

Primary Teacher – Maternity Cover

North Zealand International School

North Zealand International School (NIS) is seeking a dedicated and enthusiastic Primary Teacher to join our team for a maternity cover position, starting as soon as possible.

The position is 80–100% and runs from April 2026 to January 2027 (possibly longer).

This is an exciting opportunity to become part of a growing international school community where academic ambition, curiosity and well-being go hand in hand.

While experience with the International Primary Curriculum (IPC) is an advantage, it is not a requirement.

What we offer

At North Zealand International School, you will become part of a dynamic and collaborative teaching environment where professional development and learner engagement are central priorities.

Professional Development

Opportunities for ongoing professional learning and development within an international school environment.

Collaborative Community

A supportive and collegial staff culture where teachers collaborate closely to create engaging learning experiences.

International Environment

A diverse and vibrant school community with learners and staff from many different cultural backgrounds.

Modern Learning Facilities

NIS is now located in NGG's new, state-of-the-art school building, offering modern classrooms, laboratories, collaborative learning areas, sports facilities and inspiring study spaces designed to support innovative teaching and learning.

The successful candidate will

- Hold qualified teacher status
- Have experience teaching in a Primary setting
- Be committed to supporting the academic and personal development of all learners
- Demonstrate strong subject knowledge and pedagogical understanding
- Be able to differentiate teaching to meet the needs of diverse learners
- Encourage independence, curiosity and reflective learning
- Understand the role of assessment in supporting learning
- Use digital tools and technology effectively in teaching
- Collaborate positively within the Primary team
- Approach new challenges with enthusiasm and flexibility

About us

North Zealand International School (NIS) has approximately 350 learners from Early Years to Year 11, representing many different nationalities and cultures.

NIS is part of NGG – Nordsjællands Grundskole og Gymnasium, one of Denmark's largest private schools with approximately 1350 learners across Danish and international programmes from pre-school to upper secondary education.

The school is located in a brand-new, modern school building in Hørsholm designed to support collaboration, creativity and future-focused learning.

A unique aspect of our school is the close collaboration between the Danish and international departments, creating a vibrant educational environment where learners grow academically, socially and globally.

Application process

To apply for this position, please submit your cover letter and CV to: job@nis-ngg.dk

Application deadline: 4 April 2026.

If you have any questions regarding the position, you are welcome to contact Head of School Joakim Philipsen directly at jph@nis-ngg.dk.

We encourage early applications as interviews may be conducted before the deadline.
