Why Rhinoplasty?

- Nose too large
- Nose too wide
- Wide nose bridge
- Hanging nose tip
- Bulbous nose tip
- Uneven nose
- Crooked nose
- Broken nose
- Overly large, long, or wide nostrils
- Pinched nose tip
- Hump on bridge
- Oddly shaped nose or nose tip

Every nose reshaping surgery is different, and there is no “cookie-cutter” approach to this procedure. Dr. Sulyman-Scott is one of the very few plastic surgeons in the country that is trained in both closed and open rhinoplasty techniques.

Example of Closed Rhinoplasty

Closed Rhinoplasty:

The incisions are placed within the nostrils with no external scars.

Open Rhinoplasty:

This approach involves placing an incision at the base of the columella – the strip of tissue between your nostrils. This allows for total access to the nose structure, which is necessary for most complex nose reshaping surgeries.

Non-Surgical Rhinoplasty

We understand surgery can be frightening due to uncertainties regarding the surgery itself or worries about the result. Some patients are candidates for Non-Surgical Rhinoplasty.

Before

After

Patient had a Non-Surgical Rhinoplasty with dermal filler and PDO thread to decrease the appearance of her hump and increase her nasal tip rotation.

That Face Goes Charitable

This past year, Make-A-Wish Illinois granted nearly 500 wishes. However, there are still more than 1,400 children waiting for their wish in Illinois.

We are honored to be a part of their Chicago fund raising event, I Wish To Party. We have taken part in the silent auction and we hope our support is able to grant a very special wish.

For more information on the silent action or to donate please visit their website at *one.bidpal.net*

That Face Goes Charitable

"Everyone Deserves To Feel Beautiful"

Dr. Sulyman-Scott is pleased to announce her participation with AAFPRS FACE TO FACE program.

FACE TO FACE offers pro bono facial plastic and reconstructive surgery to domestic violence survivors to repair injuries of the face, head and neck caused by an intimate partner or spouse. FACE TO FACE surgeons volunteer their time and skills to help victims of domestic violence who have suffered facial trauma

The American Academy of Facial Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery (AAFPRS), the world's largest association of facial plastic surgeons, in 2019 announced a new partnership between its FACE TO FACE humanitarian program and Break the Silence Foundation (BTSF), a non-profit organization that provides participants with the necessary tools to help them end the cycle of abuse and regain their lives.

One million of the five million women affected each year by domestic violence in the US require medical attention, and the scars extend far beyond the physical impact. FACE TO FACE: The Domestic Violence Project and BTSF are joining forces to help heal domestic violence survivors external and internal selves, empowering them to lead successful, happy lives, free from toxic violence and abuse.

*Don't just take our word for it.
Read what our patients have to say about
That Face.*

This is a five star Plastic surgeon. She is the most amazing, funny, talented, cosmetic surgeon. I've seen in a long time. Also extremely honest, which is the best part she won't sell you something that you don't need or tell you to do this or that and then you don't like the way you look, she gives you, her honest opinion, and when she does the work she does, it's flawless. Dr. Scott did my cheeks for me and they look amazing. I couldn't be happier. I have so much self-confidence back. It feels great to feel like me again.!

Patient Feedback

Great staff, love the results I see from my Vivace treatment! Highly recommend
