Burger fans took over the city for the August Edition of Visa Wellington On a Plate devouring 200-plus burger entries and sending through a whopping 11,500 ratings to help determine the 2023 Burger Wellington presented by Garage Project finalists.

After a week of judging, the assessments are in, and the winner of Burger Wellington presented by Garage Project 2023 is One80 Restaurant with their 'Goan Chicken Ros Pao' burger.

The winning burger takes inspiration from One80 Restaurant's Executive Chef Chetan Pangam's mother's hometown of Goa, and the street food he loves. The burger features a richly spiced chicken curry, a 'Ros' omelette, and a unique bun that represents the 'Poee' style bread that the omelette and curry is typically served in.

Executive Chef, Chetan Pangam, says this year's Burger Wellington theme of 'Breaking the Mould' presented the perfect opportunity for his team to challenge perceptions.

"In New Zealand many people see hotel restaurants as boring, and that was the biggest stereotype I had to break with this burger. I wanted to create a humble street food dish in a winning burger concept,"

"It took a huge team effort, with support from local suppliers, and in particular I'd like to thank the Claireville Bakery for the custom Poee style bun," he adds.

Visa Wellington On a Plate Festival Director Sarah Meikle says the August Edition of the Festival was all about burgers, beer, and encouraging people to get out and support the hospitality sector.

"It was fantastic to see Wellingtonians eating out and about, supporting our local venues. The One80 Restaurant burger was a real flavour journey that brought together the fragrant herbs and spices of India, it's an absolute pleasure to see Chef Chetan and the team take the title this year."

The August Edition of Visa Wellington On a Plate included Events and Pop Ups rounding out the programme, including New Zealand's biggest celebration of good beer, Beervana.

Sarah adds, "With the new festival split it was important to us to offer some events alongside Burger Wellington, and it made sense for these to be burger-related, like the Future of Food event with The Gas Hub, or Beervana-related like the Shining Peak Beer and Oyster Dinner at GPO."

"We were thrilled for the Everybody Eats team and their 'To The Rescue' burger which featured rescued and recycled food from Kaibosh, people could 'pay as they feel' with all proceeds going towards the charity organisation. Over the course of the festival more than $5000 was raised," she says.

Head of Programming Beth Brash says every year they are blown away by the support for Burger Wellington presented by Garage Project, and across the board there were great quality burgers, ranging from more traditional flavours to innovative concepts including chocolate 'patties' and Yorkshire Pudding 'buns'.

"It's been great to see Wellington's burger-loving community exploring new venues too, there were a few like Ernesto's Cocina Cubana and Kanama Kopi Kadai who have definitely won over some new fans."
