

"Forget your own selves and turn your eyes towards your neighbour. Bend your energies to whatever may foster the education of men. Nothing is, or can ever be, hidden from God. If ye follow in His way, His imperishable blessings will be showered upon you."

Bahá'u'lláh

SUNDAY, 9th JULY Martyrdom of the Báb

A short devotional meeting will be held at the Centre at 12.30 p.m., closing at 1.0 p.m.

COFFEE PARTY EVENINGS organised by the London Teaching Committee, will be held on the 1st and 3rd Fridays in July. The first will be held 7th July, and the second on the 21st July. The evening will begin with the theme of Bill Sear's new book, "Thief in the Night", followed by discussion.

QUEUE UP FOR KEW for a Bahá'í Family Picnic, Sunday, 16th July. All invited - young and old - and of course bring your friends and contacts. Meet at Westminster Pier at 11.30 a.m. (Fare 6/- return). A boat trip up the river, most enjoyable too. We shall be at the Main Gate at Kew Green by 12.30, should any friends prefer to join us there. Do not forget to bring a packed lunch for the picnic!

This means £9. 1s. 8d. excess of expenditure. At the moment we are £125 short of the target for the quarter year. Contributions must increase and urgently. Your local effort is of National importance in the work of the final phase of the Ten Year Crusade.

LONDON LENDING LIBRARY

Despite earlier appeals for the return of books out on loan, the library is now extremely depleted, and we ask the community diligently to make every effort to return books borrowed by them or their contacts.

Many books have also been taken away from the London (REFERENCE) Library and the National (REFERENCE) Library. These must not be taken away, and those books out should be returned immediately.
