Mihael Raveggi

Principal Associate, Milan

Mihael Raveggi has over twenty years of experience advising clients on EU and multi-jurisdictional mergers across a wide range of industries.

Mihael is recognised as "an authority on high-profile EU mergers and Article 101 and 102 cases" by the GCR's future leaders. Sources call him "a standout" who is "very responsive, great to work with and always on top of the data". Mihael Raveggi has joined RBB Economics in 2002 and is an Associate Principal in the Milan office.

In his role as a consultant competition economist, Mihael has over 20 years' experience advising clients and preparing submissions in merger proceedings for the European Commission and for all other relevant major jurisdictions.

Mihael has played a central and decisive role in many of the largest and most complex Phase II merger investigations at the European Commission over the last decade.

His experience also includes Article 101 and 102 cases. Mihael has worked for a baby powder milk producer (Italy) and a banana importer (EC) in 101 cases in front of national Competition Authorities. He also worked to estimate third party damages for a defendant in a litigation case.

Mihael has worked for Google on a study to estimate the value of Youtube to the music industry. The results have been published online in a number of papers.

Mihael taught competition policy at Sciences Po for over ten years, regularly holds presentations at law firms and has spoken on various topics at conferences.

Mihael holds dual Italian and Slovene nationality and is fluent in English and Italian. He has also worked in French and Slovene. He is based in Brussels.
