ABOUT ME

- I consider myself a competent, proactive person; with great cognitive ability and welcoming to change.
- I'm avid to learn new techniques and advances both in my field and related ones.
- My biggest interest area is the creation of service-like experiences for people with a focus on reducing complexity and moving parts.
- I am a programmer and a technologist; but never looking past its actual utility.
- I attended the MSc Design for Interaction programme at TU Delft, which has made me discover the infinite ways an experience and its interactions can be met.
