DESCRIPTION

The 239.50ft/73m custom expedition yacht Nautilus was delivered from the Picchiotti shipyard in 2014. Designed by Philippe Briand and Remi Tessier, the yacht aimed to create a Zen atmosphere and reduce its carbon footprint. Nautilus boasts a range of luxurious amenities and a hybrid diesel-electric power system, ensuring quiet operation both underway and at anchor.

The exterior design of Nautilus was carefully crafted by Philippe Briand to optimize hydrodynamics and space. The plumb bow enhances performance and maximizes the waterline length, providing ample volume for Remi Tessier's minimalist styling. The sundeck features uninterrupted spaces, rotating sunpads, and a lowered table for intimate alfresco dining. A sizable Jacuzzi on the main deck, a coffee bar, and discreet LED lights for privacy complete the exterior highlights. The walk-around layout facilitates easy access to various areas, including a tender garage and a spacious swim platform.

The interior design of Nautilus focuses on lighting, space, and comfort. The use of overhead lighting, recessed lighting, and illuminated furniture creates a sophisticated and inviting ambiance. The main salon offers over two meters of headroom and an open-plan layout, accompanied by light sycamore, bleached wenge, and high-gloss ebony accents. A unique artwork by Edward Ruscha adds a touch of elegance to the area. The additional salon and dining area feature contemporary furnishings, consistent with the yacht's overall aesthetic. Nautilus has received multiple awards for its impressive interior design.

Guests on Nautilus can enjoy spacious and bright cabins across two decks. Large windows allow natural light to complement the electric lighting, creating a beautiful environment. The master suite on the main deck offers separate his and hers bathrooms, along with additional seating areas.

Nautilus provides onboard comfort and entertainment with its plentiful garage space for water toys and snorkeling equipment. An observation room on the upper deck offers stunning panoramic views, while the Oculus entertainment system allows guests to track their position in real time and watch footage of the yacht's journey.
