Driving Lesson Requirements

Driving Licences

It is a legal requirement that you hold a current driver's licence to drive on Tasmanian roads. This can include a learner, provisional, or international licence if the requirements of that licence type are met. You must bring your driver's licence with you to each lesson. Our driving instructors will ask to sight your licence at the start of each lesson.

For international driving licences, it is a legal requirement that you provide an English translation of your driver's licence.

Fitness to Drive

Before commencing any lesson or assessment with RACT you must be in a fit state to drive. This includes complying with any legal or medical requirements that are applicable to your circumstances.

It is not lawful in Australia to be drive a vehicle whilst under the influence of illegal substances.

You must always comply with relevant road rules, driver's licence restrictions or conditions, and any driving instructions provided to you by your driving instructor.

We strongly recommend that in the 24 hours before your lesson you have enough rest. Driving whilst fatigued represents a significantly increased risk of being involved in an accident. RACT is committed to providing a safe environment for our Driver Training customers, our staff, and other road users. RACT reserves the right to not proceed with a lesson if we reasonably believe you are not fit to participate in a driving lesson or assessment.

Appropriate footwear must be worn for driving lessons. We highly recommend flat, enclosed shoes. Some footwear (e.g., high heels, thongs) may create safety risks associated with the use of the vehicles pedals and foot controls.

Our driving instructor will advise you if they believe there is a potential safety risk which may lead to the lesson being cancelled.

In some circumstance RACT Driver Training may have to cancel, postpone, or change the length of your lesson. These circumstances include your Driving Instructor being unwell, the Driver Training vehicle allocated to your appointment being unavailable due to circumstances beyond our control, dangerous weather events or significant traffic or road incidents.

If this occurs, we will inform you as soon as we can and will endeavor to find an alternative appointment time that suits. If your Driving Instructor becomes unavailable, we will provide an alternative Driving Instructor where possible.

Our Driving Instructors reserve the right to terminate lessons at short notice if they have reasonable grounds to believe that continuing would represent a safety risk.
