Students wishing to enter Box Hill Institute courses at Certificate, Diploma and Degree level need to study at either upper intermediate or advanced level, and be assessed as meeting the English language requirements for further study.

CURRICULUM

Students in Upper-Intermediate and Advanced courses develop their English language skills in preparation for tertiary studies at Australian Vocational Education and Training Institutes and universities.

METHODOLOGY

The ELICOS Centre uses teaching methods which are a combination of teacher-directed and student-centred learning.

Language skills are developed using communicative and integrated techniques. Specific skills such as grammar and vocabulary are contextualised, and lead to authentic language practice.

Classes use teaching materials which are as authentic as possible and have been specially prepared for the English language classroom.

'ENGLISH ONLY' RULE

The teachers positively encourage all students to use English only in the classroom. This ensures that all students maximise their opportunity to learn and practise their English skills.

STAFF

The teachers are all highly qualified and experienced in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL).

The teachers actively engage students in a range of activities which reflect real life practical situations.

They also have specialist knowledge and skills in preparing students for IELTS and other tests.

ENTRY ASSESSMENT

At the start of the course, students are assessed by completing the Box Hill Institute Entry Placement Test as well as being interviewed. Following this, they are then placed in the appropriate class level.

Other English language proficiency tests such as IELTS and TOEFL are taken into consideration when placing students. The Box Hill Institute Offshore Pre-Entry Test is only used as a guide to determine class placement.

COURSE ASSESSMENT METHODS

Teachers are responsible for assessing students progress. Assessment methods (in listening, reading, writing and speaking skills) take a variety of forms including:

- > in-class activities
- > homework tasks
- > participation in class work and activities
- > formal and informal class tests
- > interview with a staff member

JACKY LEUNG WAI YIP, HONG KONG ELICOS

ELICOS student, Jacky Leung Wai Yip, says there were many surprises about studying in Australia.

“The thing I was most surprised about when I arrived in Australia was the fresh air. My first breath outside at the airport, the air outside was so fresh. The suburb of Box Hill is also really nice because there are lots of trees and suburban surrounds. I like that the streets feel spacious and not cramped. I also like the surroundings outside the classroom and the relaxed atmosphere within.” said Jacky.

“The teaching style is also very relaxed, so I find myself enjoying the classes. The teachers are easy to relate to and my classmates are nice. The way of teaching is so easy to understand and he makes the classes fun with lots of activities, so I never feel sleepy in class! I don’t just learn about Australian culture, but because my classmates are from all over the world we talk about different cultures which is really interesting.”

“The other thing that surprised me about living here is the variety of activities that are available. There are lots of beaches and lots of space. It is the perfect place to live and study.”

When Jacky finishes his current ELICOS course he is hoping to stay in Australia to continue his further studies.
