SUPERFOOD POWDER

Beet Root Powder

Beet root powder is growing in popularity as a natural health-boosting supplement. Beets generally have an earthy, bitter flavor. Beets can be mixed with water to create a juice, or can be added to smoothies, sauces, or baked goods.

Mesquite Powder

Naturally sweet molasses-like flavor with rich nutty hints similar to carob. It is a tasty addition to smoothies and shakes, coffee, baked goods, and chocolates. The high fiber levels take a long time to assimilate.

Turmeric Powder

Turmeric may be the most effective nutritional supplement in existence. It has gained in popularity in the United States. The colorful and fragrant rhizome adds unique earthy, slightly bitter flavor to foods and beverages.

Cacao Powder

Cacao is known for its healthful benefits. The powder has a rich flavor, and can be added to smoothies, energy bars, herbal beverages, and extracts. The aroma has a slight floral aspect balanced with deep chocolate undertones.

Spirulina Powder

The high concentration of amino acids has made spirulina a popular nutritional supplement. In addition to amino acids, spirulina is also a rich source of numerous other nutrients, including many essential vitamins and minerals.

Maca Powder

Maca root is a nutritional powerhouse. It grows wild in the frigid ground of the Andes mountains thousands of feet above sea level in Peru. Maca root can be blended into smoothies, or incorporated into baking recipes.
