

George Snaith

Associate Principal, London

George is an Associate Principal based in RBB's London office.

He holds an MSc in Competition Economics and Policy and a BSc in Economics from the University of East Anglia.

Since joining RBB in 2020, he has advised clients on a range of competition matters, including abuse of dominance investigations and follow-on cartel damages litigation.

In his role as a competition economist, George has advised clients on a variety of competition matters before the European Commission and various other national competition authorities, including the Administrative Council for Economic Defense in Brazil and the Competition and Consumer Commission of Singapore.

George's experience covers a wide range of sectors, including renewable energy, aviation insurance, heavy trucks, bill payment services and pharmaceuticals.

Prior to joining RBB, George gained work experience at the Centre for Competition Policy (CCP) where he contributed to a report for the European Commission which provided input for the evaluation of the State aid rules related to environmental protection and energy.
