Recent Project Activities

Quadpack planting event

As part of our last planting events of the season in Germany, Life Terra teamed up with Quadpack on 26 March for a day of on-the-field activities. Thanks to the energy of the participants, more than 2000 trees were planted in the area of Kierspe, not far from Cologne. We are looking forward to continuing planting in Germany next season.

Mother's day - gift a tree to your mom

Are you looking for a unique mother's day gift? Look no further! When the month of May comes around, we often struggle to find the right present to remind our mothers that we love them, but this year, there is a simple - and green - solution: adopting a tree for your mom!. If this sparks your interest, please visit our website to purchase your mom's very own tree(s)!

Learn more about Terra Mission!

Terra Mission is an interactive educational course for ages 8-10 and 11-14 serving the purpose of Life Terra. The educational pack consists of an introduction lesson, 8 themes, and a closing lesson. All of the lesson materials are designed so that they can be easily adjusted to best match the unique (starting) level of your students.

The Life Terra team meets up in Barcelona

To recap the now closing 2021-2022 planting season, the Life Terra team grouped up in Barcelona on 31 March and 1 April. The various working groups presented their achievements and took part in a brainstorming session to prepare next season's strategy.

Life Terra's new tree-monitoring tool was also tested at the planting site of El Bruc. With this tool the team aims to track the growth and health of the trees once they are on the ground. More will follow in the next months!

Music Innovation Hub, Aworld, Legambiente and Elisa unite for the Planet

On the occasion of Earth Day, Music Innovation Hub, AWorld, Legambiente and the artist Elisa - testimonial of the campaign and Ally of the United Nations for sustainable development projects - officially announce their union in favour of the Earth with a great project for the safeguard of the Planet. Starting from Heroes Festival and then during the tour, the Music For The Planet project will come to life, realised by Music Innovation Hub and AWorld in favour of Legambiente, for the planting of trees in different Italian areas, to build together a more sustainable future. Through an organised fundraising campaign, they will contribute to the achievement of the objectives of the European project Life Terra, of which Legambiente is the Italian reference.

Upcoming activities

The planting season is now over, but we have some new activities coming up:

- May 2022: A roundtable discussion on the role of the private sector and private landowners in tree-planting to fight against climate change (in Spanish), hosted by EFE Verde
- June 2022: A virtual Stakeholder Workshop in German, hosted by EURACTIV to promote the discussion around reforestation and climate resilience
- September 2022: SERE Conference, Alicante

In the Press

The recently published IPCC sixth assessment report helped shed more light on what is needed in order to limit the progressively increasing temperature of the earth. You can find all the details in this article that recently appeared on EURACTIV:
