

Jackson McDonough

Associate Principal, London

Jackson is an Associate Principal based in RBB's London office, having transferred from RBB's Melbourne office in 2022. He has advised on a wide range of competition matters since joining the firm in 2019.

In his role as a consultant competition economist, Jackson has advised clients on competition matters before the European Commission, the ACCC, and various other national competition authorities, including in the UK, China, and India.

His experience includes merger investigations raising both horizontal and non-horizontal concerns as well as abuse of dominance matters, litigation matters, and regulatory reviews. Jackson has also assisted in the preparation of expert economic evidence in different competition law proceedings in front of courts in Australia and the UK.

Jackson has worked on cases in a range of sectors, including aviation, ports, automotive parts, thermoplastics, mining and metals, veterinary products, telecommunications, pharmaceuticals, bulk liquid storage, and environmental contamination.

Prior to joining RBB, Jackson earned a first class Honours degree in Economics from Monash University in Melbourne.
