THE RESORT

Totally immersed in the green of a thick and beautiful vegetation typical of the Mediterranean scrub, rises Ostuni a Mare, one of the first examples of albergo diffuso along the Adriatic coast.

Just a few steps from the sea of Ostuni, inside the tourist village "Rosa Marina," the natural scenery that surrounds the resort is the heart of the most evocative Puglia: low trees, rushes, junipers, sea pines and wild olive trees.

Evergreen and aromatic plants shade the outdoors, painting a forest-green backdrop over two open-air pools. Key word: serenity, the result of a clean design that plays on the contrasts between the terracotta floor, the Apulian chianca and a fresh furniture, characterized by light materials and colors, outlining the typical elements of this territory.
