VERONA

Verona is situated in southwestern Veneto, close to the eastern bank of Lake Garda; renowned for the beauty of its landscape, Lake Garda is green, pretty hills, and beaches large and small.

Verona is the city of love, and William Shakespeare is the author that made it famous around the world with his most romantic tragedy: Romeo and Juliet.

Undoubtedly the first destination is the house of Juliet.

But Verona is also a beautiful city full of monuments to be seen, beginning with the picturesque Piazza delle Erbe and ending with the magnificent Arena.

VENICE

Venice is elegant, precious, inimitable, entertaining, and romantic. It is a jewel in the Italian touristic landscape, where churches, buildings, old bridges, monuments and piazzas are the evidence of the artistic and cultural vivacity that marks the history of this city.

The heart of Venice is the wonderful Piazza San Marco - the most elegant in Europe - surrounded by outstanding buildings.

Venice is the best of outdoor museums, and it can be toured by boat or by gondola, most easily along the Canal Grande, the main Venetian thoroughfare.

TRENTO

Trento is famous for the beauty of its landscape and the quality of its snow, making it a favorite destination for ski enthusiasts.

Nature and scenery are by no means Trento's only attractions; it also thrives with art and culture: the Museum of Modern and Contemporary Art (MART) in Rovereto serve as prime venue for many artistic and cultural initiatives. This area's important heritage is visible in the architecture of its tiny villages, its castles, and many traditions, such as the typical Trento Christmas Market.

The variety of wine ranges from the famous Lunelli brothers' trademark named Ferrari to the most traditional wine produced by "I Dolomitici", an association based in the area around Castello di Noarna, that uses old grape stumps and labels wine bottles with the names of women indicted for witchery in that castle.

Since castles were the authority and the protection of all activities there was one of them in every valley of Trentino. Thanks to their position castles could control vineyards and apple orchards, safeguard breeders' villages and monitor enemies around the valleys. But as time goes by they became the place of poetry and sonnets and observation of sky and stars.

Today that vineyard produces renowned wines and refined spirits.
