

Hello Box Hill alumni,

Every day at Box Hill Institute, we are reminded of the importance of lifelong learning.

Recently, we celebrated the achievements of our Certificate III & IV students who completed their qualifications. And while they've finished this qualification, their educational journey continues. Many have chosen further study to help write the next chapter of their careers and lives.

From developing complementary business skills to entering in-demand job markets, we are dedicated to helping students gain the industry-relevant skills and knowledge they need to enrich their learning and advance their careers.

In this edition, join us as we take a moment to celebrate our students' success and explore the range of courses and career support on offer.

Warm regards

Box Hill Institute
