of these standards will not have any material impact on the Staff Agency's financial statements. At the date of authorisation of the financial statements, there is no standard which are significant to the entity has been published.

| Payables (excluding unearned revenue and statutory payables) | 5 | Payables Financial liabilities (at amortised cost) | - 34 | 634 |

(b) Credit Risk

Credit risk arises when there is the possibility that the counterparty will default on their contractual obligations, resulting in a financial loss to the Staff Agency. The maximum exposure to credit risk is generally represented by the carrying amount of the financial assets (net of any allowance for impairment).

Credit risk arises from the financial assets of the entity. No collateral is held by the Staff Agency and it is not granted by any financial guarantees.

Receivables

As at 30 June 2016, the entity had debtors of $2.664 million which represent personnel services receivable from the Trust.

(c) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Staff Agency will be unable to meet its payment obligations when they fall due. The Staff Agency's exposure to liquidity risk is deemed insignificant based on prior periods' data and current assessment of risk.

The liabilities are recognised for amounts due to be paid in the future for goods or services received, whether or not invoiced. Amounts owing to suppliers (which are unsecured) are settled in accordance with NSW TC 11/12.

The table below summarises the maturity profile of the entity's financial liabilities and the interest rate exposure.

Maturity analysis and interest rate exposure of financial liabilities:

| Financial Instruments | Weighted Average Effective Int. Rate | Nominal Amt | Interest Rate Exposure | | | Maturity Dates | | |

| Payables (excluding unearned revenue and statutory payables) | 0% | - 34 | - | - | 34 | - 34 | - | - |

(d) Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. The entity has no exposure to interest rate risk, foreign currency risk and does not enter into commodity contracts.

(e) Fair value measurement

Financial instruments are recognised at cost, the amortised cost of financial instruments recognised in the statement of financial position approximates fair value, due to short-term nature of many of the financial instruments.
