

Sebastian Schroers

Senior Associate, Düsseldorf

Sebastian Schroers is a Senior Associate at RBB Economics, based in the firm's Düsseldorf office.

Having more than three years of experience working as a competition economist, Sebastian has advised clients on a wide variety of competition cases, both before the European Commission and the German Bundeskartellamt.

He has assisted clients on complex matters such as follow-on damages estimation, merger control procedures, market investigations and abuse of dominance.

His experience spans on a wide range of sectors, including automotive industry, groceries, energy, software technology, railways and freight transport.

Sebastian holds a bachelor's and master's degree in Economics from Heinrich Heine University Düsseldorf gained at Düsseldorf Institute for Competition Economics (DICE).

As a German national, Sebastian is fluent in German and English, further supported by basic proficiency in French.

Recent Case Experience

---

Nordzucker
Follow-on damages litigation, Germany

---

Scania
Follow-on damages litigation, Germany & Austria

---

DCC/Progas
Merger, EU