

Knot Rug

Designed by Lotta Agaton, the Knot rug collection is woven from soft yet sturdy rope and finished with a simple tied knot, which sits casually in the corner of the rug. Thick and chunky in expression, they boast a generous tactility, introducing layer and weight to the décor. The rugs come in three versatile neutrals and two sizes, where the scale of the rope increases proportionally with the size of the rug, growing from 12 mm to 20 mm in thickness.

Product highlights

- Handcrafted on traditional pit looms for precise weaving.
- Available in two sizes.
- Yarn thickness is tailored to rug size, with 12 mm for the smaller rug and a 20 mm for the larger size.
- Offered in a selection of various natural tones.
- Made out of 100% recycled PET.

| About the Designer    | Swedish interior designer Lotta Agaton is renowned for her discerning eye and her ability to shape interiors defined by nuance, tactility, and atmosphere. With a background in styling and interior architecture, she composes spaces through a careful balance of materials, tone, and proportion. Her work is guided by a sensitivity to texture and mood, allowing natural materials and subdued palettes to form environments that feel both grounded and refined. As a long-standing interior designer for New Works, Agaton has been instrumental in shaping our visual universe. Now, for the first time, she translates her distinctive sensibility into an object of her own design for New Works — an expression of her measured restraint and enduring focus on material presence. |

| Material              | Handwoven in India, the Knot Rug combines traditional craftsmanship with modern materials. It is made from rPET, a recycled form of polyester that is carefully processed and transformed into new, strong and durable fibres. At the same time, it gives valuable resources a second life through recycling while maintaining its appearance over time. The Knot rug is crafted from interwoven ropes, creating an organic form with a subtle sense of movement—soft and flexible rather than stiff or structured.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Cleaning & Care       | Vacuum the rug regularly using low to medium suction and avoid rotating brushes or robot vacuum cleaners, which may damage fibres. Loose fibres may appear at first; simply trim them carefully with scissors and do not pull them out. In case of spills, act quickly and gently dab (do not rub) with a clean, uncoloured cloth, working from the outer edge towards the centre. Avoid prolonged exposure to direct sunlight to help preserve colour. Professional cleaning is recommended when needed. Use a rug underlay to prevent slipping and protect delicate floors. Rotate the rug occasionally to ensure even wear.                                                                                                                                                                        |
