Hans Olof Abrahamsson

25.05 – 01.07.2023

The presentation comprises of a series of 15 intricate small metal sculptures and three mobiles, ranging in a monochromatic color scheme, which harks back to the hues employed by architects Le Corbusier and Gerrit Rietveld. Abrahamsson's delicate miniatures remind us of studies into the world of artists such as Alexander Calder and Piet Mondrian while keeping a distinct distance from concepts of modernism within context of visual art.

Hans Olof Abrahamsson (b. 1944, Stockholm), is an artist and writer, his work is included in collections of Moderna Museet/Modern Museum of Art, Sweden, Statens Konstråd and the National Library of Brazil, Rio de Janeiro. His work has been exhibited in Moderna Museet/Modern Museum of Art Sweden, Thielska Galleriet and The Royal Academy, in Stockholm. Abrahamsson is educated at The Royal Institute of Art, Stockholm, and the Fine Art Faculty of Baroda, Gujarat, India.
