CANBERRA AIRPORT WELCOMES BUNNINGS TO MAJURA PARK

Canberra Airport is excited to confirm Bunnings Warehouse will be joining the Majura Park Shopping Precinct.

Offering locals a wide range of home improvement and garden products from leading brands, the store will occupy the 13,500 sq metres previously occupied by Masters to the north of the precinct.

“We look forward to welcoming Bunnings Warehouse to Majura Park, Canberra’s pre-eminent large format shopping destination,” Canberra Airport Managing Director Stephen Byron said.

“The arrival of Bunnings, coupled with the recent opening of AutoBarn and Dan Murphy at the shopping centre, are fantastic additions to our customer experience and breadth of offer.

“With other tenants including Costco, Woolworths, Aldi, Big W, Toys ‘R’ Us, and a range of specialty stores, Majura Park offers a true, all in one shopping experience where people can purchase everything from hardware to groceries, homewares, outdoor gear, fashion and much more.”

Bunnings General Manager of Property, Andrew Marks, echoed the sentiment.

“We’re looking forward to offering Majura Park customers the convenience of our widest range of home improvement and outdoor living products backed by the best service,” he said.

Conversion works will be undertaken to reformat the store over the coming months ahead of Bunnings opening.

The new store will include parking for 380 cars.
