DESCRIPTION

Christina O is a superyacht with a fascinating history. Originally a Canadian frigate during World War II, the yacht was purchased by Greek shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis in 1954 and transformed into the most luxurious private yacht of her time. Christina O hosted a wide range of illustrious guests, including Marilyn Monroe, Frank Sinatra, John F. Kennedy, and Winston Churchill.

The exterior of Christina O is easily recognizable thanks to her distinctive clipper bow, rounded superstructure, and vibrant yellow funnel. The yacht offers a variety of vast open-air spaces for lounging and socializing, including a spacious promenade deck with an aft spa pool and alfresco dining and bar setup.

The interior of Christina O was completely gutted during her most recent refit, with notable artifacts salvaged and sensitively restored. The yacht's master stateroom, known as the Onassis Suite, comprises three rooms: large sleeping quarters, a white Penteli marble bathroom, and a book-lined study. The other accommodation on board comprises 10 double staterooms on the main deck forward and eight convertible cabins on the lower deck.

Christina O also features a unique variety of leisure and entertainment facilities, including an oak-panelled library, a huge saloon that can serve as a ballroom or cinema, a glass-panelled gymnasium, and a music room with a Steinway piano where the likes of Maria Callas and Frank Sinatra once performed.

Equipped with a selection of water toys, including a Flyboard, waterslide, Jet Ski, towable toys, kayaks, paddleboards, and snorkeling equipment, Christina O offers a variety of activities for guests to enjoy.

Overall, Christina O is an iconic superyacht available for charter that is steeped in stories of the rich and famous. With the ambience of a magnificent past and capable of accommodating up to 36 guests, she is an ideal choice for those looking for an opulent charter vacation.
